CZECHO-SLAVS LOSE 3 TOWNS TO BOLSHEVIKI

Lenine Forces Claim Victories in Volga and Siberia.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, July 11.—Japan's reported decision refusing to intervene in Siberia is authoritatively denied, according to advices from Tokio under date of July 2. It is added that the attitude of Japan is unchanged and that the feeling in unofficial circles there is almost unanimous that it is unnecessary to send troops to Siberia at present.

LONDON, July 11.—Bolshevik forces have taken the offensive against the Czecho-Slovak army in the Volga region and the government troops have won a great success, says a Russian official statement received here by wireless today from Moscow. The Czecho-Slovaks in Siberia also are reported to be retreating before a counter offensive of the Russian Bolsheviki.

The communication, which was sent out by the department of military operations of the people's commissariat of war, reads:

"July 9: Czecho-Slovak front: After preparations for an offensive our troops have reached a great success. Almost without loss we took Syzran, (70 miles south of Simbirsk) and Buguluma (130 miles northwest of Ufa). The Czecho-Slovaks and White guards fled in disorder in the direction of Samara. We are reaching Stavropol (in Ciscaucasia), Yaroslav, (160 miles northeast of Moscow) and Rybinsk (fifty-two miles northwest of Yaroslav).

Armed Train Shells Towns.

"An armed train has violently shelled towns occupied by the White guard, who are fleeing in a panic over the river Volga. Detachments fled to Rybinsk, where they tried to raise a mutiny. Measures have been taken against them.

"Eastern sector: Czecho-Slovaks after occupying Tcheshardrinsk, now are retreating before a counter offensive of the council's troops.

"Our commander in chief of the Urals-Siberian front, Rirzin, reports that Czecho-Slovak troops commanded by Russian officers have committed many atrocities upon the personnel of the West Siberian railway."

Soviet Commander Kills Self.

Gen. Muravieff, commander of the Bolshevik forces operating against the Czecho-Slovaks, has committed suicide, according to an official Russian wireless dispatch received here. The dispatch, which denounces Gen. Muravieff as a traitor, reads:

"He issued a false and treacherous order to his troops and sought to direct an offensive against the soviet government of Russia. He ordered his men to advance against Moscow and at the same time attacked the town of Simbirsk, in the Volga region. The soviet troops, however, declined to obey his orders, and remained faithful to the soviet's authority. Finding the troops would not follow him in betraying the revolution, Traitor Muravieff shot himself."

Gen. Muravieff, under the imperial régime, was police inspector of Petrograd with the rank of colonel. Upon the outbreak of the revolution, he joined the Bolsheviki and commanded the forces which defeated Gen. Korniloff when the latter was within fifteen miles of Petrograd. He continued in the service of the Bolsheviki, whom he now is accused of betraying.

Czechs Hold Western Siberia.

Virtually all of western Siberia is in control of the Czecho-Slovaks, according to a Reuter dispatch from Peking dated July 10. The dispatch states that the Bolsheviki have been overthrown in the whole region from Tobolsk east of the Urals to Semipalatinsk, 750 miles to the southeast, near the Chinese frontier.

The trans-Siberian railway is under Czecho-Slovak control from Tcheliabinsk, in the Ural mountains at the junction of the branches of the road which lead to south and north Russia, to Krasnoyarsk, 1,300 miles to the east.

The report confirms earlier dispatches to the effect that the Bolsheviki at Irkutsk have been defeated by the Czecho-Slovaks.

'Fight On, but Would Talk': Von Hertling

PARIS, July 11.—[Havas Agency.]—Speaking before the main committee of the reichstag today, Imperial Chancellor von Hertling said that there would be no change in the foreign policy of the empire, citing as proof of this the German answer to the note from Pope Benedict, according to advices from Basel.

"Before the persistent will of the enemy to destroy her, manifested recently by the speeches of President Wilson and Foreign Secretary Balfour," he said, "Germany, although ready to accept a proposition for serious negotiations, must go on fighting."

The imperial chancellor concluded his remarks by saying that the replacing of Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann was only a personal matter.

BERLIN CLAIMS YANKS LOST FIVE PLANES IN RAID

Asserts Crews Were Seized; U. S. Flyers Down Enemies.

BERLIN, via London, July 11.—Five American airplanes of a squadron of six which started out to raid Coblentz fell into the hands of the Germans, according to the announcement from general headquarters today. The crews were taken prisoner.

Yank Airmen Down Foes.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, July 11.—[By the Associated Press.]—American pursuit planes today interrupted German observation and photography work behind the American lines. Lieuts. Edgar Tobin of San Antonio, Tex., and Edgar Jones of Chicago attacked a biplane over Flirey at an altitude of 3,000 yards. They dived after him four times, down to a thousand yards, when he fell over Thiaucourt.

Lieut. Charles T. Merrick of Eldora, Ia., attacked another biplane north of Flirey. The German went sliding down on his wing and was reported later by another American flyer as having fallen in flames.

Pursuit planes also attacked the enemy's observation balloons, which were hastily pulled down.

British Bomb Enemy.

LONDON, July 11.—An air ministry communication issued tonight says:

"This morning one of our squadrons bombed the railway sidings at Offenburg. Some good bursts were observed. All our machines returned safely."

KILLED AT SCOTT FIELD.

Belleville, Ill., July 11.—Lieut. Lee C. Giddings of Duluth, Minn., an instructor, was killed and Cadet Edward C. Darlington of Washington, D. C., was severely injured this afternoon when an airplane dropped 800 feet at Scott field near here.

Instructor Killed in Texas.

Wichita Falls, Tex., July 11.—Second Lieut. Harry J. Ross, an instructor, was killed today when his plane fell at Call field. His home was in Philadelphia, Pa.

Fall Kills Navy Man.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Louis P. Mutty, a naval volunteer chief quartermaster, was killed by falling from a seaplane at Miami, Fla., July 9, the navy department announced today. His address was 508 Lincoln street, Townsend, Wash.

FRENCH KIDDIES LEARN BASEBALL

[SPECIAL CABLE TO CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, July 11.—Baseball, which Americans have been playing all over France ever since the weather permitted, is at last making an impression on French youth. At first merely curious, the spectators grew to take more interest, then began to imitate and to play in a shy, crude way, with makeshift bats and balls.

New York Doctor Operates on John Drew's Eye

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—John Drew, the actor, was operated on for cataract on the eye by Dr. Edgar S. Thomson at the Manhattan Eye, Ear, and Throat hospital. Dr. Thomson said that Mr. Drew would be able to leave the hospital in four or five days. Mr. Drew has been suffering from this trouble for several months and had fears of losing his sight, but it was said that the operation was a successful one and that he will be able to resume his stage work when the season opens.

PUSH AUSTRIA BACK 25 MILES IN ALBANIA

Allies Strike for Old Roman Road; Path to Serbia.

LONDON, July 11.—Fighting their way from rock to rock to the summit of the Berat ridge 6,500 feet high, Italian troops in Albania have forced the Austro-Hungarian army to fall back on the Skumbi river, 25 miles north of Berat. The Vienna war office admits the retreat, saying "in Albania our troops have organized a new defensive line." The allies are striking along a line about 70 miles wide.

The French also are driving ahead south of the Devoli river.

"South of the Devoli river our troops, continuing their successful advance, have occupied Koznitza crest in all its extent, as well as all the villages in the Tomorica valley up to Dobreny," the Paris war office report says tonight.

Austrians Burn Their Depots.

"On the left the Italians captured the heights of Cafa Glumaka, taking 250 prisoners, including four officers. The Austrians suffered severe losses, and in retiring burned their depots and engaged in pillage.

"On the Macedonian front the enemy artillery displayed great activity, especially west of the Vardar and north of Monastir. British aviators successfully bombarded numerous enemy depots in the Struma valley."

The main military objective of the allies evidently is the old Roman road connecting Monastir with the sea, at Durazzo, possession of which would permit free movement of troops and supplies directly from the Adriatic into southern Serbia, and would seriously threaten the enemy's hold on a great portion of the occupied areas of that country. Elbasan, one of the most important towns in Albania, is located in the Skumbi valley and close to the road of the Cæsars.

Threaten Bulgar Flank.

The operations of the French along the Devoli threaten the Bulgar flank and may open a road for an invasion of the Balkan kingdom.

The morale of the Bulgar troops is known to be low and the turning of their flank might force a precipitate break of the whole line.

With Albania cleared of the enemy, allied troops would be in position, too, to drive through Serbia at the very heart of Austria. Thus, considering the rebellious spirit known to prevail among the southern Slavs, the offensive gains each hour in great political as well as military importance.

Vienna Admits New Retreat.

VIENNA, via London, July 11.—Austrian forces in Albania are occupying a new defensive line, which has been organized, according to today's war office report. The statement follows:

"In Albania our troops have organized a new defensive line.

"A French company feeling its way forward in the valley of the Devoli was repulsed."

ITALIANS ADVANCE UNCHECKED.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—An official dispatch from Rome today reports unchecked advance of Italian troops in Albania, with Berat as an objective. From the Voyusa the Italians have carried all positions to the Semeni in an advance of approximately fifteen miles over a fifty mile front.

"The Italian left wing, aided by cavalry units," says the dispatch, "reached Fieri protected by British monitors. The Austrian aviation camp was occupied by our troops, which captured a large quantity of war material.

"Meanwhile our right wing, after violent fighting, conquered the Berat positions rock by rock, climbing to the summit, 2,000 meters high.

First Submarine Chaser Launched at Ford Plant

Detroit, Mich., July 11.—Without any demonstration, Eagle-1, the first of the submarine chasers to be built by Henry Ford for the government, was launched here today. Several hundred workmen at the submarine chaser plant witnessed the launching.

GERMANY CALLS ON HOLLAND FOR BIG FOOD SUPPLY

60,000 Cows, 10,000 Tons Cheese, 3,000 Tons Sugar.

AMSTERDAM, July 11.—According to the Telegraaf, Germany has demanded from Holland 60,000 cows, 3,000 horses, 10,000 tons of cheese, 2,000,000 eggs, 150 tons of fatty products, a large quantity of poultry, 3,000 tons of sugar, and 200,000 hides. In addition Germany also wants a certain amount of quinine, while from the Dutch colonies an additional credit of 7,000,000 florins monthly is desired.

The newspaper says that the demands were made by Germany as a result of an inquiry in the country districts of Holland by a swarm of economic spies and are to be met before questions of German counter-concessions can be considered.

Alarm in Berlin.

The alarming state of the food situation in Vienna is described in a dispatch to the Berlin Tageblatt from its Vienna correspondent, who says:

"The daily rations per head are fixed at approximately three ounces of bread and flour substitutes, one ounce of meat, less than a quarter ounce of fat, two and a half ounces of potatoes, three-quarters of an ounce of jam, and a quarter of an ounce of war coffee, making the total daily allowance seven and three-quarters ounces."

These rations may be supplemented by recourse to secret channels and by the payment of exorbitant prices, the correspondent declares. For example, flour can be obtained by paying the equivalent of from $4.50 to $5 a pound, meat at from $5.75 to $7, and horse flesh at $3.50 a pound.

Austria Has Little Hope.

ZURICH, July 11.—The Hungarian food minister, Herr Paul, has informed the correspondent at Budapest of the Vienna newspaper Die Zeit that there is no hope at present of obtaining any foodstuffs from Roumania or Ukraine, while the cold, wet weather in Austria-Hungary had retarded the harvest there. Normal rations of bread and flour, the minister said, certainly could not be resumed before the end of August.

$11,000 VERDICT FOR HER WHO WED FATHER OF SEVEN

Despite Mr. Weber's contention that Mrs. Weber's disposition caused four of his seven children, including his daughter's husband, to leave his home, a jury yesterday gave Mrs. Marie Mats Weber $11,000 of the $25,000 she sought on a charge of breach of promise against Henry G. Weber.

When Henry met Marie she was another man's wife. She says he persuaded her to get a divorce so they could marry. He says she was the instigator—that she loaned him money to buy clothes, bought the honeymoon tickets, and wedding ring, and superintended the elopement to Florida and subsequent marriage.

When they got back to Chicago Mrs. Weber says she learned the marriage was illegal because it occurred only a few days after her divorce, whereas the Illinois law requires a divorcee to wait a year before repeating matrimony. So she begged him to remarry her. He temporized, she says, and finally got the illegal marriage annulled and married some one else.

So Mrs. Weber packed up her troubles in a lawsuit case and took them into Judge Tuthill's court. The jury heard Mr. Weber's assertions, and Mrs. Weber's admission, that he had paid her $10,000 some time ago, but believed Mrs. Weber's statement that this money belonged to her.

Weber is a well to do real estate man of Rogers Park. The plaintiff alleged at the trial that a substantial part of the $100,000 he is worth was obtained through her aid.

GHOST OF DEATH SHIP FLOATS TO VICTIMS' HOME

Wrecked Columbia Comes to Surface and Sails Four Miles.

Peoria, Ill., July 11.—[Special.]—Like some ghost craft come to strike fear with its hoary outlines, the steamer Columbia, which crumpled up in the Illinois river last Saturday with more than 500 persons aboard, rose abruptly out of its grave this afternoon and floated almost to the water front of Pekin, eighty-five of whose citizens lost their lives in the wreck.

When finally the wreck stopped and was boarded by rescue workers two more bodies were recovered. This makes a total of eighty-five lives lost. It is not believed there are any more bodies and work is to be discontinued.

Searching Party on Board.

Coroner Clary and Sheriff Wilson of Tazewell county, together with fifteen or more workers, were aboard the Columbia when it suddenly popped to the surface. A number of small launches were moored about the sides of the submerged steamer. These were lifted out of the water and carried downstream.

There was a hasty scramble to quit the vessel and all reached small boats in safety.

To Examine Vessel.

An examination of the steamer is to be made at once to determine the cause of the sudden rising. There is a suggestion that the snag which caused the wreck clung fast to the bottom until released by the action of the current, permitting the steamer to rise.

Lightning Explodes Navy Balloon Over New York

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—A flash of lightning swept across Gravesend bay when the thunderstorm was at its height tonight and, swinging squarely in its path—700 feet in the air—was a big navy observation balloon that forms part of the wartime defense of New York harbor. The lightning struck the cigar-shaped bag and it exploded with a roar.

French City Names Street After John D. Rockefeller

PARIS, July 11.—In recognition of John D. Rockefeller's gift to the municipality of the house where Louis Pasteur, the chemist, was born, the town of Dole has changed the name of Avenue Pasteur to Avenue John Rockefeller. Dole also has a street named Pasteur.

DRAFT SUSPECT SHOT; TRIED TO FLEE OFFICERS

Helmar Gustavson, 30 years old, 722 West Fifty-ninth street, a suspected slacker, was seriously shot by a federal operative last night when he attempted to escape from the custody of operatives who had arrested him in a poolroom at 720 West Sixty-third street. Gustavson was taken to St. Bernard's hospital. He may die.

The three operatives were accompanied by Detective Sergeant Mulhern of the Englewood station. Gustavson, according to the police, told the detectives, when he was asked to produce his registration card, that he had registered in New York. The card he showed did not appear genuine and he was closely questioned. It was decided to hold him.

While Sergt. Mulhern walked to a police box to summon the patrol wagon Gustavson was taken from the poolroom into the street. He tried to break away and was ordered to halt. He failed to do so and one of the operatives fired four shots for the purpose of frightening him. It was not known that Gustavson was wounded until he had been placed in the police wagon.

HE'S GOING BACK TO THE SPREADING CHESTNUT TREE

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—William P. Lawlor, the village blacksmith of Boston, came to town today. He landed in Brooklyn at the precise moment the police were looking for persons without occupations, and was among those present before Magistrate Folwell in the afternoon.

"I am a blacksmith from Boston," Lawlor said, "and I am having my first vacation in fourteen years. I arrived at 8:30 o'clock this morning and was arrested for being a loafer at 10:30. I just came here to see the sights."

Lawlor had a baggage check to prove his story and the magistrate dismissed him with the suggestion that he get the first train back where he could find friends to testify as to his character every fifteen minutes.

"I'll certainly go back to Boston," said the village blacksmith fervently.

Pershing Wants More Style in the Soldiers' Uniforms

New York, July 11.—If there are to be any American Beau Brummels they will be found during the war only in the army, declared L. Kirstein, chief of clothing procurement for the army, in an address here today at the convention of the American Designers' association.

"We have been informed that Gen. Pershing wants more style in soldiers' uniforms," Mr. Kirstein said. "If the general wants more style in those coats and trousers you can rest assured he's going to get it.

"Gen. Pershing considers that style is an aid in maintaining the morale of the army. That is the reason he insisted on the standing collar on the uniform."

Harry Simons, general chairman of the convention, announced that, to conserve starch now going into shirt fronts, "the waiter is going to have his coat buttoned up to his neck."

U.S. COMBS CITY FOR SLACKERS; RELEASE MANY

Cub Park, Theaters, and Railway Stations Contribute.

It is estimated that more than 5,000 men of draft age were detained in Chicago yesterday in a dragnet manipulated by the police and government operatives in a search for slackers and unregistered aliens. The work continued into the evening and covered the downtown district, as well as outlying sections.

Draft registrants with proper credentials were instantly released. Those who neglected to carry their cards were helped to identify themselves. Hundreds were detained in the absence of sufficient credentials.

At Cubs' Ball Park.

The chief incident of the hunt for slackers and aliens was in the Cubs' baseball park. In the interval between two games of a double header, megaphone announcements were made that none would be permitted to leave the park save those who could give satisfactory accounts of themselves. The announcement caused no comment and the crowd passed the ordeal in a matter of fact way, accepting it as part of the day's work.

There was chagrin among those who had forgotten to carry their cards. But this was remedied wherever credentials were forthcoming later. The majority of the young men taken to the police station regarded the situation as a joke on themselves for failing to carry their cards.

Search Is General.

Every public and semi-public place in the city was handled in the same way as the ball park. All places of amusement, railway stations, docks where boats discharged or took on passengers, theaters, vaudeville houses, motion picture houses, cabarets, barrooms, hotels, poolrooms, and restaurants were entered in the search.

Everywhere the work was carried out quietly, judiciously, and with little confusion, the public coöperating generally. Long lines were formed at various important corners in the loop, the men in line answering all questions put to them. A long line was formed in West Madison street between Dearborn and Clark streets. Many of the registrants pinned their cards to their lapels and thus obviated investigation.

City Police Coöperate.

The campaign began at 4:30 in the afternoon under a general order sent out earlier in the day by Acting Chief of Police Alcock. This order directed all policemen to coöperate with the operatives of the department of justice in detaining suspects under the selective draft.

Each police station was equipped with a special fleet of automobiles furnished by citizens, and each squad of federal operatives was similarly outfitted. These precautions were taken so the work of identification might be expedited and those who carried proper credentials inconvenienced as little as possible.

In each theater, whether in the large loop houses or in the outlying places, announcements were made from the stage, explaining the purpose of the search for slackers and aliens and asking all those in the audience to pass out slowly so that federal agents might have an opportunity to inspect credentials.

In each instance the announcement had the same effect. There was no confusion. The public seemed eager to coöperate. There was no disorder and each registrant was questioned and passed or required to go to a police station for further examination.

"Crush" at Town Hall Station.

A large number were detained in the Town Hall station, where the "catch" at the Cubs ball park were questioned. The jam was so great that Capt. Frank Reynolds and his coworkers from the American Protective league had a difficult time getting started to sorting out the detained men. The big crowd which packed the squadroom, the commanding officers' quarters, and even the big entrance lobby took the whole matter good naturedly except in a few instances.

"My own fault for not carrying my credentials," was a frequent excuse offered by the men.

In the big squadroom, where more than 300 were packed together at one time, some one worried the police officers in charge by switching off the electric lights every few minutes. Police warnings only served to bring laughter from the dinnerless and thirsty throng.

About the station house hundreds of fathers, mothers, wives, and sweethearts were gathered in knots. In a majority of cases they made a joke of the "arrest" of relatives and waited patiently until the secret service men could question the men and straighten out the hundreds of different tangled situations.

Sorting Out Till Midnight.

Some thirty secret service men questioned the men who were held and several women kept telephone wires hot calling up draft boards to inquire into the status of the men who had been seized. In most instances explanations, though long delayed, were satisfactory. At midnight all but about fifty of those taken to town hall station had been released.

The Sheffield avenue district contains a greater number of alien enemies than any other police district and some difficulty was encountered because of the fact that many could not talk good English. Volunteer interpreters were found at last and the work of sorting out the men went forward more rapidly.

At all the police stations messengers used automobiles to take word to relatives to bring cards to those held in custody and to carry reassuring news to worrying wives and mothers at home.

Busy at Big Theaters.

In the larger theaters from three to six operatives were assigned. Investigations were quickly made as, following the announcements, registrants held their cards ready for inspection.

Those who were detained were taken to the nearest police station or, in some instances, to the headquarters of the investigation service in the State Council of Defense building at 120 West Adams street.

All exemption boards kept their headquarters open during the night to aid in identifying men from their districts and thus were able to save many from possible further detention. In the headquarters at 120 Adams street preference was given to those taken from railroad stations.

As rapidly as suspects were brought into the headquarters they were questioned. A number of knotty questions were met with. One of these involved a man from Peru, South America. His and other like difficult matters were referred to the heads of the bureau.

At Railway Stations.

In the Union, Northwestern, Grand Central, Illinois Central, La Salle, and Polk street stations there were extra large contingents of operatives and detectives. These took men from trains and also detained those about to board trains who were improperly identified. Automobiles were commandeered and the suspects taken before an examining board. The immigrant room in the Polk street station was used as a temporary detention camp during a part of the night.

At Van Buren and State streets there was established a sort of open air clearing station. Men coming from and entering the elevated stairways and moving in the habitually large crowds about that corner were detained. Those without cards were sent to stations for further identification.

Soldiers and Sailors Aid.

Soldiers and sailors served in a number of places. They were stationed about the entrances of motion picture theaters, hotels, poolrooms, and saloons. All entering or departing were questioned. Clark and Randolph streets was a busy section during the exodus from the theaters thereabouts.

In addition to the operatives stationed inside the theaters there were scouting parties in all sections, questioning men in the streets. Automobiles in the service of the bureau of investigation plied in the streets awaiting calls from operatives on the sidewalks. In only a few instances was there resistance. These quickly were overcome.

The only instance of serious trouble at the Town Hall station occurred when the officers attempted to question Walter Norland, 2510 Blain place. He was abusive to the federal representatives and was locked up. He will be turned over to the department of justice this morning.

Alien Enemies Taken.

Several alien enemies were picked up who were not carrying permits. Fred Jurisch, 2037 Reading place, and Bernard Klinck, 3456 North Robey street, were two who could not give satisfactory explanations and were placed in cells for further investigation this morning.

Two men who failed to satisfy their questioners as to the reason for being without registration cards were J. J. Singleton, 1533 Victoria street, and Gunnar Berger, 3047 Osgood street. They will make explanations today to their draft boards.

Excitement at City Pier.

There was excitement at the municipal pier dance hall when the league scouts visited the place. Virtually all of the young men dancers were of draft age and the majority had failed to bring their registration cards.

When the separation of couples first started some of the young women screamed, believing their escorts were being arrested for criminal offenses. Explanations followed and scores of young women departed in street cars and taxicabs in search of the registration cards of their escorts. A number were released at the Chicago avenue police station, where all were taken, to resume their dancing, fortified by their registration cards.

Operatives also visited the Princess hall, 1519 West Madison street, and, after stopping the dance, asked the men to show their registration cards. Two failed to produce cards and were taken to the Warren avenue station.

Rounding Up the 'Fly Boys' Not Unpopular in Ireland

DUBLIN, July 11.—A proclamation has been issued here calling to the colors, under penalty of an offense against the defense of the realm act, all British subjects liable to military service who have come to Ireland to escape it. These men are known locally as "fly boys." They are fairly numerous, and rounding them up will not be unpopular.

U. S. Searches Nation for Rich Alleged Draft Dodger

Philadelphia, Pa., July 11.—A nation-wide search was instituted by government agents today for the apprehension of Grover C. A. Bergdoll, wealthy aviator and well known automobile racer, who is wanted by the federal authorities here on a charge of evading the selective draft law.

TROUBLES OF THE DRAFTEES

Difficulties Are Varied in Raids to Get Slackers, but Victims Are Philosophical.

AMONG those of draft age taken for inquiry to the headquarters of the State Council of Defense at 120 West Adams street last night was a dark skinned youth who protested in a tongue strongly accented with Spanish. He explained that it was quite impossible for him to give proper credentials, as he did not have them about him.

"Send home and get them," suggested an official.

"I cannot," was the reply, emphasized with a shrug.

"Why? Where do you live?"

"In Peru, South America."

He became a special case.

Three young farmers found themselves in a most unsatisfactory situation. They had come to the city by the horse and buggy method, leaving their animals hitched in a side street near the Cubs ball park. Also they had left their cards at home. But arrangements were made to reach their draft boards by telephone.

"Well," said one, sighing, "we'll get home in time for milking."

Two young men walked past McVicker's theater with their best girls on their arms. Federal operatives were standing in front waiting for suspects turned over to them by other operatives inside the theater. The men outside halted the pedestrian swains and, finding them without draft cards, informed them they would have to go to the police station for explanations. The girls, embarrassed, backed away. Then one of them hurled this neat one:

"Is this any way to leave a lady?"

An Irishman, lately over, his spouse on his arm, was stopped in the entrance of a movie theater in Halsted street. He produced a card that was tattered and worn almost beyond hope of deciphering. For a great many anxious moments it looked as if the man from Erin was booked for a trip to the station. But finally an operative pronounced his credentials correct, though in need of repair.

"Well," said Mrs. Erin, "that'll teach you not to carry your card in a pocket with a lot of keys and nails and junk. Keep it clean so they can read it."

In the Dearborn street railroad station a number of young men with traveling bags and their tickets purchased were compelled to miss trains. At first there was a display of temper, then resignation and finally laughter at their own discomfiture.

"If we can help the government by being held we're glad to do it," said one. "Get 'em all, is our motto."

"How many children have you?" a suspect was asked at the Union station.

"Four," was the ready response.

"How long have you been married?"

"Since 1915."

"That doesn't seem to jibe. Better come over and see the chief."

A great number of the men picked up at the Cubs' park were from out of town. In several cases they told the police they were taking a final vacations before answering their call to service. One of these was Samuel Milton of Sedalia, Mo. He was taken to Town Hall station.

"I am in the present call down there," he said. "I just ran up for a little trip before going to camp. I didn't bring my card along and here I am. It looks like an all night session for me for the directions say nothing doing until I telegraph my draft board. I hope I can get a wire through before the telegraph office closes for the night."

Paul Smith of Rockford was caught away from home without his registration card, as was George Trainor of Joliet. He is an employé of the Chicago Telephone company and is attending the telephone school at Evanston.

"I dropped off the train from Evanston to see the last game," he said. "This is the result. I'm stuck until we can get into communication with my draft board and get an O. K. for myself."

One of the most worried of the men detained was Jack Hammond, night porter at the Saratoga hotel. Mrs. Hammond and their young son of 5 years were with him in the lieutenant's room.

"I don't mind being picked up," he said, "but I'm afraid I'll lose my job, and I surely need that job. I have to go to work at 11 o'clock tonight. I came from Minneapolis, where I am registered. I have been to see Maj. Tolman and he wrote to the Minneapolis draft board for me. He said everything would be all right, but we haven't heard from up there yet. I'm stuck here until I can get the major over the telehpone."

One of the most imperturbable of the men brought in from the ball park was Joe Luke, a Chinese living at 224 East Thirty-fifth street.

"I am a student and have been living at Columbus," he said. "I have come to Chicago only a little while ago and I am a Chinese citizen."

"Are you a little put out over being brought in this way?" he was asked.

He shrugged his shoulders and smiled. "This is war," he said.

There was a roar of laughter when a policeman called the name of Robert E. Burke, for every one on the north side is acquainted with the well known Democratic politician of that name.

"Maybe there's a young Bobbie," some one shouted.

"No, it's me," a strapping young fellow responded, "and I'm not in politics nor related to Mr. Burke, the politician."

"Well, a friend has brought your card," the policeman said.

John Batsis, a Greek restaurant keeper, had the champion hard luck story of the north side. He lives at 923 Addison street and recently was married to an American girl. His wife, who is a cashier in a loop restaurant, told of his troubles while she waited outside to see what would happen to John.

"A few months ago he had a good paying restaurant business on Broadway," she said, "and he was worth several thousand dollars. We planned to have a swell honeymoon. Then the business began to fail and he lost all he had. He went to Minneapolis and for some reason his forwarding address was lost and he failed to fill out a questionnaire. Now I don't know what will happen.

"This is the final smash of a lot of bad luck, but after the war we're surely going to take that honeymoon trip."

John says he has a brother, Andrew, now fighting on the French front. He will be taken before Commissioner Foote this morning.

Albert Larsen was another who played a losing game with his luck last night. Albert was not seized at the ball park, but his brother, Herbert K. Larsen, was. Herbert sent a rush telephone order to Albert to bring his registration card to the police station. Albert answered as fast as a through elevated train would carry him from the south side.

Arriving at the station Albert was stopped at the entrance by a policeman.

"But I must go in," he said. "I've got my brother's registration card. I want to get him out."

"Pass in," was the response.

Albert found his brother, handed him his white card, and the pair started out of the station. A detective stopped the pair as they were departing.

"Show your cards before you go out," he commanded.

Herbert jauntily handed out his card. Albert looked blank.

"Why—er—I guess I haven't got mine with me."

Despite all explanations he was held until Herbert could go back home and return with Albert's card.

"Spooning" in the west side parks was rudely interrupted a number of times by the investigators. Usually in such cases the young woman hurried away to get the registration card.

In Austin, where most of the young men visit the ice cream parlors instead of saloon, the police seized several young men.

George Smith, a long faced Negro built on rambling lines, spoke the sentiment of the crowd when after a friend had hurried to the south side and rescued his registration card, he was warned by Detective McShane at Town Hall not to forget to carry his card hereafter. He shouted:

"Don't you worry about me the next time. I'm never goin' to let this little pasteboard get away from me again—never again. I'm goin' to eat, drink, and sleep with this here document until I'm either called to the trenches or this here war is done over."

In South Chicago 250 were taken. Two saloonkeepers were arrested for permitting boys under 21 in their barrooms.

BATTLE STATEMENTS

FRENCH REPORT.

PARIS, July 11.—In the course of the night French troops enlarged their gains in the outskirts of the forest of Retz. Our troops took possession of the entire village of Corcy, the railroad station of Corcy, and the château and farm of St. Paul. Fifty prisoners, including one officer, remained in our hands.

Two raids executed by us in the region of Maisons du Champagne and an unnamed hill resulted in a dozen prisoners being taken by our troops.

Tonight's announcement says:

A reconnaissance in the neighborhood of Bussiares enabled us to bring back five prisoners and one machine gun.

During the month of June our aerial squadrons brought down 150 enemy airplanes, seriously damaged 181, and set on fire thirty-one captive balloons. Our bombing planes dropped more than 600 tons of projectiles.

BRITISH REPORT

LONDON, July 11.—We improved our positions slightly during the night east of Villers-Bretonneux.

Yesterday afternoon and last night successful raids in which we captured several prisoners and a machine gun were carried out by us in the neighborhood of Merris and Festubert.

The hostile artillery has shown some activity against our positions astride the Somme.

The official report from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters in France tonight says:

"A few prisoners were captured by us last night northeast of Ypres without casualties to our troops.

"During the day Australian troops entered the German lines in the neighborhood of Ocris [?], penetrating to a considerable depth, and brought back more than seventy prisoners and a number of machine guns. A few prisoners also have been taken by our patrols on other parts of the front."

The official communication on aerial operations tonight says:

On July 10 seven enemy machines were destroyed by us and six others were driven down out of control. Four of our machines are missing.

Heavy showers interrupted the progress of aerial observation and photography, but, nevertheless, a good deal of this work was accomplished whenever the sky cleared, and, in addition, ten tons of bombs were dropped by us on different targets. The rain prevented flying at night.

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN, via London, July 11.—Throughout Thursday there was moderate fighting activity, which revived frequently in the evening. A strong advance by the enemy northeast of Bethune was repulsed.

There has been lively artillery activity between the Aisne and the Marne. Partial attacks launched by the enemy from the forest of Villers Cotterets pressed back our posts in the Savieres region.

Five American airplanes of a squadron of six, intending a raid on Coblenz, fell into our hands on Thursday. The crews were taken prisoner.

ITALIAN REPORT

ROME, July 11.—Italian advanced posts at Cornone, on the Asiago plateau, yesterday drove back Austro-Hungarian detachments. Artillery fire was lively in the Brenta valley. On the remainder of the front there were the usual reconnoitering and harassing actions.

AMERICANS DRIVE HUN RAID BACK ON MARNE FRONT

Several Dead Left Behind Help Identify New Foe Units.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES ON THE MARNE, July 11.—[By the Associated Press.]—A large German patrol which attempted to raid the American trenches on the Marne front this morning was broken up and routed in confusion. The Germans left several dead, which aided the Americans in establishing the identification of new German units.

The weather yesterday and today was cloudy, showery, and windy and did not permit of much airplane observation. The artillery activity continues below normal.

U. S. FRONTS QUIET.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Gen. Pershing's communiqué on operations in the sectors of the western front held by American troops, made public today by the war department, follows:

HEADQUARTERS AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, July 10, 1918.

Section A—The day again passed quietly at points occupied by our troops.

Section B—For our troops in the Chateau Thjerry region the day of July 7 to 8 was uneventful. The enemy continued to direct much rifle and machine gun fire on our new line in the vicinity of Vaux and north of Vaux, and also on Bouresches. The activity of the German artillery was not abnormal for so active a sector and consisted mainly of a harassing fire on our front line. Gas was, as usual, employed in the shelling of the Marrette, the Belleau, and other woods. The number of German airplanes in operation again decreased. In the German rear areas the movements observed were mainly those of men in groups of small or moderate size. Our own troops were active in patrolling and in artillery fire.

Trench Mortars Busy.

In the Marne sector from July 7 to 8 the day passed almost without incident. The enemy's artillery fire was lighter than on the preceding day and only a few planes were seen. His trench mortars were active for a time during the evening. There was little activity on our side. Our batteries exploded one of the enemy's ammunition dumps.

In the Woevre there were no notable events between July 3 and July 6 except the attempts of parties of the enemy to penetrate our lines, especially in the region of Xivray. On the night of July 3 a German patrol was driven back in the region by one of our patrols after an exchange of fire.

On the night of July 4 one of our outposts in this region was fired on by a German patrol, but sustained no casualties. On the night of July 5 a strong German patrol attacked a weak outpost at Xivray with the intention of taking prisoners. Our outpost exchanged hand grenade fire with the assaulters. The Germans, having failed in their purpose, withdrew from the outpost, which was then reoccupied. On the same night there was an exchange of grenade fire between another of our outposts and a German patrol, and at another point a patrol encounter.

Light on Gas.

During all three days the enemy's artillery maintained a rate of fire which is normal for a quiet sector, distributing his shells over our front and rear areas and our lines of communication. Only a small amount of gas was used. His airplanes and balloons did little work between July 3 and 4, but were materially active between July 4 and 6. Our own forces were active mainly in artillery work. The German lines were heavily shelled with gas on the morning of July 5.

EX-BANK CHIEF; 3 OFFICERS, HELD AS MENACING FOE

New York, July 11.—Julius Pirnitzer, former president of the Trans-Atlantic Trust company, and three other officers of the corporation were arrested today as dangerous enemy aliens. When they were taken into custody it was disclosed that the bank was taken over several weeks ago and reorganized by A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian.

TOWARD THE HEART OF AUSTRIA

1—Italian troops are continuing to push the retreating Austrians back from the line on the Semini river.

2—French forces operating in the mountains have possession of the whole of the Devoli valley and are threatening the Bulgarian flank on the west of Lake Ochrida.

3—Elbasan, one of the most important cities of Albania, is the immediate objective of the present drive. Its fall would seriously cripple the Austro-Bulgarian forces in this region.

4—The Austrians are reported to be preparing to stand behind the Skumbi river, approximately twenty-five miles behind their positions at the opening of the present drive.

There are two possible avenues of attack open to the allies should the present Albanian drive continue as favorably as it has begun. The small map shows how either Bulgaria or Austria may be invaded, and a serious blow dealt to the central powers.

U. S. MUSTARD GAS SPOILS HUN PLANS ON MARNE

Secret of Foe's Brand of Poison Found by the Allies.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE MARNE, July 11.—I am now permitted to state that the American army is receiving mustard gas shells in large quantities. Since the Germans started using mustard gas last November it has been of all their gases the most used against the allied soldiers.

It is not lethal gas and seldom kills outright, but it seriously affects the skin and membranes, inflicting the most painful burns and putting the men out for three months. Its great value lies in the fact that mustard gas is heavier than the others and will lie in the woods or valleys or shell holes for days at a time, while the other gases float away.

Allied Chemists Find Secret.

Soon after the Germans started to use mustard gas allied chemists found out how it was made and produced it. Up to the immediate past the allied forces at the front did not have mustard gas to use, for, while the allied chemists could produce it in the laboratories, they could not produce it in large quantities.

Now a method has been found and henceforth the allied armies will be supplied with mustard gas for use against the Germans.

Gas German Force.

The first use of mustard gas by our troops took place two nights ago when [deleted] thousand shells of it were hurled against the German concentration troops west of Chateau Thierry just north of the Marne in a neck of the woods. The concentration was broken up and next morning it was found the Germans had in the edges of the woods material for pontoon bridges with boats already constructed.

The fact that we now have a good supply of mustard gas is welcome news to all the allied soldiers.

Memphis Cotton Traders Boycott Huns for 10 Years

Memphis, Tenn., July 11.—The Memphis cotton exchange today unanimously adopted a resolution to expel any member who for a period of ten years after peace has been declared engages in trade with subjects of any nation now at war with the United States.

MINE BARRAGES FENCE SEA FROM GERMAN U-BOATS

North Sea, Helgoland Bight, Dover Straits Are Blocked.

LONDON, July 11.—Speaking in London today, Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty, said that mines gradually were hemming in the submarines, which now had less freedom, and he was glad to say there were fewer of them.

In referring to the great mine fields which were so notably restricting the submarines, Sir Eric said they stretched from Norway to the north coast of Scotland. There was a barrage across the Straits of Dover, he added, and mines in Helgoland bight. Some of the fastest and best craft of the navy, which certainly should be ranked as the corps d'élite, had gone into the bight at night to lay them.

WORRY IN GERMANY.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Dissatisfaction in Germany over the work of the submarines has not been lessened by the recent optimistic statements of Admiral von Capelle, says an official dispatch today from Switzerland. In this connection the Cologne Volks Zeitung is quoted as follows:

"We hear it said all around us that the results of the submarine warfare are becoming less satisfactory every week. Or else that more submarines are being sunk than we can construct. The submarine warfare is even cursed, doubtless because it has contributed to bringing into action the redoubtable American intervention."

Bolsheviki Offer to Sign Peace Treaty with Finns

LONDON, July 11.—The Bolshevik government of Russia has agreed to enter into peace negotiations with Finland, which had expressed, through the German government a desire to arrange a peace treaty with Russia.

FRENCH WIPE OUT SALIENT BY TAKING CORCY

Petain Straightens Line for Twelve Miles in Marne Sector.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 11.—The French have straightened out their line from the Aisne southward to below Corcy, a distance of aproximatelyp twelve miles. They completed this operation early today by completing their occupation of Corcy, which lies on the west side of the Marne salient and to the southwest of Soissons. Fifty prisoners were taken.

They captured the town as well as the farm and château of St. Paul south of Corcy. By this new gain the important French base and railroad junction of Compiegne is made far more secure. Villers-Cotterets or Retz forest, the main bulwark of this line, is now well protected by advance trenches.

Wipe Out Dangerous Salient.

The capture of Cordy marks a continuation of smashing local thrusts which Gen. Petain began on Sunday, when his forces drove two-thirds of a mile into the German lines along a two mile stretch in the Longpont region. On Tuesday the French extended this gain and on Wednesday by a sudden shift in attack to the south the outskirts of Corcy and Longpont were reached. Then came the drive into Corcy itself and a further extension of the line to the south.

These operations have eliminated the dangerous salient which the Germans created east of the Laversine ravine in their June offensive. The new French line from the Aisne to Corcy is marked by a series of strong positions.

British Improve Positions.

There is still a westward bulge of the German line between the American sector northwest of Chateau Thierry and the new French positions. With pressure from the Americans on the south and the French on the north this salient looks doomed to be flattened out by new local thrusts unless the Germans suddenly launch their new offensive.

In a local operation carried out last night south of the Somme and east of Villers-Bretonneux the British positions were improved, today's war office announcement says.

Australian troops penetrated German lines to a considerable extent near Cscris (?) today and took seventy prisoners and a number of machine guns, Field Marshal Haig reported tonight.

VON HINTZE RISE MARKS POWER OF LUDENDORFF

Successor to Von Kuehlmann Left Navy for Diplomacy.

BY GEORGE RENWICK.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

AMSTERDAM, July 11.—"Make Gen. Ludendorff chancellor and then we shall know where we are," is the cry which has been heard frequently of late from the Socialists in the reichstag, but if they have not been given that clarifying satisfaction, they have at least been rewarded with a sign from imperial headquarters which leaves them in no shadow of doubt whatever as to where they really do stand.

That Ex-Admiral von Hintze should follow Von Kuehlmann as the German foreign minister is a stroke not very far removed in boldness from that which would be signified by Ludendorff's leaving headquarters to take up his residence in Wilhelmstrasse.

Marks a Turn.

It marks the beginning of that interval of open and extreme pan-Germanism which I often foretold would follow the chaos bequeathed to the German political world by Bethmann-Hollweg and Ludendorff, and few need to be told nowadays that he is the real power behind the throne and the government. He has long had his eye on that brilliant sailor-diplomat whom he was instrumental in having placed at Christiania, so that he might be near Berlin should events take the course which they eventually took as the result of Von Kuehlmann's speech of June 24.

Twice before has Ludendorff endeavored to force his favorite into office. The first time was at the end of July of last year, just before Von Kuehlmann was appointed foreign minister. Von Hintze was Ludendorff's favorite for that post. The second occasion was in October, when the crisis was created by the mutiny revelations, and Admiral Capelle was on the point of resigning. Von Hintze was brought post haste to Berlin, but Von Capelle weathered the storm.

Bided His Time.

Von Hintze went back to Christiania well content, like Ludendorff, to bide his time. Von Hintze is a typical German sailorman with a successful if not brilliant peace time naval career behind him. The most memorable incident of his navy days took place in 1898 when he was adjutant to Admiral Diedrichs on the Pacific station when Admiral Dewey was before Manila. It will be remembered that the German admiral took a rather threatening attitude. Diedrichs sent Hintze with a message to Admiral Dewey, and the American admiral took the opportunity to convey the now famous message to Germany. Von Hintze, having received the answer to the message he was charged with, was going when Dewey called him back and said:

"By the way, you can tell your admiral, too, that if he really wants a fight he can have it now."

Child of Von Tirpitz.

It was Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz who persuaded Hintze to abandon the navy for diplomacy. Tirpitz found in him a kindred pan-German spirit and greatly admired Von Hintze's keenness, sharp wit, and resolution. The kaiser, too, had and has a great fondness for the outspoken and resolute naval officer, and he rapidly became an imperial favorite.

Pan-German of pan-Germans, he has often made the veriest Prussian reactionary jealous of the boldness of his word and act. In the disturbed days of 1905 and 1906 in Russia he was in Petrograd and openly sided with the czarism against the revolutionaries, a fact recently recalled even by the Berlin conservative journal, Die Post, as a reason against his being given office.

ENEMY ALIENS IN ENGLAND GET FAIR TREATMENT

'Few of Us Without Teutonic Blood': Lloyd George.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

LONDON, July 11.—That there is to be no indiscriminate and sweeping internment of enemy aliens in this country is the decision of the government as announced by the home secretary, Sir George Cave, in the house of commons today during the course of a debate on the subject. Cave agreed that some tightening of the system established in 1914 might be necessary.

Among the proposals made are a committee to review all naturalization certificates during the war, existing ones to be carefully reviewed and drastically revised; no person of enemy origin to be employed in government office except under a license granted for a definite national reason; no person not naturalized born a British subject to change his name without license from some office; identity books for all nonenemy aliens and undesirable aliens of all kinds to be expelled; all patents granted before the war to enemies to be placed in the hands of the public trustee; enemy banks to be wound up and an act to be passed to prevent enemy banks being opened here for a certain period after the war.

Approved in Commons.

The government proposals seemed to meet the general sense of the house.

Cave's speech was free from passion or prejudice, but he frequently threw cold water upon those whose slogan is "Intern them all." Applause greeted his statement that to intern a man whose son is fighting in the British army would be grossly unfair. His intimation that as soon as shipping facilities permit there is to be a wholesale deportation of undesirable aliens was received with warm applause.

Sounds Like Home.

Lloyd George, in his speech winding up the debate, agreed that the time had come for revision. He said the agitation in the press was the result of a genuine feeling in the country. The government proposals must be carried out vigorously and rigorously, and without unfairness. "If," he said, "you go far enough back it will be found that very few people in this country are without traces of Teutonic ancestry."

He caused much laughter when, with a gesture comprehending the crowded government bench, he added: "I'm not so sure I'm not the only man on the bench who is not of enemy origin."

As indicating that there are men of hostile temper abroad here he told the house that whenever there is a setback for the allies he receives postcards from Germans resident in this country gloating over the circumstances.

Pershing Rewards Soldiers for Bravery Before Enemy

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Fifteen officers and men of the infantry are cited by Gen. Pershing in today's official communique for acts of gallantry for which they have been awarded distinguished service crosses. The citations were quoted in the communique and show the actions in which the men participated to have been fought April 10, 12, and 13.

The commander in chief has awarded the crosses to the following officers and enlisted men for the deeds set forth after their names:

Private William R. Davis, Brockton, Mass., infantry: "For exceptional courage and devotion to duty in action, remaining at his post and continuing to fire his rifle and grenades at the enemy after being severely wounded in action, April 12, 1918."

Private Joseph J. Cannon, Brighton, Mass., infantry: "For courage and self-sacrificing devotion to duty in action against the enemy on April 12, 1918, voluntarily going with one comrade to an advanced post in a communication trench and with an automatic rifle holding back the advance of the enemy through the trench until his comrade was killed and he was severely wounded."

Private Elmer L. Lane, Boston, Mass., infantry: "For coolness and gallantry in action April 13, 1918. Standing on the parapet of a trench in order to see the advancing enemy through a heavy fog, he continued, under heavy fire, to throw hand grenades at the enemy until severely wounded, thus preventing the enemy from penetrating the line in the vicinity of his post."

Sergt. John J. Courtney, Waltham, Mass., infantry; Sergt. Lee P. T. Jacques, Greenfield, Mass., infantry, and Private Alfred P. Lee, Northampton, Mass., infantry: "During the action of April 10, 1918, displayed courage, coolness, and the spirit of self-sacrifice in voluntarily going through a shell swept area to bring back wounded to a place of safety, carrying one wounded man more than fifty yards under heavy shell fire."

Private Charles Marino, Boston, Mass., infantry: "Displayed coolness, courage, and the spirit of self-sacrifice during the action of April 10, 1918, in voluntarily going through a shell swept area to bring back a wounded noncommissioned officer to dressing station."

Private Glen Hill, Cedar Springs, Mich., infantry: "For coolness and gallantry in action April 12-13, 1918. Having recently been assigned to a regiment and hearing an order for a counter attack being given in an adjoining detachment, he joined the latter and himself killed two of the enemy with his bayonet."

The commander in chief awarded crosses posthumously to the following enlisted men:

Private Joseph R. Blair, North Adams, Mass., infantry: "During the action of April 12, 1918, displayed exceptional coolnes and devotion to duty in declining to seek cover during a bombardment and continuing at his post in an exposed position awaiting the attack of the enemy. Killed in action."

Corporal Russell A. Hoyt, Cambridge, Mass., infantry: "During action of April 12, 1918, displayed courage and self-sacrificing devotion to duty in going to a communication trench with one comrade and holding back the advance of the enemy through the trench until killed at his post."

Private Howard P. Fitzgerald, Springfield, Mass., infantry: "Displayed coolness, courage, and the spirit of self-sacrifice in the action of April 10, 1918, digging out a buried comrade while himself under heavy fire, persisting in this work until he himself received a mortal wound."

SIX CHICAGOANS GIVE THEIR LIVES FOR GREAT CAUSE

Five Others Listed Among the Wounded in Action.

Six more Chicagoans have given their lives on the fields of France. Five others are listed among the wounded. Four of the six are marines, one is of the army, and the other is a naval officer who was temporarily attached to the marine corps.

In the home of Private Harry A. Wendel, 25 North Mayfield avenue, who died of wounds, were two mourners, his mother and his young wife. Mrs. Wendel, the wife, is the sister of Wendel's chum, with whom he enlisted in the marines. The couple were married during a furlough in September. The wife was Isabel McArthur. In December Wendel's father died and the young warrior came home. Wendel and McArthur left for France shortly after the funeral. Two of Mrs. Wendel's brothers are fighting with the marines in France. One of them, a corporal, has been severely wounded.

Corporal Henry L. Dowdle, veteran of two wars despite his youth, was killed in action. He enlisted four years ago at the age of 17 years. He was with the marines at the occupation of Vera Cruz and has been in the service ever since. He has three brothers, who have declared that they will give their blood to avenge the death of their hero. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Dowdle, 1739 West Adams street.

Youthful Fighter Dies.

William Coughlin, 2330 Indiana avenue, ran away from home at the age of 16 and enlisted in the marines. Official notification that he had fallen in action was received yesterday. News of his death had been received by his family several days ago.

Walter B. Pickartz, who died of wounds, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Pickartz, 1304 Nelson street. He enlisted in the marines at the age of 20 and has been in the service since May, 1917. He formerly attended the Lane Technical High school.

The only army man to appear on the official lists as killed is Private Gustave Stankus. He was one of the first national army men to go across. He was a laborer and 28 years old. Before he was drafted into the national army he was given an honorable discharge from the Wisconsin national guard. He has two brothers in the Russian army and one in the United States army waiting to be sent across. His parents still live in Kawna, Russia. He lived with a sister at 4614 South Western avenue.

Naval Officer Killed.

The one naval officer to lay down his life on the field was Dental Surgeon Wheedon E. Osborne of 4427 North Racine avenue. He held a commission in the navy, but had been transferred to the marine corps during the recent drive. He was cited in official orders and has been awarded the distinguished order cross. The official orders citing his bravery say:

"During the advances on Bouresches, France, at a great risk of his life, he performed heroic deeds in aiding the wounded. He was struck by a shell while carrying an officer to a place of safety."

Lieut. Vivian Mayo, 910 Dempster street, Evanston, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mayo, was mentioned on the official lists as "slightly wounded." This is the second time young Mayo appeared on the lists. He is 23 years old, a Yale man, and a civil engineer.

Private Jerry Vucic, 22 years old, 5233 South Albany avenue, is among the seriously wounded. He was an employé of Sears, Roebuck & Co. He was well known around Chicago as a baseball player. Vucic, who is Bohemian by birth, recently wrote his parents that he had been in action several times. He was a marine.

Wounded Second Time.

Private John D. Quan, severely wounded, enlisted in the marines the day after the United States entered the war. He went to France among the first 100,000. Since the end of March, 1917, Quan has been at the front. His mother, Mrs. J. Quan, 7158 Aberdeen avenue, received a cablegram from him after his first visit to a hospital stating that his wound amounted to little. Wednesday a letter from a Red Cross nurse told the mother that John was in southern France recuperating rapidly and that he would be ready for action within a very short time. He is 22 years old and a graduate of De La Salle institute.

Private William Legeres of 2400 West Sixteenth street is reported among the severely wounded in action in yesterday's list.

Harvey Man Wounded.

From the Chicago district, but outside the city, Private Robert A. Caughey of Harvey, Ill., was listed as severely wounded. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Caughey, 15337 Vine street, and is 20 years old. He enlisted June 3, 1917, and left for France Jan. 6.

Private Westley J. Archibald of 1614 North Tripp street, who was reported yesterday to have died in California, had been ill in the Presidio hospital for four months. He was a member of the coast artillery.

Lieut. Jay I. Carpenter, reported missing in Wednesday's list, is a resident of Chicago. He is in the aviation service. Before enlisting he held the position of assistant plumbing buyer for Montgomery Ward & Co. He is a graduate of the first training camp and a native of Rochelle, Ill.

A community memorial service in honor of McMillen Weddell, naval aviator who was the first Hinsdale boy to be killed in France, will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday at Union church, Hinsdale, following which the service flag of the church with 72 stars, two of them gold, will be dedicated.

GERMANS ATTACK EMPRESS ZITA, FEARING POWER

Austrian Ruler's Easy Manner Offends Men Who Aim at Him.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

LONDON, July 11.—The Milan correspondent of the Daily Telegraph reports as follows:

"I received through a Swiss channel the contents of a private letter from one who is in personal touch with Emperor Charles, which explains some of the intricacies of the Austrian political crisis and the recent attacks on Empress Zita. The writer says:

"'Emperor Charles tries to be what in English is called a "good fellow" and wants to conciliate everybody, but he does not realise that he is surrounded by mediocrities in politics and by powerful men who seek only their personal interest. His difficulties multiply daily. Fierce attacks were made upon him openly and secretly at the time of the revelation of the Prince Sixtus letter, and now an insidious campaign of obloquy has been started against the empress merely to create personal difficulties for the ruler and to keep him in subjection to the mysterious influence at work.

"'The blow was struck, not against the government, but against the emperor's position as head of the dynasty, by what might be called a modern Austrian camarilla composed only in part of Austrians and for a large part comprising secret pro-German influences.

"'Though I do not believe the queen sought to influence any Austrian statesman directly, as rumors all over the country asserted, still I have no doubt she is doing all in her power to influence her husband, and this excites the bitter ire of the Germans. She is the strongest advocate of an understanding with the entente, with or without Germany's consent."

GENERAL PINS U. S. CROSSES ON 37 MARINES

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE MARNE, July 11.—On the lawn of a beautiful old chateau on the banks of the war famed Marne yesterday afternoon the first large award of the distinguished service cross was made to members of the United States marine corps for heroic deeds in the fighting northwest of Chateau Thierry in June. An American general pinned the crosses on the breasts of thirty-seven fighters. The crosses had been awarded to more than 100 of the marines, but the rest were either dead or in hospitals. The deeds, for participation in which with exceptional bravery the crosses were awarded, were summed up in an address by the general commanding. His order said in part:

"In June on a front of twenty kilometers after a night of marches and with only the reserve of rations which you carried, you stood like a wall against the enemy's advance on Paris. Since you have advanced your lines two kilometers on a front of eight kilometers. You have engaged and defeated with great loss three German divisions and have occupied the important strong points of Belleau woods, Bouresches, and Vaux. You have taken about 1,400 prisoners, many machine guns, and much other material. All the elements of the division have worked together as a well trained machine."

Here are the names of the Chicago men who received the medals yesterday: Corporal Fred W. Hill, Corporal Roy W. Chase, Lieut. James F. Robertson, Corporal Charles W. Brooks, Wheaton, Ill.

Crowder Denies Wheat Growers' Plea for Delay in Draft Until After Harvest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—In response to a request for postponement of the July draft call in the northwest, where wheat is ready for harvest, Provost Marshal General Crowder has informed the department of agriculture that the military program will not permit of delay in filling the monthly demand for drafted men.

The situation had been canvassed thoroughly before the July call was placed, and to relieve conditions in the spring wheat states as far as possible entrainment in that section was ordered to begin July 22 instead of July 5 and 15 as elsewhere. More than this, it was stated, the needs of the army would not allow.

"Farmers in those sections which are confronted with the problem of harvesting wheat at a time when some of their help will be called to the colors should receive inspiration from the wheat growers of the central states," Assistant Secretary Ousley said today. "In June the farmers of that section faced the same situation, yet every acre of grain was cut and shocked. City people with farm experience responded to the call for help and were organized into "shock troops" and went into the harvest fields. Illinois and Kansas, two great wheat producing states, each registered 40,000 city men for farm work."

CUSTODY OF CHILD OF SOLDIER ASKED BY GRANDFATHER

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by W. G. Nichols, vice president and general manager of the American Manganese Steel company, who lives in Chicago Heights, in an effort to obtain custody of his granddaughter, Margaret Ashton, 4 years old.

The bill states that Margaret is the child of his daughter and that the father is E. H. Ashton. Mrs. Ashton died when her daughter was a year old and shortly before her death asked that the child be placed in the custody of the grandparents, which was done with the father's consent.

Some time ago Ashton was called to the colors. The bill states that he became angry because the grandfather, Mr. Nichols, who was head of the exemption board at Chicago Heights, did not secure his release. Ashton is now in service in Kansas City.

Ashton then called for the child, the bill sets forth, and on a pretext of taking her to see his sister in Port Byron, Ill., lodged her permanently with his sister, Mrs. Grace Wendt, and her husband, Robert Wendt, where she now is.

Threats have been made to take the child across the state line, it is said, if an effort is made to recover her, and the court is asked to award her to the temporary custody of Mrs. Annie L. Sheridan, an officer of the Juvenile court, until her home is established by court order.

"GO BAREFOOT," IS COMMAND TO BERLIN PUBLIC

LONDON, July 11.—"We warn you to go barefoot," is a notice to the Berlin public published by the German clothing department, as quoted in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam today.

"We notice," continues the warning, "that recently many people have been going about shoeless and stockingless. This is a holy example which every one must follow. Unless our stocks of wool are to go to waste the practice must become increasingly popular; otherwise compulsion will be resorted to."

The newspapers, adds the message, recommend to school children and students not to fear ridicule, but to set the example of going barefoot.

U. S. NAILS LIES AIMED BY ENEMY AT RED CROSS

Germans Charge American Society Refuses Aid to Wounded.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Calumnies published in German newspapers regarding the treatment of wounded Germans falling within the American lines, which reflect directly on the American Red Cross, have caused the United States government to make request of the German government, through the Spanish ambassador at Berlin, as to the basis for the statements. No reply has been received.

In making this known today the state department said that while the German reports have been formally denied by it on behalf of the Red Cross and by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross war council, it is informed that the denials never were given circulation in Germany.

Lie Is Launched.

"Early in June," the department's statement said, "the department of state was informed by the American minister at Berne that the International Red Cross at Geneva had received a letter from the central committee of the German Red Cross at Berlin, which stated that it was understood from press news that Mr. Davison, chairman of the American Red Cross, had made the proposition that the American Red Cross should not assist the wounded and helpless Germans, but should leave them to their miserable fate.

Official Denial Made.

"In response to this the department of state sent to the American minister at Berne, as from the American Red Cross, the following:

"'The American Red Cross knows no such thing as the nationality of a wounded man. Any wounded enemy turned over to the care of the American Red Cross will receive as kindly treatment as any friend.'

"Supplementing the foregoing Mr. Davison said:

"'These sentiments are exactly those which I have publicly expressed throughout the United States. I have never entertained nor expressed any thought to the contrary. The fact that we are today caring for German wounded in our Red Cross hospitals should dispose of the frequently recurring statements that we do not care for such of the enemy wounded as fall within our lines.'"

SECOND NEPHEW OF PERSHING WINS STRAPS IN ARMY

James F. Pershing Jr. of Chicago yesterday received a commission as second lieutenant at the officers' training camp at Newport News, Va.

Young Pershing is a nephew of Gen. John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American armies in France, and a son of James F. Pershing of Chicago. He is 24 years old and enlisted in the army eight months ago as a private. He has been attached to the sanitary section. His brother, Frank, is a lieutenant and is now fighting in France.

Lieut. Pershing's mother, Mrs. James F. Pershing, at the Chicago Beach hotel said last night she had not yet received notice of his appointment. She was informed by THE TRIBUNE that her son's name appeared in the list given out by the war department at Washington.

HONOR ROLL SITE TO BE SELECTED

A Grant park location for Chicago honor memorial roll probably will be selected officially this morning at a conference between Charles L. Hutchinson, treasurer and acting president of the South Park board, and the subcommittee on site of the citizens' and council committee which is promoting the project.

Acting President Hutchinson will meet with Charles Wacker, Frank Logan, and Ald. Joseph O. Kostner at 10 o'clock in the chambers of the home defense committee in the city hall. The site tentatively chosen, subject to the approval of the commissioners, is the colonnade at the north end of the park.

"While we have had no definite word, we feel confident that our request will be favorably acted upon," Ald. Kostner said.

Waco, Tex., July 11.—Nat Hoffman, a white soldier, was hanged at 5:45 p. m. today at Camp MacArthur. He was convicted of attacking a school girl last April.

Rob 9 Wilmette Houses and Look What They Got!

Burglars had a busy time in Wilmette early yesterday. Within a few hours they entered nine places within two blocks, their entire loot being a gold watch, $5, a thrift stamp, and a pair of trousers.

W. H. Cruden of 631 Central avenue scared one of the burglars away from his house. The burglar took with him, however, a gold watch belonging to Cruden, who gave the alarm.

Before being seen leaving the Cruden home, the burglars entered the homes of Philip Hugenis, 506 Lake street; J. B. Gray, 627 Lake street; J. B. Greiner, 631 Lake street; S. Swanson, 636 Washington avenue; E. King, 714 Laurel avenue; Joseph J. Dillon, 206 Woodbine avenue; Robert Stoddard, 524 Lake avenue, and Burton Toms, 500 Lake avenue.

RESCUED U-BOAT MEN LEAVE FOUR BRITISH TO DIE

LONDON, July 11.—In the course of a lecture on the Zeebrugge operations, Naval Paymaster Collingwood Hughes narrated today a story illustrative of German cruelty and callousness. He said a patrol boat discovered a derelict German submarine from which it rescued the crew.

The commander was assured by the German captain that there were no others aboard, and he was about to blow up the boat and sink her, when he heard tappings from the inside. A search revealed four British seamen tied up as prisoners.

"The Germans," the lecturer added, "were going to allow those poor fellows to be hurled into eternity after their own lives had been saved."

WILSON CREATES BOARD TO GOVERN PRICE OF SUGAR

Washington, D. C., July 11.—To equalize the price of sugar to the consumer in the face of prospects for an increase due to a threatened shortage, and to secure better distribution, President Wilson today created the sugar equalization board, on recommendation of Food Administrator Hoover.

The board will be incorporated at $5,000,000, the capital to be furnished by the president from his special war fund, and will have authority to acquire even at a loss to the government, the production of beet sugar factories that cannot under the present price of beets be sold to the public at a reasonable price, and other high cost sugar. This will be resold in the common lot at the stabilized price, thus saving considerable to the consumer.

Offices of the board will be in Washington. Mr. Hoover has been appointed chairman and George Rolph, sugar director in the food administration, president. The directors are F. W. Taussig of the tariff commission; Clarence Woolley of the war trade board; Sugar Administrator George Zabriskie, Theodore Whitmarsh and William T. Glasgow, all of the food administration.

An announcement by the food administration said the new organization is expected to facilitate joint dealing with the allies in foreign sugar and the adjustment of differentials in overseas freight rates. A small margin of profit may be made on the low cost of certain foreign sugar which may be purchased, thus securing equalization of the price to the consumer on a lower level than would otherwise be possible.

HERE'S A FELLOW LONG ON NAMES; HOTELS HIS MARK

Chiefly distinctive for failing to pay his bills in the Hotel Sherman and the Hotel Brevoort, Jarvis L. Hudson, after close questioning in the state's attorney's office, is being held in central station because of the perplexing incidents surrounding his brief stay in Chicago.

He is said to owe the Hotel Sherman $177 and the Brevoort $44. Concerned in his activities is a woman described as beautiful, who posed as his wife in the Hotel Sherman; also a black cap which was sent to him from Paris, Ill., to which some mystery attaches, and furthermore, the information gained from the Thomas Cook & Son, tourist agency, at 117 North Dearborn street.

The woman's Christian name is given as Alice. Hudson, who posed as "Jasper Haywood" in the Hotel Sherman and as "J. Hilton" in the Brevoort, told the police Alice lives somewhere in Michigan avenue. He begged leave to look for her, saying, "She'll pay all my bills."

Hudson was identified by attaches of the tourist agency, who said he had given orders to have his mail forwarded to the Ritz-Carlton hotel in New York. He declined to discuss his puzzling movements in Chicago or the incident of the cap from Paris. He will be held until the woman is found.

SITE FOR NEW DOG POUND.

The proposed new city dog pound will be built on approximately the same site as the present one if the city council approves a recommendation made yesterday by the health committee. Edwin S. Jackman recently gave the city $10,000 to pay for a new pound.

PRESS THROTTLE IN WIRE CONTROL, SENATORS' FEAR

Resolution Is Vigorously Fought; Underwood Is Chief Defender.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—When the resolution to take over the telegraph and telephone wires came up in the senate today through the temporary side tracking of national prohibition, it became the target for vigorous opposition, based largely upon the unwillingness of senators to add further to Postmaster General Burleson's press censorship powers.

Senator Watson of Indiana offered an amendment exempting press wires and all telephone lines from government control. Senator Reed of Missouri also drafted an amendment to prevent interference with newspaper messages. Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan, in a vigorous denunciation of the resolution, declared the press associations and the newspapers would be barred from use of the wires except by Mr. Burleson's consent.

Censor Approval by Papers?

The opposition appeared so formidable that Senator Lewis of Illinois called upon the postmaster general to give congress a clear understanding of his intentions with regard to wire censorship. The postmaster general, Senator Lewis reported to his colleagues, said he had no idea of attempting to censor press dispatches, but expected to place all the press wires under the control of a director approved by the newspapers.

Senator Underwood of Alabama took charge of the defense of the resolution today, but little progress was made in the direction of a final vote. Indications were that it would require several days' debate to bring the measure to its final disposition.

Underwood Defends Plan.

Senator Underwood urged the adoption of the resolution upon the ground that the president had asked for the power embraced in it. The executive had expressed the urgency for the authority sought as a future emergency, in letters to two senators. The president had not gone into his reasons for wanting the authority, except as a war contingency, Senator Underwood said, but that was enough for the senate to act upon.

Senator Harding of Ohio asked Senator Underwood if he did not think, in view of Mr. Carlton's statement before the committee, that it would be advisable to have an investigation before the senate committed itself to government control.

"No, I think it is necessary to pass this resolution at once, because the president wants it," returned the Alabaman.

Senator Kellogg of Minnesota characterized the threatened strike of the telegraph operators as "a bluff."

Vote to Hear Protests.

When Senator Kellogg attempted to present a number of telegrams protesting against the taking over of the telegraph and telephone lines, objection was made.

"If the people of this country have any sacred right, it is the right of petition," said Senator Kellogg. "The committee has denied them the right of a hearing, so I move that these telegrams be read."

A roll call on the motion was demanded, with the result that the senate decided to hear the telegrams by a vote of 41 to 27.

Attacked by Senator Smith.

Senator Smith of Michigan assailed the taking over of the wires in the most vigorous language. "The Associated Press, the United Press, and the newspapers of the country will be inhibited from using the wires except with Mr. Burleson's consent," he declared. "All the means of communication will be in his hands.

"I won't vote for this thing, and I don't want any one to tell me that if I don't I am disloyal."

HELD AS DRAFT FALSIFIER.

Russel W. Redmond was held under $2,500 bond yesterday before Lewis F. Mason, United States commissioner, on charge of falsifying his questionnaire. Separated from his wife, Katherine, he is charged with having his sweetheart, Adeline, sign the paper, using his wife's name and claiming that he was her support.

CARLTON ARRIVES AS W. U. WIRE MEN PLAN NEW UNION

Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, arrived in Chicago yesterday.

His coming was the signal for an outburst from S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, who declared that Carlton had come to supervise the organization of his "company union," which Konenkamp declared was an effort to sidestep the demands of the old organization for recognition from the company.

Efforts to reach Carlton last night at the Congress hotel, where he is staying, were unsuccessful.

None of the sixteen delegates of the "company union," who are in convention at the Great Northern hotel at the suggestion of President Carlton, would admit knowledge of his presence in Chicago. Western Union officials were noncommittal.

The organizers of the "company union" declared that they would issue a statement of the purpose of the organization tonight.

Waukegan Judge Adjourns Court to Work on Farm

Waukegan, Ill., July 11.—[Special.]—Judge C. C. Edwards announced today he would adjourn the Circuit court for two weeks, and as a patriotic act go to his father's farm at Gray's Lake Monday and aid in harvesting.

"I will aid not only my father, but other farmers in need of help," he said, "and any wages received will go to the Red Cross."

He suggested the two weeks' vacation from court would give the entire Lake county bar a chance to take a vacation on the farm and help to win the war.

'WETS' IN SENATE WORK TO STAVE OFF FINAL VOTE

Revive Recess Talk to Escape Test on Prohibition.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—There were many schemes in the capitol today to provide a loophole for congress to escape or postpone a final showdown on nation-wide war-time prohibition, at least until after election.

The senate, with the consent of the "drys," sidetracked the prohibition rider to the agricultural extension bill temporarily to make way for the immediate consideration of the resolution authorizing the president to take over the telegraph and telephone wires.

"Wets" Revive Recess Talk.

Indications were that the prohibition question would not be brought up again for several days. Meanwhile, recess talk was revived enthusiastically among the "wets." Several senators expect to confer with President Wilson tomorrow in an effort to obtain his consent to a recess immediately upon the disposition of the telegraph resolution.

By the time congress returns from such a recess, the revenue bill and the administration's promised military man power legislation will be ready for consideration. These two important measures, it was pointed out, would crowd prohibition into the legislative ditch and keep it there indefinitely.

The "drys," however, were fully aware of these moves, and let it be known that they would consent to a recess under no circumstances until the disposition of the prohibition amendment. The vote yesterday by which they defeated the "wet" point of order against the amendment gave them the whip hand, they declared.

"Drys" Fight Delay.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, the "dry" leader, it was stated, is not opposed to a recess, but his followers are not with him on this point and declared they would permit nothing to rob them of the fruits of yesterday's victory. They have the votes to control the situation at all times.

The prohibition amendment is the "unfinished business" of the senate and can be laid aside only by unanimous consent or by a majority vote. The "drys" declared there is no question about their ability to keep the measure before the senate until a final vote is obtained.

Teamster Held to Grand Jury on Girl's Charge

Leo Willacki of 948 Racine avenue, a teamster, was held to the grand jury in bonds of $2,500 yesterday by Judge Hayes in the West Chicago avenue court on a charge of criminal assault. The complainant is Miss Caroline Milowski, 21 years old, 816 North May street.

OUTLINE RULES FOR TAKING OF SOLDIER VOTES

U. S. Urges States to Make Necessary Law Changes.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—The war department issued general orders today prescribing rules for taking the votes of soldiers with the American expeditionary forces and suggesting that states desiring to give soldiers voting privileges should amend their laws to meet the limitations set forth.

State laws governing soldier voting have been found impracticable to meet the peculiar conditions abroad. It is suggested, therefore, that the states coöperate with the military authorities by amending their present election laws as to validate soldier votes that have been cast under the limitations which the department has found necessary to prescribe.

Rules for Soldiers' Voting.

The rules governing the casting and collection of soldiers' votes prescribed by the war department order are as follows:

First—The war department will not be responsible for obtaining votes of soldiers abroad, but will assist wherever it is possible without interfering with military duties.

Second—It will not be possible to take the votes of soldiers actively engaged in military operations unless the soldier can cast his vote by transmitting an executed ballot through the mails as ordinary correspondence.

Third—In no case will the war department furnish to the states or election officials lists of persons who have entered the military service from such states. Neither can the war department undertake to forward blank ballots or other election forms of literature which may be addressed to soldiers in the service.

However, when qualified voters of a certain state are known to be in the military service as members of a certain organization, but the organizational address is unknown the war department will furnish such address upon receipt of request therefor from the proper state or election officials.

Censorship Not Lifted.

Fourth—The censorship now imposed upon every letter coming out of France will not be waived in favor of mailed soldier votes.

Fifth—Where states require that oaths be administered and certificates made in order to validate the votes, officers will be permitted, but not required, to administer such oaths and make such certificates; provided that this will in no way interfere with active military operations.

Where state laws require the sending of election commissioners to take the soldiers' votes, the military authorities will place at the disposal of such commissioners every assistance that is found compatible with the exigencies of the military situation. In most cases, however, the war department order explains, it will be impracticable to permit commissioners to take the votes.

States are urged to act at once toward making such amendments to election laws as are necessary in order that soldiers may be given voting privileges in the forthcoming primaries.

GERMAN THEFT OF RUSSIA NAVY MENACE TO U. S.

Speed Up Yankee Warship Program to Combat New Strength.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—The suspicion that Germany has annexed the Russian navy, which would make the aggregate strength of the German navy 25 per cent greater than that of the American navy, is causing considerable uneasiness at the navy department.

This disclosure today illuminates vividly the cost of the Russian fiasco to the United States and its allies and the possibilities of German aggrandisement at the expense of Russia, the realization of which the plan of allied intervention is designed to arrest.

American and allied naval intelligence officers have been endeavoring for months to ascertain just what proportion of the Russian fleet is now under German control. Because conflicting reports have been received from reliable naval sources as to the sea power of Russia, American naval officers expressed the belief today that Germany controls a large portion of the original Russian fleet.

Believe Some Vessels Sunk.

Information on the strength of the department indicates that some of the vessels were sunk by their own crews to prevent the ships from falling into the hands of the Germans, but nothing positively supporting this intimation has been received. On the other hand, the navy department has definite information that at least twenty destroyers and twenty submarines and seven or eight dreadnaughts are in the Black sea, where presumably they are at the disposal of the Germans.

Information on the strength of the Baltic fleet is not so positive, although the navy department has knowledge of the fact that four super-dreadnaughts of 32,000 tons capacity were on the ways there immediately following the Russo-Japanese war. Four battle cruisers also were known to have been in commission under the Russian flag in these waters.

Germany Building Cruisers.

Of Germany's building program the navy also has indefinite information. It was said at the department today that Sir Eric Geddes' estimate of the success of the allied fleet against submarines could be accepted as a most conservative statement of sinkings, but no information has been received here or by the allies that would permit the entente naval powers to estimate accurately the strength of the German underwater vessels.

It was said the reports on Germany's building operations indicated that steady work of constructing battle cruisers is going on in enemy shipyards, but the information on submarine building was such that no reliable estimate could be ventured. The reports vary from three submarines constructed each month to five a week. The latter figure, of course, is not accepted by the navy as within the range of possibilities.

Speed Up U. S. Program.

Naval authorities freely admit that it is possible for the German-Russian fleet in the Baltic to penetrate the Cattegat and enter the North sea, and while brushes are continually occurring between the allied fleet and the enemy, the allies have not yet been able to assume the offensive and endeavor to go into the Baltic after the enemy.

The recent announcement by Secretary Daniels that immediate efforts were to be made to speed up the completion of the three year naval program authorized by congress was occasioned, navy officials assert, by the possibility of Germany's utilization of the additional strength of the Russian fleet.

"We are merely following the wishes of congress in taking steps to bring into operation the naval strength outlined by congressional appropriation," a naval officer said.

May Draw on Man Power.

The navy constitutes only one of the numerous resources for the conduct of war that Germany is absorbing in Russia. Vast military stores of every description have been taken over by the Germans, who are now engaged in reviving the production of raw materials and manufactures throughout the Russian territory they hold. Eventually Germany contemplates drawing upon the man power of Russia to reinforce depleted strength in the war zone if not on the firing line itself.

How to arrest this absorption of Russia by the Germans is the great problem confronting the allies now endeavoring to formulate a plan of intervention to expel the Hun from the Muscovite republic.

Governments independent of Bolshevist rule have been proclaimed at Vladivostok and at Kola, and if these governments show stability it is probable that they will be recognized by the United States and the allies.

Lenine Forces Claim Victories in Volga and Siberia.

Nicholas Romanoff, the former Russian emperor, has been killed by a bomb hurled by a Bolshevik soldier, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today.

[There have been numerous rumors recently of the death of the young Alexis Romanoff, the former heir apparent, but none has been confirmed from any authoritative source. The most recent circumstantial account of his supposed whereabouts was printed in German newspapers late in June. These declared that he was then in Tobolsk, Siberia, having been left behind there because of illness when the other members of the Romanoff family were removed to Ekaterinburg.]

Wires to Moscow Cut.

VOLOGDA, Russia, Sunday, July 7. —[By the Associated Press.]—White Guards have occupied Yaroslav, a town 173 miles northeast of Moscow, and have cut communications between Moscow and Vologda. Russian Bolshevik forces have been sent in the direction of Yaroslav.

ADMIRAL ASKS INTERVENTION

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

LONDON, July 11.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail wires from Harbin under date of July 1 as follows:

"Living on the railway at Harbin, in a special carriage, is Admiral Kolt-chak, formerly chief of operations in the Russian Baltic fleet, and later commander of the Black sea fleet. We have had an interesting chat.

"In the course of our conversation Koltchak said:

"'In January, after the Bolshevik coup d'etat, I was in Tokio and received a message from the Russian minister at Peking, asking me to proceed to Manchuria to assist in reorganizing the Russian forces there; and here I am at Harbin, where I have accepted command of the Russian troops in the zone of the Chinese Eastern railway.

Would Not Object to Japanese.

"'Allied intervention is absolutely necessary. The Russians would not object to a Japanese army acting under an allied mandate, but in my opinion some British troops are imperative. An expedition so composed would not meet with the resistance of the population, and to reach the Urals would neither be difficult nor call for a great many troops.

"Primarily the object of the expedition would be to disarm the population, to suppress Bolshevik outlawry, restore order, and render possible representative elections, so as to secure to the country proper self-government. At the same time the allies should provide the inhabitants with relief in the shape of vital commodities and reorganization of food supplies.

Would Rally to Allies.

"'It is possible, nay probable, that if the allied expedition reached the Urals, patriotic Russians would rally around it as the nucleus of a new army, allowing the eastern front to be reorganized. I would not go further than to put this as a probability.'"

POLICE SEEK BOY MISSING SINCE TRIPLE TRAGEDY

Waukesha, Wis., July 11.—Not until Elder Krause of Cudahy, Wis., is located by the police, it is thought, will the triple death mystery be solved, involving the murder of Ernest Fentz, 17 years old, and the suicide of William Hille, wealthy farmer, 61 years old, and his sister, Hulda, 64 years old.

Krause, who is believed to have driven Hille frantic by pretending to be a secret service man, is thought to be the only eyewitness to the tragedy which was enacted Thursday morning in the Hille farm homestead six miles southwest of Waukesha.

The police officials of Milwaukee and Waukesha county are scouring the neighborhood for a trace of Krause, who is but 19 years old. They expect to bring him to jail before morning, as he has no other clothes than overalls and a dark brown shirt which he was wearing when he ran away from the Hille farm, where he was employed for the last two weeks as a helper.

THEY'RE WITH US

Hawaiians Show Their Loyalty by Picturesque Rites at Secretary Lane's Visit.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—A new and picturesque story of America's unity in the war was brought from Hawaii today by Secretary Lane. While in the islands he was asked by the natives to represent the United States in a ceremony for the pledging of fealty, the first time the Hawaiians ever performed their ancient rites for this country.

Standing in a beautiful grove of Poncianas trees, Mr. and Mrs. Lane were presented with fruits of the islands by different groups from all classes of society. First came the princes of the royal family, wearing garlands of yellow feathers which are the sign of royalty. Then came warriors, fishermen, farmers, and others carrying brilliant tropical flowers and fruits which they gave the secretary, emblematic of placing the resources of Hawaii at the disposal of the United States.

Secretary Lane's visit was marked by other demonstrations of loyalty, perhaps the most significant being an unheralded mobilization of men under the draft law. Mr. Lane had gone into the mountains to investigate some government land leases and arrived unexpectedly as the young men were being assembled for a farewell banquet. They included Hawaiians, Japanese, Chinese, and Filipinos. Inside the banquet hall Mr. Lane found huge placards, "save the wheat, sugar, fats," and other food administration pleas, interspersed with exhortations to invest in war savings stamps.

Announcement that the United States will open to homesteaders about 100,000 acres of lands now under lease has created great enthusiasm in the islands.

TRACTION PLANS UP AGAIN TODAY

Members of the city council committee on local transportation will have another session today on the proposed ordinance for unification of the surface and elevated lines and a subway system.

The committee has not approved the ordinance yet, but is expected to do so in a few days. Walter L. Fisher, the city's special counsel in traction affairs, has been engaged for the last few days in putting the finishing touches to the measure, which seems to have the committee's approval, but which he is openly opposed to.

Ald. H. D. Capitain, chairman of the committee, said last night that the committee would work nights, if necessary, to avoid delay in having the ordinance ready for early consideration by the council.

GIBBONS SCOFFS AT WOUNDS AS HE PRAISES YANKS

"Tribune" Writer Getting Along Fine on Road to Recovery.

Two letters concerning Floyd Gibbons just received by his mother tell of his progress toward completely restored health. THE TRIBUNE war correspondent is convalescing in an American hospital in France following his injury at Château Thierry during the battle between the American marines and the Germans on June 6.

One letter is from Mr. Gibbons himself—the other from Mrs. Lucy Calhoun, widow of W. J. Calhoun of Chicago, formerly United States minister to China. Mrs. Calhoun has been connected with the American hospital there for more than six months.

Dictates Letter.

Mr. Gibbons' letter follows:

"AMERICAN AMBULANCE NEUILLY NEUILLY-SUR-SEINE, June 11. —Dear Mother: I am dictating this to Izzy (Mrs. Gibbons) from my bed in the Chicago ward in this hospital at Neuilly. I am perfectly easy and without pain, and have everything in the world that I want or could wish for.

"I have had a most remarkable experience, which has cost be not a single regret.

"Izzy is with me all day long. She reached the hospital the day after I did. She has been wearing a military nurse uniform and cap ever since. She has a room two blocks from the hospital.

"Yesterday all of us in the ward sent her to get a phonograph. Instead she brought back Elsie Janis, who sang songs for us.

Wounds Healing.

"My wounds are healing fine; the doctors report them in the best of condition. My right eye is absolutely unaffected, so that I retain perfect vision, although not permitted to use it as yet.

"Col. R. R. McCormick and Mrs. McCormick have been up to see me every day.

"In this ward there are many brave fellows. Some have lost legs, some have lost arms, and some are paralyzed and some are pitted with particles of shrapnel. It is seldom they give in to their pain, and never do they complain of their lot. Their only regret is that most of them never will have another opportunity to return to the front. They are fine company, mother—Irishmen, Jews, Poles, Italians. But, my God, what men! They are the new Americans, born in the hell of battle.

"Don't worry about me, mother. I am sound in mind and body and very fortunate to be. Your loving son.

"FLOYD."

Word from Mrs. Calhoun.

And this from Mrs. Calhoun:

"PARIS, June 10.—Dear Mrs. Gibbons: I went in today to see your son and the only thing he asked of me was to write a letter to you. He is very anxious that you should know how well he is and how cheerful.

"He looked a splendid giant of a man as he lay there, so deep chested and broad shouldered, and he is not downed the least bit in spirit.

"He says he has seen fighting on many fronts, but he never has seen such soldiers as our Americans. He is filled with pride of them, as we all are.

"You must not be worried about him, for he is going to be all right. The doctors are very confident and reassuring. He will not lose his sight, they say, and he will be in good shape again very soon. I have seen many wounded men come and go in the hospital, but I never saw one who seemed physically so fit. He could not be in a better place and he is having the best of care. Very sincerely yours,

"LUCY CALHOUN."

SHRAPNEL

Dr. L. M. Bowes, for many years attending physician to the Norwegian and Danish Old People's home in Norwood Park and of the Norwegian Lutheran Children's home in Niles, Ill., has been commissioned a captain in the medical corps. He was given a gold wrist watch by the residents of Norwood Park.

As a spur to British-Canadian recruiting, it has been announced that the order inducting British and Canadian men of draft age is suspended for the present, so that these men may have an opportunity to enlist. Such as claim exemption by reason of foreign birth will be inducted into the American army.

The United States department of labor has opened a new division at 29 La Salle street for the classification of technical engineers in war work. The department desires all men who have had technical experience to register. Some of the positions demanding chemical and mechanical knowledge pay as high as $3,000 a year.

Two More Theaters Ask Restricted Licenses

Owners of the Woods and La Salle theaters sent applications yesterday to the city collector for licenses under the city's "anti-scalping" ordinance, making seven theaters which so far have applied. Each application has been accompanied by a protest setting forth that the applicants reserve the right to appeal to the courts against the provisions of the measure. Under the new ordinance the theaters agree to the automatic revocation of licenses upon proof that they knowingly conspired with "scalpers" to make ticket buyers pay a higher price than that printed on the tickets.

CROWDS UNDER AIR SQUAD WATCH MITCHEL BURIAL

Aviators Drop Bunches of Flowers on Cortege of Former Mayor.

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—The nation joined with the city today in tribute to John Purroy Mitchel, its former mayor. His was a military funeral, attended by the governor and his staff, the mayor, and practically all the higher city officials and representatives of the ambassadors of the leading allied powers.

The cortege made its slow progress from the city hall to St. Patrick's cathedral under dropping flowers, let fall from circling squadrons of airplanes by comrades in the flying service, in which Maj. Mitchel met his death. Along the line of march the streets were packed with many thousands of citizens, who bared their heads as the caisson passed by on which lay the flag draped coffin of the man who will live in the memories of many of them as one of New York's best mayors.

At St. Patrick's.

The public ceremonial reached its culmination in the solemn requiem high mass at St. Patrick's, where the celebrant had as assistants the rector of the former mayor's parish and the chaplain of the French Alpine chasseurs. When the cathedral organ played "The Star-Spangled Banner" at the close of the services the police choir sang on the steps as the body was being carried out, and the cathedral chimes played hymns as the hearse drove away to Woodlawn.

When the procession left the city hall shortly after 9 o'clock every street around City Hall park was crowded with women and men. From the windows of the tall buildings, towering on all sides, thousands of faces looked down, and on the motor cars and street cars which had stopped all around thousands more watched with bared heads.

Flowers from Sky.

There was no pageantry to look at, no unusual attraction save the eight-seen airplanes that flew hither and thither over the city in the gray haze, dropping flowers; there was nothing to see but the funeral of John Purroy Mitchel, but it seemed that all New York which could get anywhere near sight of the line of march had come out to see that.

Ever since the public was first admitted to the city hall at 5:30 on Wednesday afternoon to pass by the coffin as it lay in state in the rotunda the lines had been going by it almost unbroken.

Col. Roosevelt, Gov. Whitman, the foreign ambassadors, and many other distinguished persons passed silently by the coffin, taking a last look at the man they all respected.

Negro cavalry attached to West Point held the bridle rein of a horse covered almost to the ground with a black pall—an honor unusual, it was said, for an officer of no higher rank than a major. An empty scabbard and empty boots hung from the saddle.

The coffin was placed on the gun carriage, and, led by the mounted police platoon, the procession started.

Airplane from Mineola.

The first of the airplanes from Mineola flew past the city hall as the procession entered Lafayette street. Holding a general northwesterly course, the airplanes went on toward Washington square and started uptown in general line with Fifth avenue shortly after 10 o'clock. They flew low, and as they flew dropped clusters of red and white roses sent by residents of Long Island.

One or two single machines which flew toward the cathedral ahead of the others had a more favorable wind, and the roses which they dropped formed a carpet on the avenue in front of the building, which was still there when the head of the procession arrived. Their maneuvers were followed with eager interest by the crowds. Dividing into squadrons, they flew back and forth to gather above the cathedral as the coffin was carried in and drop their last flowers before flying back to Mineola.

Six of them flew as far north as Harlem, where they acted as escort to the automobiles bringing Maj. Mitchel's family to the cathedral.

The services in the cathedral were brief, the family having requested that it be so, and the procession again took up its way, this time to Woodlawn cemetery.

At the cemetery 5,000 persons had gathered on neighboring hillsides. As the coffin was lowered into the grave Father Shealy said prayers for the dead, while overhead two airplanes dropped American beauty roses in showers all about.

NOT YET

President Unwilling at Present to Have Federal Adjustment of Street Car Fares.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—President Wilson has rejected, for the time at least, the proposal of the war labor board that he create a federal agency to adjust street railway fares so as to produce increased revenue that will be required to meet wage advances.

The war labor board, including former President Taft, a constitutional lawyer, held that the president has authority. Whether Mr. Wilson doubts the extent of this war power and is also averse to asking congress for the extended authority is not disclosed.

Unless the president modifies his attitude the whole question of raising fares to meet wage advances will be up to state and municipal bodies. There are twenty-four such wage demands pending and in every case the street car company contends that advances, though justified by the increased cost of living, cannot be met without additional revenue.

The board has decided to proceed with the consideration of the wage demands, which it is a foregone conclusion will be decreed in Chicago and other cities.

Examiners John A. Henderson, Joseph E. Chiesa, and C. W. Smith will go to Chicago Saturday to hear evidence in the controversy between the elevated and surface street railway companies and their employes.

SAYS AMERICAN GOLD BUILT UP "KULTUR FUND"

Busch Cash for German Bonds Aided Rumely, Attorney Asserts.

New York, July 11.—The Busch family of St. Louis bought at least $1,000,000 worth of the German war bonds which the government believes were sold in this country for propaganda and for the purchase of the New York Evening Mail and other newspapers, according to a statement issued tonight by Alfred L. Becker, deputy state attorney general. Mr. Becker added that probably more than $100,000,000 worth of the bonds had been sold in the United States.

Mr. Becker emphasized the point that while the United States was still neutral the imperial German government, without a cent of expense to itself, established a fund "to seduce part of the American press with good American gold, exchanged for mere scraps of paper."

Bonds Sold to Americans.

Many Americans, he said, invested in the German bonds before this country went to war in the same manner that they are now buying Liberty bonds, thinking that the money was to be used legitimately.

After asserting that money raised on the bonds was eventually deposited to the credit of Dr. Heinrich F. Albert and Count von Bernstorff, Mr. Becker said in his statement:

"In February, 1917, just before Von Bernstorff sailed, he sent more than $400,000 to Buenos Aires for the account of the German government."

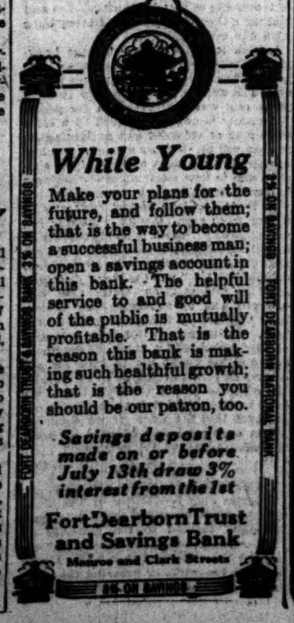

Busch Tells His Side.

St. Louis, Mo., July 11.—August A. Busch, son of Mrs. Adolphus Busch, tonight declared the statement of Alfred L. Becker, deputy state attorney general of New York, that the Busch family had purchased $1,000,000 of German war bonds, to be exaggerated by half.

"It is true," he said, "that I bought $500,000 of the bonds through a local trust company about two years ago. I bought $100,000 worth for myself and $400,000 worth for my mother. She knew nothing about the purchase. If I had had the least intimation that the money was to be used for German propaganda I would not have invested a cent."

Will Ask Senate Inquiry.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—As a result of the revelations which followed the arrest of Dr. Edward A. Rumely, alleged German tool and dummy owner of the New York Evening Mail, Senator William H. King of Utah will ask the senate judiciary committee tomorrow to make a searching investigation into the methods employed by the central powers in their efforts to buy American newspapers and control public opinion through the use of a bribe fund of $30,000,000.

MR. GOMPERS' VIEWS ON WAR TAXES.

The nation needs more money and it is imperative that congress should waste no time in formulating the plans for raising it. The sooner we know the form and method of the new tax levies the sooner we can arrange our affairs to meet them. In his contribution to THE TRIBUNE series on war taxation Mr. Gompers' remark that "definiteness in regard to obligations is an essential of good business as well as of right living" is of the essence of practical philosophy.

It is interesting to note, moreover, that Mr. Gompers reflects the opinions of expert economists in warning the nation against the dangers of inflation. If we should finance the war simply by means of bonds or various forms of loans we should invite financial disaster. On the other hand, it would probably be unwise to accept without some reservation Mr. Gompers' suggestion that the major share of the financial burden of the war should be borne by the present generation.

It seems to be his opinion that most of the funds to carry on the war ought to be derived from taxation. There is certainly a great deal of merit in his contention that every one here at home must give to the utmost and that subscriptions to Liberty bonds do not constitute anything more than a profitable investment. At the same time we must consider the question of industrial and commercial efficiency, and as Prof. Seligman has pointed out, the danger of putting the brakes on industry is quite comparable to the danger of inflation.

PRODUCTION AND PROFITEERING.

Mr. Hoover's letter to Senator Simmons with respect to price regulation again illustrates the sound judgment which we have become accustomed to associate with his administration of food problems. The primary question as he sees it is one of production and production cannot be assured if the food administration imposes restrictions and regulations that would prevent less important evils from occurring.

As Mr. Hoover points out, it would be perfectly possible to regulate prices so as to preclude large profits on the part of any corporation engaged in the food business. But to apply such a system would drive the less efficient corporations out of business and serve to increase monopoly conditions wherever they exist.

It is no argument for high profits that Mr. Hoover sets forth. On the contrary, the food administration has demonstrated its desire to cut down prices on all staple products. If the packers have seemingly made large profits it is not because they are exacting an exorbitant price, but because they are doing an extraordinary amount of business.

The remedy is not to impose regulations which will have the certain effect of curtailing production, but to absorb, by means of taxation, these unusual profits and devote them to government purposes. The food administration has succeeded in preventing any flagrant profiteering; it is now up to congress to provide a means for reducing excessive profits which result, in certain cases, from especially fortunate circumstances.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

Congress, having submitted a dry constitutional amendment to the decision of the states, is about, apparently, to decide that the big contest, which will have the appearance of a fight for a permanent determination, shall be to regain liquor and not to retain it.

The method of doing this, by incidental attachment of an amendment to an agricultural appropriation bill, is prejudicial to good American procedure, but that fact is not being given much consideration. If President Wilson accepts the bill as congress is passing it, the condition described by the prohibitionists will be established. It will not require definition or promise, description or painting. It will exist, with such imperfections as reality may interject into what promised to be perfection.

Determination by the adoption of a constitutional amendment may not be in perpetuity, but it is as binding a contract upon the future as this generation can make for the future. The nation considering entering upon such a contract knows precisely what the wet condition is. It does not need description. It has had experience. The entire nation does not know what the dry condition is. That is conceived by the imagination or by the intelligence, but it remains outside the experience.

If congress were handling the issue in a straightforward, honest fashion there might be a disposition to regard the wartime settlement by prohibition as a realistic presentation of the other side of the question not without its value to citizens who are asked, through their legislatures, to acquiesce in a great change in social custom.

The final decision will be effective for a long time in regulation of people to come. It might be well to have it made with full experience in both states, the dry and the wet.

POTSDAM (MO.).

Such a town name as Potsdam, in Missouri, is an indication of the once amiably regarded habit of Germans, forming a community in the United States, to retain some sentimentally pleasing suggestion of their native country. The area of the United States is dotted with towns bearing names of the same significance.

We had then indifference or indulgence for the naming of a town. The name pleased the people and that was sufficient. We have not now much active feeling in the matter of names. Some have unpleasant suggestions, but what interests is the spirit which may flourish back of the name.

Potsdam has appeared in print because the people of Potsdam appear not to have recognized, in certain ways, that the people of the United States are at war. They have not done so because the alienism which found expression in the name may gave the town continues to find expression in their lives, emotions, and sympathies. It has continued to find expression because the nationalizing influences of America did not sufficiently penetrate, much less saturate, the community.

There are many such communities or groups within communities, not many of them dangerously active, but passively dissentient. They do not feel thoroughly Americanized. They do not act thoroughly Americanized. There are many fashions in which the United States needs stimulation of nationalizing influences. There are various devices which can be used. The most comprehensive, we are certain, is that of universal military service.

THE FOURTEENTH OF JULY.

The French national holiday will be celebrated next Sunday. Our nation cannot afford to allow this day to go by without some kind of adequate recognition. If it were only for the fact that the Fourteenth of July is for our French allies the equivalent of our own Fourth of July, we ought not omit a proper observance of the day.

But the Fourteenth of July should represent even more in our national consciousness. In celebrating it we shall celebrate one of the great victories of democracy, for the fall of the Bastille was the first great blow in the struggle against autocratic rule in France. The establishment of the French republic, moreover, was an important factor in safeguarding our own republic from European aggression.

A new struggle against autocratic rule has arisen and in this struggle France has prevented the German Hohenzollerns from destroying the civilized world.

There could hardly be a series of more compelling reasons for celebrating the Fourteenth of July. It is to be hoped that this country and this city will give the occasion the recognition it deserves.

MR. FORD AND LABOR.

In the course of his inquiry into the political situation in Michigan THE TRIBUNE special correspondent, Mr. Evans, finds that Michigan labor opinion does not consider Mr. Ford's liberal wage policy as conclusive upon the question of his fitness for senatorial service.

This seems to us creditable to the common sense of Michigan wage earners. Mr. Ford in fifteen years has made one of the greatest fortunes in America. His income despite the liberal wages he pays is said to be in the neighborhood of $30,000,000 a year. As one of the Michigan labor leaders asserts, Mr. Ford's wage increases have panned out well for Mr. Ford by stimulating work and stabilizing his working force. This, if true, is creditable to Mr. Ford's business judgment, but it takes a little of the burnish off his halo. The same labor leader removes even more by asserting that Mr. Ford is the greatest open shop advocate in the country.

Whether these considerations will weigh widely among wage earners we are not tempted to predict. But we have a good deal of confidence in the horse sense of the American voter when he has a chance to look a proposition over calmly, and often when he hasn't the chance. Believing that Mr. Ford would be worse than a dead loss in the senate and that to the extent of his vote at least he would be a menace in all matters relating to the security of the nation or the pursuit of a safe and wise policy in international affairs, we have hopes that the Michigan voter will conclude that to elect Mr. Ford senator for inventing the Ford car is like hiring a man to run your automobile because he knows all the words in the national anthem.

GERMAN DELUSION.

A report, said to be authoritative, via The Hague, describes German popular opinion as still completely misled as to American participation in the war. Official propaganda through the press systematically has deceived the mass of Germans into believing that Wilson is an autocrat who has thrust the American people into war against their will and that serious military aid never will be given the allies.

We can credit this to some extent. The German press seems pretty well dominated even in peace times by government purposes in the field of international relations, and it is now useful from the kaiser's viewpoint, if not imperative, that the morale of the mass of the Germans shall be maintained. The upper and middle classes may be relied upon to a great extent to endure for patriotic reasons, but the peasants and industrial classes are not so likely to be patient. But with a press controlled it is possible to keep the worst from the people and it will be some time before the army finds out, and longer before the people know, the extent of the American forces landed in France in spite of the submarine.

When we grow impatient over the faults of our press it might be well for us to think of what the controlled press of Germany is doing to the German people. Meanwhile we read of ally pamphlets being discharged or dropped in the German lines. We are inclined to think this a waste of paper. Better results are to be hoped for from the penetration of news from Switzerland. But the only thing that can convince the German people is some great blow which even the controlled press cannot conceal; this and the steady pressure of privation and loss of life.

Editorial of the Day

AFTER THE WAR IN GERMANY.

[From the Saturday Evening Post.]

Figures compiled by the federal reserve board from official statements, where they are available, put the war debt of Germany and Austria-Hungary at thirty-nine billion dollars. In addition they have just short of eight billion dollars of paper money outstanding, against which they hold a metallic reserve of less than seven hundred millions. The total debt mounts daily.

If peace comes this year the central empires will have to deal with war obligations amounting to nearly half the total estimated wealth of the nations at the beginning of the war. While liabilities have multiplied, assets have shrunk, for to a greater extent than in any other nation German industry was based on foreign trade, and far the greater part of the foreign trade was destroyed more than three years ago.

The war debt of England, France, and Italy stood at forty-three billions when the federal reserve figures were compiled—about 10 per cent greater than the Teuton total. Their wealth at the beginning of the war was more than twice as great. England draws upon the raw material wealth of Canada, Australasia, and South Africa. Her foreign trade, measured in money, is as large as before the war—not to mention that the wealth of the United States is now pledged to the allies' cause.

To the rulers of Germany peace—unless they can win a dazzling stake—is a word of fear. They face a frightful reckoning. Governments have survived defeat. We do not recall a case in which a government has survived bankruptcy.

TOO SERIOUS.

In a case of assault by a husband on his wife the injured woman was reluctant to prosecute.

"I'll lave him to God, yer honor," she said.

"O, dear, no!" said the judge. "It's far too serious a matter for that."—Boston Transcript.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IN glancing through Burton's Arabian Nights, which the club recently purchased, Hon. Hank Webster happened on the origin of "jazz," and he hastened to communicate the news, knowing our deep interest in literary research. It appears that when one speaks extemporaneously in Arabic he speaks "rajaz." Jazz music is characterized by melodic extemporization. There you have it.

They Got Their Money's Worth.

[From the Nevada Representative.]

The beautiful renditions of several numbers by Mr. Ingalls of Nevada was well worth the admission fee, which was purposely made small.

AS a starter toward his presidential boom, Mr. McAdoo got three votes on the 6:50 yesterday. Three men who boarded the train without tickets paid fifty cents apiece for a ride to Evanston.

THE CAT WAS SAFE.

Yet, my friends, there's something I must whisper,
That makes me first in the human race:
I'm the meek, mild man—

RIQUARIUS.

IT certainly looks like a bone-dry millennium. But there are compensations for osseous aridity. For one thing, we shall be quit of the persons who telephone the city editor from a saloon to ask whether Bacon really wrote Shakespeare.

JOSEPHUS AND HIS COAT OF CAMOUFLAGE.

[From the Pittsburgh Press.]

Secretary Daniels stood at the end of "No Man's Land," to all appearances bare except for here and there a few clumps of grass or hillocks of clay.

"PRETTY impressive figures, twelve thousand millions," says our revered contemporary, Mr. Brisbane. Now, twelve billions sounds more impressive to us. It's all a matter of ear.

An Educational Carry.

Sir: An occasional glimpse of your column has left me pondering now and then your possible interest in "life out of doors, where nature is company enough for me, where I am never less alone than when alone," as Hazlitt writes in that pleasantest of essays, "On Going a Journey." It has even occurred to me that sometime you might be persuaded to write something about green days and blue days, to the certain joy of us, who, confined and pestered in this pinfold here, must labor if we would live. And I have thought that you would babble o' green fields right prettily, and discourse with pregnant fancy of trail and carry, all for our more sweet understanding. Now, having, like yourself and Mr. Lardner, to submit to my employers no tangible evidences of honest work on Mondays (I might cast this in verse, which accumulates even as dust, but bravely choose the greater hazard), I ventured this afternoon to journey to a favorite coppice, going by way of the Southwestern traction. Just beyond the Children's Home—I always think of Blake's "'Twas on a holy Thursday, their innocent faces clean"—a crowd of "summer school" students, picnic bent, climbed on, and during interchange of scholastic amenities I greeted bright Edna S. and Helen W., her roommate. But, says Hazlitt, "While one of the pleasantest things in the world is going a journey, I like to go by myself." And soon the P'fessor was deep in his pocket Selborne (Camelot ed.), walking through The Hanger, listening to Gilbert's story of "the two little woodducks and the flapper," and only dimly conscious of sweet girlish chatter from the seat behind. By and by, however, the voice of Edna S. rose "musically, like a crystal ball dropping into a silver bowl"—gratias for teaching me that exquisite trope, O gentle traveler From Ponkapog to Pesth!—and shamelessly I gave ear. For Edna S. Americanliteratured with me last semester, and wrote of "The Scarlet Letter": "Interesting in places, and on the whole rather well done, but not nearly so stimulating as Professor Robert Herrick." They spoke of one but lately gone from among them—by no means an Unwilling Vestal, to judge from the overture. And then: "Don't you think she's fallen off a lot already, Hellun?" "Well, yes" (a meditative sibilant here), "but she looks a whole lot more—well—well, kinda intelligunt, y'know." "Well, perhaps, but" (the censure of the judicious was evident) "lissen, kid, she'd never have the fun, with him, she usta have with the other boys, and then y'know" (more confidentially) "when the children begin to——" "Not necessarily" (Hellun interrupted: she takes Organic Evolution and Biology 2A): But the Grafton car was at the crossing, and I had to transfer. My friend, the Professor of Education, is preparing a monograph on Subliminal Phenomena of Adolescent Psychology. Do you think my field data would interest him? Obiter-dicta, I noticed, via the Tribune, this evening, that Mrs. Margaret Sanger has been umbilicized by The League. Edna and Helen will both make Phi Beta Kappa, but I—I shall remain irrevocably, thoroughly Mid-Victorian. P. D. S.

A GERMAN professor, in court in Dubuque, asserted loudly that "we will never find democracy anywhere else but in hell." That's the last place we should look for it.

If There Are No Further Nominations—

Sir: Who is the most completely blasé individual in town? I nominate the gentleman who presides over the percussion instruments at the Majestic. M. I.

AMONG those who adhere like wall paper to their vocations, reports W. H. B., are Ford & Ford, garage keepers on Fordy-seventh street.

JUST LIKE THAT.

Sir: While gazing at a window display of the amount of food required to feed one soldier for one year, I heard a motherly soul say, "They don't allow them any pepper." One of Italy's daughters, leaning on a strapping doughboy's arm, lovingly looked him in the face and exclaimed, "They no needa the pep. They from our Unite States." O. B. W.

"LET us say that a man is going to New York. A woman sells him a ticket. To the price of his fare she must add the war tax. Then if he is traveling in a Pullman he must pay for the privilege at the rate of one-half cent a mile, plus a second war tax. Next, there is the actual cost of the Pullman ticket, plus a third war tax. Finally, if he be taking a fast train, there is the excess fare, plus the fourth war tax. The woman has eight separate things to figure out accurately, and quickly, too—if the man is to catch his train."—Dorothy Jefferson.

It would be quicker and simpler to arrest the man and send him to the rockpile.

Add Trade Jargon.

"All horses must be sound, good eyes, good wind, no side bones, no trace of a curb. They must not be calf kneed, nigger heeled nor coon footed. They must trot square, have good short backs, be in fair flesh and represent a useful horse."

PROPER GRATITUDE.

Sir: "Do you mind my smoking this cigar?" I asked my seatmate atop the bus. He savored the smoke that was blowing in his face and said, "No; on the contrary, I'm glad it's you." OLD HARRY.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

SOME WAR DISEASES—RAT BITE FEVER, SHELL SHOCK AND WAR OEDEMA.

WE ARE hearing more of rat bite fever than we formerly did for two reasons. The organism which causes the disease had been discovered recently and the soldiers in the trenches are thrown more closely in contact with rats than any other group of millions of men have ever been.

In rat bites fever the fever lasts for about five days. It then goes off and stays off for about a week. It then recurs and lasts about five days. This coming and going of the fever may continue for several months. The lymph glands near the bite may swell, but they do not suppurate. The disease is caused by a spirochaeta belonging to the same family as that which causes war jaundice.

Many cases of rat bite have been reported from different sections of the United States. More cases are reported from Japan than from any other country.

Shell shock is a case of "nerves." Some writers hold it to be a form of hysteria. It occurs especially in men who have been subjected to prolonged intense bombardment. Rest far from the scene of battle and everything associated with it is the cure.

Recently Dr. Park of Toronto reached home after spending nearly two years in German prisons. He spent thirteen months as physician to his fellow prisoners in the large prison camp at Menden. During this time thousands of prisoners passed through this camp. Dr. Park saw 400 cases of well marked war oedema.

There was more of it among the Russian and Roumanian prisoners. The British, French, and Italians managed to get a good deal of food to the prisoners from their lands, but the Russians and Roumanians were compelled to subsist on the food furnished by their captors. The diet was poorest in 1917 and the disease was then at its worst. The prison diet furnished by the Germans is very low in protein and almost free from fat. It is given almost wholly in the form of soup.

War oedema is a form of dropsy resulting from starvation. Autopsies on the bodies of men dead from war oedema showed that all body fat had been used up. The disease could be cured quickly when the diet became ample. Bad cases of war oedema would quickly recover when put on an ample diet, even though they were kept at work. War oedema, therefore, is merely another name for starvation dropsy.

The disease starts as a slight swelling of the legs and feet. In time the dropsy becomes general and very pronounced. The urine never contained albumin or casts. There was no heart disease. Emaciation, dropsy, weakness, and, in some cases, diarrhoea were the only symptoms.

The great cause was a lack of fat in the diet. The way to prevent it is to feed a diet rich enough in fats.

FLAT FEET.

E. E. L. writes: "Will you please answer the following questions pertaining to weak arches and flat feet, as I want to build up my feet so I can enlist in some branch of the service?

1. Does strapping the feet and the wearing of arch supports give permanent or just temporary relief?
2. Does toe exercising help to strengthen or raise the arch?
3. Is dancing harmful to weak arches?
4. Can a person with flat feet ever hope to have good arches again? How?

REPLY.

1. Temporary.
2. Yes.
3. No.
4. Yes. By following the directions for exercising the toes given twice in this column and repeatedly elsewhere.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Y. E. writes: "I have received word from Peru that a member of my family has one arm paralyzed through infantile paralysis. 1. What should be done to guard against this sickness? 2. Should paralyzed arms or legs be massaged? 3. Is there a hospital in New York in which this illness is cured?"

REPLY.

1. When infantile paralysis is around the children should be kept close at home. They should be kept away from other children and especially away from people who have been in contact with cases of the disease, away from dogs and cats and other pets, should be protected against flies, should not eat any raw food—fruit and milk especially.

2. The paralyzed limbs should be rested until they can be exercised without causing fatigue or pain. Then massage and exercise should be begun. Electricity is not of much service. Exercising must not be overdone. Patience and persistence are required.

3. It has been two years since New York's great epidemic. No hospital is used principally for the care of patients with this disease. Mt. Sinai and Hospital for the Care of the Crippled both care for cases. Most every city has an orthopedic hospital or an orthopedic ward in which those crippled by infantile paralysis are cared for.

NOT BAR TO SERVICE.

W. F. H. writes: Can a young man of 19, who has a venereal disease, pass the medical examination for the United States or Canadian army?

REPLY.

Venereal disease is not a cause for rejection. If accepted you will be sent to hospital for cure.

GOITER TREATMENT.

Mrs. W. J.: "A woman in whom I am deeply concerned has a goiter on her neck. It has been bothering her for some time. She went to two specialists on that disease and they told her frankly she would die under the operation. Now, what do you think about baked sponges for her? Also tell me how they are prepared.

REPLY.

The sponge-ash treatment of goiter is merely a crude form of the iodine treatment. Persons who take it take the ashes of a small sponge as a daily dose. If the lady is too far advanced with goiter for operation I suggest that you have your physician try the x-ray treatment, or some of the thyroid serumas so-called, or the iodine treatment. Do not waste time on the sponge-ash method. It is too hit or miss.

FORM OF NIGHTMARE.

F. J. C. writes: "Can you tell me why an apparently perfectly healthy child wakens with a sudden cry and kicking in the night? The child is 3 years old, strong, and large—a girl."

REPLY.

This symptom is close kin to nightmare in adults. The most frequent cause is digestive trouble. Have the child eat a very light supper—nothing more than bread and milk or rice with a little fruit. After supper keep her quiet until bedtime. Have her sleep in a well ventilated room and in a comfortable bed. Another cause is too much play and too much excitement generally.

ASQUITH BACKS WILSON PLAN OF PEACE LEAGUE

LONDON, July 11.—Sincere praise of President Wilson's leadership in the war and his advocacy of a league of nations after the war was given by Herbert H. Asquith, the former premier, in an address last night at the National Liberal club. The occasion was a "hospitality dinner to American officers," at which 500 prominent Englishmen were hosts. The dinner resolved itself into a meeting of ovation for the president.

Vice Admiral Sims, commander of the American naval forces in the war zone, paid tribute to the coöperation of the British and American navies and declared:

"The submarine menace is now at an end, for we are destroying them faster than the Germans can build them."

Maj. Gen. Biddle, commander of the American forces in England, evoked long cheers when he announced that American troops were stationed at from seventy to eighty different points in England and Scotland.

Former Premier Asquith, in the course of a speech urging the importance of President Wilson's idea of a league of nations as "the most urgent of all peace problems," said:

"The United States as a nation has had the very good fortunes that in the supreme crisis of her national history the man whom she most needed for inspiration and guidance has always appeared. Thus came Washington and Lincoln. Washington and Lincoln are illustrious names which have passed into history.

"We must not attempt to anticipate history's judgment upon men still living, but I will venture to say that President Wilson has been the head of American government in times no less trying than any in its annals.

"President Wilson has taken the greatest decision of our age and has carried his people with him in it. Moreover, he has laid before the world the grounds for his decision, the reasons which justified and compelled it and the spirit in which it was adopted. He has done this in state papers which are worthy to live side by side with the most inspiring utterances of his most famous predecessors.

"It is one thing to embrace a good cause. It is another to push it to a victorious issue. If a nation is to hold its own on the battlefield these days it must be equipped on the sea and land with the strongest battalions, the best and fastest ships, adequate organization of transport and supply, and even with a superiority in all the manifold mechanical devices for aggression and defense which the hellish ingenuity of modern warfare has devised."

U. S. TO SCHOOL MAIMED SOLDIERS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—Delegates from the state boards to the conference called by Dr. C. A. Prosser, director of the federal board for vocational education, voted unanimously at the opening session this afternoon to take no action within their states toward the reëducation for civil life of disabled soldiers or sailors except in response to requests from the federal board and in coöperation with its plans.

The resolution followed Dr. Prosser's explanation of the provisions of the Smith-Sears act under which all expenses in connection with the training of the men and the maintenance of their dependents as well as themselves would be met by the government until the men themselves are once more qualified as wage earners.

One of the difficulties with which the board already had been called on to deal, Dr. Prosser said, was the desire of societies and individuals to have the training of the men carried on in their own states, sometimes in their own communities. Wherever the conditions warranted this would be done.

Frequently, however, a man would desire to take up a trade which he could be taught far more efficiently elsewhere than in his own home, and the federal board, which had been charged by congress with the administration of the act, must reserve the right to judge.

"Each man's case must be handled directly and individually," Dr. Prosser said. "The object of the board is to help each man to do the thing he wants to do. And even in the matter of teaching the preferences of the men must be considered. I never saw more earnest students than the returned soldiers of Canada. But they have their peculiarities. They can't be taught, for instance, by men under 31. They have little use for men under 31 who are not in uniform, and they do not have any very deep respect for a man in uniform who has not by this time been over there. That is one of the things to be considered in our selection of teachers."

E. A. Wreidt of Springfield, state superintendent of industrial education for Illinois, and J. G. Collicott of Indianapolis, E. M. Phillips of St. Paul, and John Callahan of Madison, directors of vocational education in Indiana, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, were among the delegates from the middle west to the conference, which will be in session throughout the week.

HOW WOMAN SOLVES THE WAR CLOTHES PROBLEM

[From the London Daily Mirror.]

Woman, ever more practical than man, is meeting the war shortage of materials by wearing an amount of stuff that contrasts surprisingly with the heavy adornments of her grandmother.

The FRIEND of the SOLDIER

The object of this department, to be run from time to time as required, is to help the families and relatives of men in the military and naval service.

It will answer questions about pay allotments, war risk insurance, government allowances, and disability compensation.

It will tell the facts about leases, installment, and other contracts, made by soldiers and sailors.

The Friend of the Soldier will coöperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1307 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar Association on Legal Assistance to Soldiers and Sailors, 105 West Monroe street.

Address inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune." Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. To insure a personal reply an addressed and stamped envelope should be inclosed.

DON'T CROSS THE BRIDGE, ETC.

Chicago, July 9.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—What classification would a widower (within the draft age limit, should this be increased) having one child, a boy of 16, be likely to receive in case he is accepted? The boy still attends school and if his father were gone would have no one to take care of him. At what age does a boy become independent of a parent or guardian? P. B. L.

No one can tell until the regulations are issued covering such classification, and then the local board will give you the ruling.

In the state of Illinois a boy reaches his majority at the age of 21.

PERMITTED CLASS ONLY.

Chicago, July 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—My brother, a soldier, is insured for $5,000, which amount is to be paid to me in the event of his death. Can this money be paid to my wife in case of my death, automatically, or is it necessary to go to any legal proceedings to make her the beneficiary? F. T. L.

In the event of your death the enlisted man may designate another beneficiary, and if he should die without designating another beneficiary, the insurance will be payable to such person or persons within the permitted class of beneficiaries as would, under the laws of the state of the residence of the insured, be entitled to his personal property in case of intestacy.

A sister-in-law is not within the permitted class.

POSTOFFICE WORK.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 8.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I have a friend who works in the postoffice. Could he enlist to do some postoffice work in the army either here or in France? P. D. W.

Enlistment must be made in some regular organization, such as infantry, field artillery, etc. When the soldier reaches France he may be assigned to postoffice work. In America the postal departments handle the mails until they reach the camps. There it is distributed by soldiers who are detailed to do that work, whether or not they have had previous experience in this line of work.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS.

Great Lakes, Ill., July 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Is there a society called the "Soldiers of Foreign Wars?" If so, can you give me the address? JACKIE.

There is a society called the "Veterans of Foreign Wars of U. S." Address, Minneapolis, Minn.

CANNOT ENLIST.

Chicago, July 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I am 21 years old, registered on June 5. Can I enlist in some branch of the army, or will the fact that I have one phalange of one finger off bar me? C. O. C.

You cannot enlist in any branch of service since you are a draft registrant. The loss of one phalange will not bar you from the army.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

As but limited space can be given letters in this department, writers must confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Unless they give us their full names and addresses their letters will not be considered. No manuscript will be returned unless the writer sends postage for that purpose.

DANGEROUS OPTIMISM.

Barry, Ill., July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Dear Sir: From a rather extensive observation I am convinced that the average American believes the war will soon be over. This belief is almost a national frame of mind. And so far as I can see there is practically no effort being made by newspapers to discourage this belief.

This belief is encouraged, I think, by the deceptive press censorship, which has kept us in partial darkness all the time, and by the manifest purpose of newspapers to encourage their readers by magnifying our success and minimizing our reverses. It is also encouraged by the general belief that we can lick all creation with one hand tied behind us.

There can be no doubt that the present mental attitude of the country is that it is all over but the shouting. It is hard to sell stamps or bonds and the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. have to beg for all they get. But we are buying hundreds of thousands of pleasure automobiles and making a Coney Island out of every burg with our war profits.

I think it is about time to stop bragging all over the whole front page of the paper whenever our boys capture fifteen Germans and to tell the people to strip for a real war that may last for years.

Germany is now surrounded by a complete ring of victories and is fighting on foreign soil all the way around. She has completely subdued a number of her enemies and is now using them for her war helpers. It is better than an even bet that Russia will be her military ally in a year from now. Russia is already her economic ally. There is no probability of a political disintegration of Germany, nor that Germany is going to be starved into submission. To "win the war" Germany must be whipped as Gen. Lee was whipped and as somebody has always been whipped in the great wars of the past. We cannot do this with a Fourth of July speech and a burch of firecrackers, and we ought not to wait for another Bull Run to bring us to our senses. We ought to be told the plain truth. We have spent enough time in justifying our entrance into the war. If we think we are in a proper frame of mind for what is coming to us we are mistaken.

TRYING MAJ. FUNKHOUSER.

Chicago, July 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I want to say "Amen" in good Methodist fashion to the editorial on "Mr. Alcock and Maj. Funkhouser," especially the statement that "Mr. Alcock is laying the wires or greasing the skids for his own exit from office." The complete fizzling out of the forty-one varieties of trivial and foolish charges, hatched up after weeks of investigation of Mr. Funkhouser's record, reveals two things: 1. That Maj. Funkhouser is a clean man, just the kind the people of Chicago thought him to be. 2. That Mr. Alcock is wholly unfit for the job he holds. Now if Mr. Alcock shows the surprisingly good sense to step on to the skid, it will relieve the people of the necessity of asking for his removal.

THE BOULEVARD LINK.

Chicago, July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Mr. Michael Faherty, chairman of the board of local improvements, recently asked for an expression of opinion on the part of property owners contiguous to the new boulevard link as to their willingness to stand for a large supplemental tax in order to complete the project under a wartime condition of high costs of both labor and material.

One can easily imagine that high costs have lost all terror for Mr. Faherty when one contemplates the fact that over $700,000 was expended for professional services, legal and otherwise, which included a small item of $15,000 to Mr. Faherty's son, before a pick was raised in the actual work of construction.

The present special assessment was ordered spread in five annual installments, which meant, according to custom and common sense, five equal installments. But, urged perhaps by a great desire to show up the present city administration in the light of a builder of splendid civic monuments, the figures on each property owner's assessment were juggled in such a way that almost the entire assessment had to be paid in the first installment, the other four being made nominal.

This is one sufficient reason against a supplemental assessment, but there are others, chief among which is the fairly well established fact that war is the big, all absorbing business of this country today. Incidental to this colossal effort come the necessary Liberty bonds, thrift stamps, income tax, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., and K. of C. funds to be taken care of, as well as our old friend, the H. C. of L., who is always the skeleton at the feast.

If the great and good man who presides over our municipal government would whisper in the ear of his servant Michael a kindly invitation to warm the bench for the few remaining innings of the game, perhaps his political future would not appear so gloomy.

VINCENT C. MOONEY.

HOYNE TO START 30,000 SUITS TO OBEY NEW LAW

Dissolution of Corporations Failing to File Reports Sought.

Thirty thousand suits, enough to clog the records of the Cook county courts for years to come, are about to be filed through coöperation of Attorney General Brundage and State's Attorney Hoyne.

They are the outgrowth of legislation passed by the last general assembly, aimed to make the enforcement of the "blue sky" law an easier matter. Since 1901 more than 100,000 domestic corporations have been organized in Illinois. All are listed on the books of the secretary of state at Springfield, and according to the law are compelled to make annual reports to this official. More than 90,000 of the corporations failed to make these reports.

Ouster Suits Authorized.

To clear the swamped files of the secretary of state a law was passed by the general assembly to enable the dissolution of these corporations by the institution of ouster suits by the state's attorneys of the various counties.

Of the 90,000 corporations affected by this law more than 30,000 are located in Cook county.

A 700 pound registered express box, containing evidence against these corporations, was consigned to State's Attorney Hoyne yesterday by Attorney General Brundage from Springfield.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the attorney general called up Mr. Hoyne and told him that the box was on the way. He also informed Mr. Hoyne of the necessity of instituting the suits. Mr. Hoyne replied that he would comply with the law.

Many Political Clubs.

Of the 30,000 corporations which will be sued in Cook county many are political clubs, incorporated to prevent the use by other organizations of a distinctive name, some thousands are "pleasure" and "social" clubs, long ago defunct, and others are "blue sky" companies.

The proceedings against the defunct organizations will be mere formalities, but it is really to deal with the "blue sky" companies that the suits will be started.

A conference will be held today between Mr. Hoyne and the representatives of the attorney general to discover some way of expediting the disposal of the cases. It is expected in most cases they may be settled by a confession of judgment of ouster by the original holders of the incorporation papers, but even this will take some time.

Food Administration Issues Fish Price List

As an aid to its campaign to reduce the consumption of beef, the food administration has sent out a list of fish which will be on sale today. The maximum price per pound which retail dealers have to pay for fresh fish follow:

Whitefish	21c	Carp	11c
Lake trout	20c	Mullets	12c
Pike	22c	Large herring	11c
Pickerel	14c	Small herring	8c
Large perch	17c	Ciscoes	15c
Small perch	12c	Halibut	23c
Buffalo	16c	Salmon	24c
Sheepshead	10c

Herring, it is pointed out, are especially low priced.

MULVIHILL SAYS HE'LL WIPE OUT THOSE DEFICITS

William F. Mulvihill, assistant corporation counsel, who has been retained by the "solid six" of the board of education to uncover concealed personal property for taxation on a 30 per cent commission basis, is the financial Moses who is going to lead the school board and the city out of the desert of deficits in which both are stranded.

Mr. Mulvihill made admission to this fact yesterday and he added that he had no fear of the legality of being stopped by Assistant State's Attorney Charles Center Case Jr. Mr. Case holds that the school board is not a taxing body within the meaning of the law, and therefore has no right to employ counsel to collect any sort of taxes, omitted, concealed, delinquent or otherwise.

Mr. Mulvihill also scouted the opinion of a mere layman that Mr. Mulvihill's own boss, Corporation Counsel Ettelson, had recently rendered an opinion which seemed to make Mr. Mulvihill's new position of tax ferret untenable. Mr. Ettelson held a few weeks ago that a corporate body could not employ outside counsel when the statute provided specifically for the employment of a permanent legal staff. This opinion was given to prevent the city council from employing Attorney Donald R. Richberg as a special counsel to handle the gas controversy in the courts.

"I am not ready to say how much concealed personal property I shall find, but it will be sufficient for the taxes on it to take care of these deficits, so that we shan't need any increase in the tax rate and we won't have to cry for help to the business men of the city.

"We have been digging already, and I can start some thirty or forty cases at once. I shall not start, however, until I put my proposition up to the city council next Monday and get the council's order to get at this property in behalf of the city."

DEMOCRATIC EYE FOR SPOILS SEEN IN FORD SUPPORT

Detroit Bosses Hope to Get Federal Patronage by G. O. P. Downfall.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Ludington, Mich., July 11.—[Special.]—The tin horse is what the Democratic politicians are playing to win the senatorship race. Conversely, the "Lizzie" is what the Republican leaders most fear about the candidacy of Henry Ford for the G. O. P. nomination for senator under Democratic auspices. The country vote has them all guessing.

From all indications, however, the men who ride in them are not perceptibly agitated, just now at least, over the entry of the flivver king. Evidence is quite plentiful that the farmers have their minds on other things than the jitney. On the street corners of the lake shore ports one hears them talking dispassionately of the real issues.

Looks Like Job Grabbing.

The impression one gains along the lake shore in Grand Haven, Muskegon, Pentwater, and Ludington is that while President Wilson is strong among the people, who are giving intense support to the war policies, the Democratic machine of Detroit and the "vote swappers' league" are being roundly criticised for the Ford frame-up. The resentment over political interference by the Democratic politicians is by no means confined to local Republican leaders. One hears it on all sides, in the stores, on the sidewalks, on the trolley, at the gasoline stations.

Four times out of five the man you stop at random on the street and ask how the old ship of state is headed comes back with the comment, "The Detroit Democratic bosses are trying to runthe Republican party and send it to the junk pile." The argument is being widely circulated that the Democrats have their good eye on th federal patronage and that if they can control the Republican party this time they hope to cut in stronger on the county offices later on. The more one studies the Democratic play the more it looks like a job grabbing proposition.

Wherever the seeker for truth travels along this stretch of shore line he hears from the Republicans that President Wilson's "Okeh-ing" of the Ford "coup" is having a reflex action upon the president's popularity. There is little open talk on this, but there seems to be quite a strong under current.

Some Look to Roosevelt.

Everywhere, too, one hears that Roosevelt is stronger in Michigan today than he was even in 1912, when he carried the state. One gets this from standpats and progressives alike. Just now the Republicans are wondering whether T. R. will come into the state before Aug. 27, which is primary day.

"If Roosevelt will only hit the trail," remarked a Grand Haven hardshell, "he'll run the 'tin lis' out of gas."

"Ford will not win," said Samuel Odell of Shelby, Oceana county, state treasurer, former state senator and representative. "I know how the farmers are talking and thinking. They have brains, and they know how to use them, and they are considering the real issues. As a great industrial captain Ford is admired, but as a candidate for senator he is simply being used as a stalking horse by the Democratic machine at Detroit, and the Republicans resent this interference."

POLITICS WAITS WHILE HARRISON SEES SON LEAVE

Ex-Mayor at Atlantic Port to Bid Flyer Farewell.

Carter H. Harrison is at an Atlantic port to bid his son good-by before he starts for service in France. Meantime, Mr. Harrison has sent word back to Chicago that "politics is adjourned" so far as he is concerned, and that his first duty is to his boy.

Mr. Harrison may return to Chicago any day. The latest advice from him, received by his friends, was that he would get here about Sunday. Senator Lewis, it was understood from Washington, departed from the capital yesterday noon. This would bring him to Chicago this morning.

Dunne Expected to Run.

Expectation seemed to be strengthened among the anti-Sullivan leaders yesterday that former Gov. Dunne will become the candidate for County judge in the Democratic primaries against Judge Thomas F. Scully. The talk was that nothing will be decided definitely with respect to the makeup of the anti-Sullivan slate until there is a showdown conference between State's Attorney Hoyne, former Gov. Dunne, former Mayor Harrison, and Senator Lewis. Apparently these constitute the "big four" that can sit in and determine what is to be tried out.

It is now known that Senator Lewis' petition for renomination will be filed at Springfield, probably tomorrow, and that a formal declaration of his candidacy may be expected from him, promptly upon his arrival today in Chicago. There is to be no organization opposition to him. James O. Monroe, who was private secretary to Harry Woods as secretary of state, has his petition ready and will file it tomorrow. He has been campaigning for the nomination for six months.

Everything now centers, politically, upon the filing of the primary petitions for state, congressional, legislative and county offices, set by the direct primary act for tomorrow. Petitions for the first three sets of offices will be filed with Secretary of State Emmerson at Springfield and the county petitions will be filed with County Clerk Sweitzer at the County building. Both officials have announced that the petitions sent in by mail tonight and received on the early delivery tomorrow morning are the first to be considered.

Candidates for Congress.

Carl R. Chindblom has been named as the candidate of the Republican regulars for the nomination for congress in the Tenth district, to succeed George E. Foss. Harry Atwood will file as a candidate in the Third district against Congressman Wilson. The regulars in the Seventh district will file a petition for William H. Malone, as against Congressman Niels Juul. The city hall will file for former Alderman M. A. Michaelson.

The Ninth district Republican situation remains unsettled. The report last night was that Fletcher Dobyns may file as a candidate against Congressman Britten in the Republican primaries.

MARRIED COUPLE SUE MOIR HOTEL CO. FOR $25,000

Harriet Presser Smiley and Cassius C. Smiley, husband and wife, each filed a præcipe in a suit for $25,000 yesterday in United States court against the Moir Hotel company. Mr. Smiley holds a responsible position with the Diamond Match company, in Indianapolis, and Mrs. Smiley is proprietor of a millinery concern known as "Smiley-Wise, Artistic Millinery," according to their representatives here.

The suit was filed by Attorneys E. C. Tourje and David Stansbury, 742 Continental and Commercial Bank building. They refused to discuss the case last night. The Moir Hotel company owns the Morrison hotel. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smiley had returned to Indianapolis last night.

Further than that they had recently been guests at the Morrison little could be learned of the matter.

Don't Try to Break the Record With Your Gillette Blade

THERE are times perhaps when a man might compete with himself on the basis of a mistaken and shortsighted economy. He might try to see how many times he could go without changing his collar. Or how many lights he could get from a match without burning himself.

Isn't it odd how a man will sometimes try to beat the game—even when he has to rob himself of something in order to do it!

What is it that makes some men hang on to a Gillette Blade as though they were trying to break a long distance record with it?

It isn't because they care so much about the price of a new blade. They would throw that much away on a tip or a drink.

REALLY, the chief reason for the use of the Gillette is the marvelous quality of the blades. With two edges to a blade—each good for at least 2 or 3 shaves—the cost per shave is too small to be considered.

The reason you keep repeating with your old blade is that some time or other you happened to get more shaves out of a blade than you have a right to expect, and you sort of keep trying to break the record.

This isn't fair to you and it isn't fair to your Gillette. The Gillette offers you the greatest shaving service in the world, but it should not be abused.

It takes only a fraction of a minute to slip a new blade out of its envelope and rip off the sterilized wax paper that protects it and keeps it sanitary and safe.

Thousands of Gillette users make a regular habit of changing blades every so often—Sunday mornings perhaps, or maybe twice a week, depending on each man's individual shaving needs and character of beard.

It's an efficient habit to get into—it means 100 per cent. Gillette Service all the time.

NOW turn over a new leaf. Quit cheating yourself. Give the Gillette a chance, and it'll give you day after day the Gillette results—the velvet-smooth Gillette Shave—in record time.

You may have the tender "indoor" skin of an office man, or be wind-bitten and chapped from the big outdoors—be fair to the Gillette and it will give you the finest shave in the world.

If there is a man living who doesn't find the Gillette shave the best shave and the Gillette razor the best razor, it is because he hasn't yet caught the simple knack of using it.

Try this tomorrow morning. You will see what you've missed.

Hold the razor naturally and easily, and tilt the handle so you can just feel the blade engage the beard.

(Here's where some men make a mistake. They tilt the handle up or down too much and make a scraper of a Gillette, instead of a razor.)

Keep the edge of the blade as nearly flat against the skin as you possibly can. Then shave with short, slanting strokes.

Most men get the best results by screwing the blade tight down to the guard. But if you want an extra-close shave, just unscrew the handle a part turn, to loosen the edge a trifle.

AND remember: The Gillette is the real sanitary shave. The Gillette Blades are wrapped in waxed sterilized paper.

This protects them from every contaminating influence, and insures a clean shave.

When you add comfort, safety, cleanliness and service together you've got Gillette. No Stropping—No Honing.

The Meaning of Gillette Service

The Gillette Service Experts and all Gillette dealers want to be of service to every Gillette user in town.

They will show you that little knack of the Gillette Shave—how to prepare the face for shaving; the correct angle stroke; the adjustment for a light or a close shave.

Bring in your Gillette, have it looked over. It may be damaged, bent, out of alignment—They may make some valuable suggestions or put your razor in shape free of charge.

Try this when you shave tomorrow morning.

Lather the beard thoroughly, and rub well in—that's essential with any shave.

Put in a new blade and screw the handle down tight. Then if you want a specially close shave, unscrew the handle a part turn. Hold the razor naturally and easily, and tilt the handle so you can just feel the blade engage the beard.

(Here's where some men make a mistake. They tilt the handle up or down too much and make a scraper of a Gillette instead of a razor.)

Then shave with short, slanting strokes. It doesn't require any brute force to shave with a Gillette—the razor does the work.

Keep the edge of the blade as nearly flat against the skin as you can. Any man will catch the knack of using his Gillette in one or two shaves so he won't feel the slightest pull. In fact, when the Gillette is properly used the beard slips off without your knowing it.

The all-important thing is to lather well, and to hold the razor easily, with the handle tilted so the blade just engages the beard.

HELPLESS SOX MAKE 4 TO 0 VICTORY EASY FOR BOSTON

KICK IN THREE OF RUNS THAT BEAT CICOTTE

Bad Breaks Wreck Chance to Lick Mays in Ninth.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Boston, Mass., July 11.—[Special.]—Boston's galloping Red Sox made four runs on the Champion White Sox today, but deserved only one. However, had they made only what they deserved, it would have been sufficient to down the struggling Chicagoans, for the final count was 4 to 0.

Even with the mighty Babe Ruth figuring only slightly in the result and with Stuffy McInnis out of the game, the Red Sox had no trouble whatever in beating Rowland's battle worn troops in spite of the fact that Eddie Cicotte was on the slab and apparently hurling in splendid style.

Hit Cicotte for Nine Blows.

The Boston shock troops pounded Eddie for a total of nine blows, but he kept them spread out well enough to have limited the gang to one tally if his mates hadn't erred behind him. Three blunders were turned out and every one figured in the scoring.

That fact and some bad luck in a ninth inning rally completely destroyed the Sox's chances. They couldn't do much of anything with the underhand hurling of Mays until the ninth. Then they began a gallant assault that might have caused quite a stir in spite of the four run lead had not two bits of ill luck taken place along with the rally.

Even the Ump's Agin Us.

Eddie Murphy was first up in the last assault and opened with a slow bounder to Shean. Eddie went to first at his merriest clip, which means he was there in a jiffy, and all the scorers started to mark down a base hit, but Ump Hildebrand called him out.

Liebold and Eddie Collins followed with driving singles and Gandil was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Willson was sent out to run for Gandil and John Collins went to bat. He connected for a drive down first base way, a low liner.

Ruth Makes Double Play.

Willson started for second, then stopped, for it looked as if Ruth might grab the ball on the fly. There was no way of telling what to do. As it turned out, Ruth knocked the ball down, then grabbed it, and found Willson right in front of him. He tagged the recruit, then slid into first base just ahead of J. Collins for a double play, and the game was over.

For five rounds Cicotte and Mays were even, but in the sixth Shean opened with an infield single to E. Collins and reached second on the latter's bad throw, from where he scored on Strunk's safe poke to right.

Two More in Seventh.

In the seventh, with two out, Stansbury singled, took third on Whiteman's single, and scored on Mays' tap in front of the plate. Hooper beat out a bunt and Whiteman scored all the way from second when McMullin's low heave to first got away from Gandil.

The last run came in the eighth. Ruth doubled, moved to third on Schang's out, stayed at third when Scott popped out, but counted when Stansbury reached first on Weaver's low throw.

Between yesterday's victories the Cubs presented Pater Jim (Hippo) Vaughn with an up to date perambulator "for Little Hippo." Gunner's Mate Maranville of the Boston Braves made the presentation speech and wished the proud parent "many happy returns of the day." Big Hippo trundled the present from the home plate to the bench as proudly as if he had just won the final game of a world's series.

NOTES

Boston, Mass., July 11.—[Special.]—Three more games are to be played here and it looks as if the Sox will have to fight like all get out to win anything.

Ruth has become such a favorite the fans declare they wouldn't trade him for Sisler or Cobb or any of the stars.

Boston fans are turning out well these days. There were about 4,500 present following a big daily attendance during the series with Cleveland.

Three local youngsters with baseball aspirations were looked over by Manager Rowland. One was a catcher and two were pitchers. They were tried out during the batting practice.

Manager Barrow of the Red Sox wears part uniform and part street clothes while on the job. He appears in a baseball shirt, street pants, tennis shoes, and a golf cap.

Ray Schalk probably will be out of the entire Boston series and possibly longer, having a nail badly torn loose on his throwing hand. Jacobs is the only catcher on the squad.

McInnis is laid up with boils on his neck, but is liable to return to the game any day now. Just so long as Ruth does not get hurt, Boston will not worry.

Babe Ruth, the trip hammer tripler of the Red Sox, confined his swatting today to three two baggers and one strikeout. Every blow was down the left foul line, with the boys just laying for him to pull the ball the other way.

Brewer, Coach of M. A. C., Signs for Job in Army

East Lansing, Mich., July 11.—Chester L. Brewer, athletic director of Michigan Agricultural college, has signed for special service in the war department. He left yesterday for a tour of inspection of western and southern training camps, where he will assist in the organization and supervision of recreation work.

BIG CROWD SEES FAVORITES LOSE IN AURORA TROTS

Aurora, Ill., July 11.—[Special.]—One of the greatest crowds that ever saw horse races at Aurora was out today, when the starter sent the first field away in the 2:09 pace.

If the crowd was large, it was rather poor at guessing. Not a first choice went over. In the first two days the talent was down on five of the six winners. Lillian T., 2:02¾, the Chicago mare which tied the world's record for a half mile track in Chicago, went after the Aurora track record of 2:05, although a high wind blew up the homestretch. She made the distance in 2:05½. Summaries:

Kansas City Golfers Win in Missouri Tourney

Excelsior Springs, Mo., July 11.—Eleven of sixteen winners in first round matches of the Missouri state golf tournament were from Kansas City. St. Louis, Springfield, St. Joseph, and Excelsior Springs furnished the other victors.

One surprise was the defeat of E. C. Sullivan of St. Louis by W. A. R. Summers of Kansas City. Sullivan was runner-up in the qualifying play.

Billiard League Leaders Hold Meeting Here Today

Louis A. Servatius and James P. Allen, officials of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players, will meet the leading roomkeepers of Chicago at the Columbus Memorial building at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Plans for enlarging the scope of the association and establishing state championships will be discussed.

RED CROSS 'PROS' GO TO WHEELING FOR GOLF MATCH

Hutchinson and Evans Also Will Play Pittsburgh Before Return.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Champion Charles Evans Jr. of Edgewater and Jock Hutchinson, Glen View professional, left last night for Wheeling, W. Va., where, with Alec Cunningham and another player, they will play today in a Red Cross match. Chick stated the Pullman bunk would be the twenty-seventh different bed he had occupied in twenty-eight nights.

Evans, Hutchinson, Warren K. Wood, and Walter Hagen of Detroit will play at the Field club, Pittsburgh, tomorrow and return the same night to Chicago for the Red Cross event at Edgewater Sunday afternoon, when Evans and Hagen will oppose Hutchinson and MacDonald. This will be one of the biggest events of the year. The jackie band and Great Lakes sextet will give selections before and during the match.

Low Gross to Wilmarth.

S. A. Wilmarth had low gross in the Sunset tournament at Skokie yesterday with 81, Fred Hill getting the low net prize with 85—14—71. F. E. Compton, 85—14—71, and Allen G. Mills, 94—15—79, tied for the tenth low net prize.

At ten minutes past 9 last night J. N. Tuttle finished his round in the Sunset tournament at the Exmoor Country club with a card of 81—4—77. This tied the card of H. L. Glidden, who reported some time before with 84—7—77 and generally was conceded first prize. Bradford L. Eldredge was third with 81—2—79.

Mrs. Gavin's Tour Success.

Mrs. W. A. Gavin, Metropolitan champion, has been meeting with great success on her western Red Cross trip. At the Seattle Golf and Country club, where she played "Dixie" Flaeger, Pacific northwest champion, $2,000 was colelcted. Finding that many clubs had filled the Red Cross quota, Mrs. Gavin is playing a number of matches for the Drake section sanitaire founded by Miss Ethel Langdon Drake. The purpose of this association is to provide ambulances.

Mrs. Gavin has donated one ambulance herself and dedicated it to her brother, Capt. Dudley Ryder, who is a prisoner of war in Germany. After her exhibitions here she plans to go to France in November and drive an ambulance.

Matches in Elgin Sunday.

Players from the Chicago public parks golf clubs will leave for Elgin on Sunday at 7 o'clock in a special train over the Aurora and Elgin railroad, returning at 8 p. m. Teams from Elgin, Lincoln, Marquette, Garfield, and Jackson parks and the Austin Golf club will compete in the first series of inter-club events under the auspices of the Public Parks Golf association. Two blind bogey events will be carded in the afternoon.

Women Reach Semi-Finals in Missouri Golf Tourney

Kansas City, Mo., July 11.—Mrs. N. P. Rood of Bellerieve club, St. Louis, the only out of town player remaining in the Missouri state golf tournament for women, reached the semi-finals by defeating Mrs. E. R. Morrison of Kansas City in the third round, 4 and 3. Other winners were Miss Carolyn Lee, Miss Gladys Cranston, and Mrs. P. C. Barbee, all of Kansas City.

"Y" TRAINER WOUNDED IN FRANCE.

WOODS AND WATERS BY LARRY ST. JOHN

ANGLERS' EXCHANGE.

BROWN'S LAKE, Wis.—One of the nicest little lakes in southern Wisconsin is Brown's lake, situated two miles from Burlington. This town is seventy-two miles from Chicago and is reached by both the C. M. & St. P. railway and the Soo line.

The lake is one and one-half miles in lengths and one mile wide at the widest part and is shaped somewhat like a three leaf clover. Small and large mouthed black bass, pickerel, blue gills, and perch are plentiful.

The best bass grounds can be fished by starting on the west shore, working the weed beds down past the lakeside and up to behind the island on the east shore, although there are other good spots scattered about the lake. The best pickerel hole is in the bay on the extreme north end of the lake. The water is eighty feet deep here and some big fellows are taken from this spot. The best blue gill and perch spot is the south and southeast shore some distance out from the bass grounds.

Motors from the hotel meet the trains regularly during the season and good boats are always obtainable, as are guides and bait. Motorists living in Chicago can reach this lake over good roads in a few hours and week enders will find it a good place to fish and loaf.—Contributed by Roy Moser.

FOR THE SOCCER PLAYERS.

Ald. Sheldon W. Govier of the Ninth ward has been elected president of the Peel cup commission. E. Rowley is vice president and W. R. Cummings secretary and treasurer. Ald. Govier has been a leading player for over twelve years.

The annual meeting of the Illinois State Football association will be held at the Great Northern hotel July 18 at 7:30 p. m. Former President Harry Fettes, who recently joined the army, is located at Camp Jackson, S. C. The state association has shipped him a foot-ball.

BARD TO PUT ON SPORTS PROGRAM AT RAVINIA PARK

Because of the interest taken by sailors and soldiers in the entertainment furnished free by the Ravinia club at north shore park, Ralph Bard, former Princeton athlete who is chairman of the athletic committee, has arranged an attractive program for tomorrow and Sunday.

The sports feature tomorrow will be a baseball game between teams representing the signal corps and armed guard of Great Lakes station. After the ball game there will be races of various kinds for men in uniform. These contests include sack races, three legged contests, and tugs of war.

On Sunday the Great Lakes band, under the leadership of Lieut. John Philip Sousa and consisting of 350 pieces, will give a concert. After the concert the usual athletic contests will be held with a ball game between two picked teams from sailors and soldiers.

CUBS CAPTURE TWO TOUGH BATTLES FROM BOSTON BRAVES

GO TEN ROUNDS TO LAND 4 TO 3 WIN IN OPENER

Second Easier, 3-2; Gain Lap and Half on the Giants.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

By winning two hard fought games from Boston's Braves yesterday the pacemaking Cubs gained a lap and a half on the defeated Giants, more than making up the ground they lost the day before. It required nineteen innings to accomplish the double licking, because the Braves would not succumb to a score of 4 to 3 in the first game until two were out in the tenth inning, and they came within one tally of knotting the second game, which resulted 3 to 2.

Three Cub hurlers were required to beat Art Nehf in the first encounter, but Manager Mitchell used up only three gunners to Stallings' two, because Phil Douglas, who finished the first game, volunteered to pitch the second and stuck it out in spite of some rough going near the finish.

Old Mates Rout Tyler.

George Tyler and Vic Aldridge preceded Douglas on the slab in the first game. Tyler was treated so shamefully by his former teammates that he was relieved in the third round after the Braves had counted twice with only one out. Aldridge took up the flinging then and went along until the last half of the eighth, then gave way to a hitless pincher and let Douglas bring home the bacon.

Phil himself started the attack that won the first game with a single out of which blossomed the essential tally. Douglas also contributed a neat and timely sacrifice to the manufacture of the run that won the second combat. Pat Ragan was his slab opponent in that affair and pitched a tough game to beat after a bad start in the first inning.

Mann Our Star in Opener.

Mann and Maranville were considerable factors in the first battle. Mann gave the Braves a run in the eighth inning by letting a base hit get away from him and score a runner from first. Then Les redeemed himself with a three base clout which tied up the score in the eighth with the aid of a boot by Maranville. Not satisfied with that, Mann came across with the final swat that drove home the winning counter in the tenth.

Mann also shared with Merkle and Paskert in the batting rally which scored two runs off Ragan in the first round of the second game. Zeider led the way to the run which averted defeat with a single in the fifth inning.

Double Play Stops Braves.

The Braves drove Tyler to cover in the third of the first game, when singles by Rawlings, Herzog, and Massey, with the aid of a hard luck throw to third by Flack, scored two men before anybody was out. Tyler struck out Wickland and gave way to Aldridge, who was yanked out of the hole by a double play on Smith's fly to Zeider.

The Cubs got back one of those runs in the fourth on a pass to Merkle, who stole second and scored on Deal's single. Neither side could score again until the eighth. With Wickland on first and two out Koney rapped a single to left and it went through Mann, letting Wickland score. Koney tried to complete the circuit, but was nipped at the pan by Paskert's relay of Mann's retrieving throw.

Flack's Run Decides Game.

In the home half, with one out, Flack tripled and scored on Hollocher's fly. Mann pulled a triple into the left corner of the lot and knotted the score himself when Maranville fumbled Merkle's bounder. Douglas held the Braves down in the ninth and tenth, then opened our tenth with a single. Flack forced him at second, but stole the base himself and scored on Mann's single after Hollocher whiffed.

The Cubs got away well in the second game. Flack was hit and forced out by Hollocher, but Mann, Merkle, and Paskert ripped off singles which were good for two runs. They made it three in the fifth on Zeider's single, a pass to Killefer, a sacrifice by Douglas, and Flack's infield out.

Two Runs for Boston.

The Braves transacted no business at all with Douglas for six rounds, but in the seventh singles by Massey, Wickland, and Koney made two runs with the aid of a sacrifice fly. Ragan and Rawlings singled with only one out in the eighth, but Douglas stopped their fun, making Herzog fly out and setting Massey down on three strikes.

BRAVES TO VISIT AT GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes, Ill., July 11.—[Special.]—Three members of the Boston Braves—Gunner's Mate "Rabbit" Maranville, Tom Hughes, and Pat Ragan—will motor to the naval station tomorrow morning to survey the 37,000 men in training. They will be accompanied by Matty Fitzpatrick and Scout Larry Hoffman.

The $40,000 athletic field here will have its unofficial opening Saturday, when the Romeos of Chicago engage the station team on the ball diamond. The field will not be dedicated until the running track is completed.

Perritt and McKechnie Get Draft Board Orders

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 11.—Pitcher Pol Perritt of the New York Giants has received a notice from his local draft board at Shreveport, La., to appear and show cause why he should not engage in essential employment. Third Baseman William McKechnie of the Pirates received a similar summons from his board here. Both will appeal.

Notes

Boston again today and tomorrow.

Don't forget to bring your registration cards hereafter.

Massey made four hits in the first game, but had to be content with one in the second. Those five on top of the three he made the day before helped his swat average considerably.

Rain around noontime kept some folks away and it drizzled through the first three innings of the opening game, but not enough to fuss up the program.

Deal spoiled a safe hit for Maranville in the sixth of the first game by knocking down a sizzler with one hand and recovering in time to nail the Rabbit at first.

The Cubs would have scored at least one more run in the first round of the second game if Red Smith had not stabbed a hot hit from Deal's bat with one hand, retiring the side with Cubs on third and first.

After the first inning of the second game the Cubs made only three scattered hits off Ragan, but what they did with those hits was enough to let Douglas cop, as the Braves made only two hits off him in the first six innings.

Ump Byron reversed Ump O'Day on a decision in the first game. Deal singled to left and scored Merkle from second in the fourth inning. Smith intercepted Koney's throw home and relayed to Herzog in time to nip Deal before he could get back to first. O'Day from near short field called Deal safe, but Byron from the plate could see that Deal was out and, on appeal, changed the verdict.

Massey overlooked a chance on bases in the seventh of the second game, but it didn't matter. He led with a single and raced to third on Wickland's hit to right. Flack's throw hit him and bounced away to the grand stand, but he stuck on third. Smith's fly scored him, however, and Wickland, who might have reached third on Flack's throw, scored in a minute on Koney's single.

HURLER MAYER'S BAT GIVES PIRATES GAME AGAINST GIANTS, 5-4

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 11.—New York lost to Pittsburgh, 5 to 4. In the ninth Pitcher Meyer's single to left sent Mollwitz across with the winning run. Meyer drove a triple to center in the fifth, scoring on Bigbee's sacrifice fly. Score:

Five Jackie Ball Clubs Play Games on Sunday

Five jackie ball teams will help entertain semi-pro fans Sunday. In the City league the hospital corps nine from Great Lakes is billed against the leading Aristos of the circuit, and the Third Regiment club from Great Lakes is scheduled at Alverno park. Garden City of the Chicago league has the first team of Great Lakes as its opponent. Logan Squares are booked to meet the Ensign school nine from the Municipal pier, and Normal Park has carded the Quartermasters' club from Great Lakes.

Coast League Will Hold "Quit or Play" Meeting

Los Angeles, Cal., July 11.—Whether the Pacific coast league will close its season at once, or continue playing its original schedule of games, is to be discussed at a meeting of directors to be held here Saturday. San Francisco club owners favor continuation of the season.

MYERS IS REINSTATED.

Cincinnati, O., July 11.—Player H. H. Myers, who was placed on the ineligible list of the Brooklyn club, was reinstated today by the national commission. Myers notified the commission that he regretted leaving the Brooklyn club without permission and desired to rejoin at once.

ENGRAVERS IN GAME SUNDAY.

Photo engravers of "The Tribune" will engage in a combat with photo engravers of the Herald-Examiner on a diamond in Grant park at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Bones Barrett and Pee-Wee Lynch will form the battery for "The Tribune" nine.

In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER

EDITORIAL.

WAKE UP, ARTHUR!

OBLIGED to wait in the barber shop the other day, we reluctantly read Mr. Henning's article on the taxation of so-called luxuries proposed by the treasury department for the purpose of filling the war chest and enforcing wartime thrift and economy, and it occurred to us there were several points in that indolent correspondent's dispatch which needed clearing up.

He stated there would be a high levy on more than one female household servant, but he neglected to state whether the one exemption included the Mrs. and whether the tax on the others should be paid by the abigail or the liege.

He stated the tax would be doubled on telegraph messages costing more than 15 cents, but he neglected to state whether messages costing less than that sum would be exempt and if so, where and the he—ll can you telegraph for a dime.

* *

He stated there would be a 50 per cent tax on the retail price of jewelry, including watches and clocks, except those sold to army officers, but he neglected to state whether it would be compatible, if, say, suppose you got down town and found you had left your clock in your nightgown pocket or you suddenly itched for a diamond horseshoe tiepin, to scrape an acquaintance with an indigent general and slip him a jitney or something to shop for you.

These and a great many other points were unexplained in Mr. Henning's article and it seems to us he ought to rewrite it and show he is at least trying down there.

MUSIC IN THE COURTS.

Court proceedings could, we believe, be made much more entertaining if accompanied by appropriate melodies. Might we not suggest that when the jackies' band is otherwise unemployed it visit Judge Pinckney's place of business and render that little ditty turned out some years ago by two cullud gemmen (MacPherson and Mack, wasn't it?), the chorus of which said in part:

"He's a cousin o' mine, jes' a cousin o' mine;
Yo' li'ble fo' to fin' him heah mos' any ol' time.
Jes' like a bee, yo' all de time a-buzzin'.
It ain't no hahm fo' to hug an' kiss yo' cousin."

ONLY A CHILD.

BY CHARLES MATHANAY.
(CAMP LOGAN BUGLER.)

Synopsis of the preceding installments: Mr. Mathanay goes to the home of his lady friend on a Sunday and after a while it's dinner time. Now go on with the story.

PART 2.

I noticed a vacant chair on the other side of the long table. Just then a girl not more than 17 years of age entered from the kitchen. "Mr. Mathaney," again Miss Halton called me, "this is my sister, Mary."

"Pleased to meet you, Miss Halton," I said as our hands met. Then she seated herself at the table. "May," exclaimed Mary, "is this the bugler of Camp Logan?" "Yes, that is him." The ladies were looking at each other, their lips took on the assemblance of smile. I was watching them both from my place.

"Mr. Mathaney, I have heard so much about you. My sister is always speaking of you quite often, and I have always wanted to meet you." I was yet smiling and looking squarely at them. "So you have always wished to meet me. Then this afternoon we have met face to face and hand in hand."

After dinner I again went back in the parlor and seated myself in the same chair, again I found the child upon my knee. Again he was amusing himself with my coat buttons. It was not long until Miss Halton again entered. She seated herself at the piano. "Mr. Mathanay, do you like piano music?" she asked and turned about to face me. "I enjoy most anything these days." I replied as our eyes seem to meet the others.

Then she turned about to face the piano. The child and I remained silent while her slender fingers played on the black and white keys of the keyboard. The child's head was resting against the hollow of my shoulder. After she had played us one piece she searched among a number of copies, then she placed another one on the piano. The title of this song was "Just a Baby's Prayer at Twilight."

For now this copy awakened my long sleeping memories of that back north. My ears were taking it all in word for word and note for note as her fingers trimbled over those keys. All afternoon the parlor rank with music, all afternoon the child sit in silence.

[The final installment of "Only a Child" will appear in Saturday's Wake.]

O'LEARY TO WALK AGAINST SON OF RIVAL IN 1863

A day in August will be a red letter occasion in the career of veteran pedestrian Dan O'Leary, when he will then take part in the strangest walk of his long life.

In Ireland in 1863 Dan walked an eight mile match, the distance between Clonakilty and Roscarberry, rival towns in the county of Cork. Dan was the champion of one and Pat O'Mahoney of the other.

There was great rivalry between people of the two towns, and the Clonakilties called their rival "the town with high steeple and poor and proud people." Dan was unbeatable in those days, but outfooted O'Mahoney by the close margin of only eight yards. On the day of Dan's victory a son was born to O'Mahoney.

The other day, right here in Chicago, whom should Dan run into but this son.

"My father died long ago," said young O'Mahoney, "but I'm still alive and I'd like you to give me a chance to win back the pound wager that you took from my father fifty-five years ago."

"Put up then," said Dan, and the match was made. "Young" O'Mahoney is now 55 and Dan is 77. "I'll beat him even easier than I beat his father," Dan said last night.

SIX KNOCKOUTS IN FORT BATTLES

Boxers of Company G at Fort Sheridan cleaned up the marine gun corps in the weekly show at the fort last night, winning eight bouts and earning three draws in a total of fifteen battles. Three of the Company G victories were knockouts. The marine gunners won three bouts via the knockout route and copped one decision. Results:

Exhaust Echoes

By SHEPPARD BUTLER

CHICAGO'S next automobile races will be run on Sunday, July 28. Charles H. Porter, who is conducing affairs at the Broadview speedway this year, announced the date yesterday on his return from a trip during which he made tentative arrangements with most of the drivers who will take part.

The contest this time will be an invitation affair, to be known as the International sweepstakes and with a proposed purse of $25,000 as an incentive to speed. The field will be limited to cars known to be good for an average of at least 105 miles an hour. Formal invitations have been extended thus far only to Louis Chevrolet, Ralph De Palma, Arthur Duray, Ralph Mulford, and Dario Resta. Ira Vail, who has been performing creditably with his Hudson, may be added to the list.

* *

If their plans don't miscarry, the promoters will require that for the first time the drivers race, partly at least, for their own money. Each must agree to put up $2,000, with the management providing enough in addition to make up the amount of the purse. This is something new in automobile racing, but it is said informal assurances have been given that the drivers will do it.

In return, they will be permitted to name their own conditions, subject, of course, to the approval of the American Automobile association. The management's suggestion is that five short races be run—at two, ten, twenty, thirty, and fifty miles—the winners to be determined by a point system of awards.

Placing of concrete on the last "missing link" in Sheridan road through the northern part of Winnetka was finished yesterday, and the entire two mile stretch will be opened with appropriate ceremonies Aug. 10. This will complete a continuous paved highway on the Sheridan road route to the south limits of Glencoe.

A mile and a half of the new section is now open, to the north of the present construction work, but it has not been much traveled because the commonly used detour takes motorists around it.

DUKE AND PALS EXHIBIT TODAY IN C. A. A. POOL

Club Show Forerunner to Carnival Tomorrow and Sunday.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Duke Kahanamoku, Clarence Lane, and Harold Kruger, the Hawaiian swimmers, who will take part in the Chicago Athletic association's patriotic water carnival in the Lincoln park lagoon tomorrow and Sunday, will make their first appearance in Chicago today in the C. A. A. pool, where a three men 180 yard relay race and a 60 yard swim will be held in connection with novelty events from noon until 2 o'clock.

The program, arranged for C. A. A. members, will furnish a good line on Duke's ability and his chances of beating Perry McGillivray of Great Lakes Naval Training station in the feature events carded in the lagoon.

Go After New Record.

Efforts will be made to establish a new world's record in the 60 yard swim. The only indoor record of importance is held by J. Leahy of England, :32. In order to make Duke swim his best Lane of Hawaii and Earle and Topp of the C. A. A. will be the other contestants.

Pitted against the Hawaiian trio in the relay race will be Earle, Topp, and either Mallin or Huszagh. This should be an interesting event, as Kruger is not nearly as fast as his teammates.

After these races the visitors will give exhibitions of triple oar swimming and a Chinese relay race, and will follow their swimming by music played on Hawaiian instruments and a song by Kahanamoku.

Officials for Carnival.

With the selection of officials, all arrangements have been completed for the great swimming show tomorrow and Sunday. Capt. William A. Moffett of Great Lakes Naval Training station and Maj. Gen. C. H. Martin of Camp Grant are among the honorary referees. Ensign John Kennedy, U. S. N., will be chief announcer; Surgeon J. B. Kaufman, U. S. N., will be one of the timers, and Ensign F. M. Keeley, U. S. N., will be a scorer. The list of officials follows:

Honorary referees—Capt. William A. Moffett, Maj. Gen. C. H. Martin, Nelson N. Lampert, Harvey T. Woodruff, Francis Simmons, William Wrigley Jr., P. J. Hummel, J. H. Hardwiger, J. H. Hardin.

Referees—Everett C. Brown, J. L. Barchard.

Starters—R. M. Zimmerman, Tom Robinson, J. H. White.

Clerks of course—Irving M. Peters, chief; S. H. Darwent, Frank Hill, George Eckert, Charles Sidebotham, E. H. Fall Jr., John Behr.

Clerks for women—Miss O'Brien, Miss Cohen.

Finish judges—Frank Wentworth, George B. Waterstratt, F. A. Bornamann, John B. Bremner, William J. Mohr.

Patrol commanders—John C. Cannon, Capt. C. Shaw, George Donahue.

Timers—Robert Hyman, W. G. Howe, V. J. Le Gros, P. W. Combs, J. W. Maguire, Surgeon J. B. Kaufman, U. S. N.

Announcers—Ensign John Kennedy, U. S. N.; Harold Dyrenforth, L. R. Mason, U. S. N.

Scorers and checkers—J. J. Roberts, J. Denvir, Frans Marceau, Ben M. Smith, J. J. Healy, Ensign F. M. Keeley, U. S. N.

Visitors See Show Tonight.

The visiting swimmers will be the guest of the C. A. A. at a theater party at the Palace tonight. They will be in charge of Instructor H. W. Spurrier.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—In going through the early fall things which have already arrived from Paris, we can just invalid our adjectives and let most of our nouns go off to the country. Only one lone sentinel of the dictionary may guard the outposts of our mind. This is fringe. Fringe and fringe and more fringe!

It appears constantly on frocks and suits and wraps and hats. There is fringe of silk and wool and ostrich and beads. No kind whatsoever has been overlooked.

Here is an imported taffeta frock which indicates the persistence of this feature. Of a lovely geranium colored scarlet, the collar and cuffs and the wide bands which finish the plaited skirt are of silk fringe in the same tone.

"Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief"—there is a regular fortune telling stand in many of the late frocks. Buttons are decidedly a feature, and the subject of this theme shows a regular drill of them down the front. Another unusual detail of this frock is the way the plaited skirt comes up above the girdle. Indeed, the whole frock is one which is altogether "different."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—My lovely, big tomato plants seem blighted. It begins on the lower leaves, gradually spreading upward. There are small, round spots on the leaves, about one-eighth inch wide, mosty gray, with a back border. The leaves turn yellow and drop off when touched. They were struck with the same blight last year and the fruits are very small, sour, and watery. Will be thankful for any advice you can give me. Mrs. H. C.

A.—A typical case of leaf spot disease. It is carried in the soil from year to year, making crop rotation imperative. Remove and burn all infected leaves and spray immediately with a 4-4-50 Bordeaux mixture. Beginning ten to fourteen days after the plants were set out, they should have been kept coated by spraying at least every two weeks, until a fortnight before picking. Training the plants on stakes or trellises and careful spraying of boughten seedling plants will tend to keep the garden clean. Cultivating the plants while wet is apt to spread unsuspected spores. They may attack either the upper or lower surface of the leaves. Burn all vines after harvest.

Q.—[1] A snail-like, slimy, blackish insect, about a half inch long, eats the substance off the leaves of our cherry tree, leaving only the transparent skeletons. There is one on nearly every leaf. [2] We broke a branch off this tree in picking. We sawed off the broken end. What can we put on the saw wound? [3] When and how can we prune the cherry tree? [4] Can the branch we removed be planted to take root? [5] The lower part of the trunk has a split some three feet long. What is the cause? [6] Is it too late to transplant tomato seedlings? J. O'M.

A.—[1] It is a slug, two broods of which appear in the season. If the first is properly disposed of the second will be less serious. At this time spray with nicotine sulphate ["Black Leaf 40"], which can be obtained at the large seed stores—a level teaspoonful to the gallon of water. Spray in the evening and rinse off with hose and nozzle in the morning. Repeat when necessary. Give your tree the dormant and spring sprays described in the answer to H. H. R. May 24, article No. 81, and induce your neighbors to do the same that you may not be troubled this way. [2] A coat or two of white lead paint to prevent the entry of fungi till it is healed over. Be sure to leave no projecting stub at the next larger limb or it cannot heal over. [3] Dormant; that is, before sap flows in spring, and then only to remove dead wood, crossed branches and such as throw the tree out of balance. Spray immediately after. [4] No. [5] If only the bark is split the condition is not abnormal. If the wood is split it may be windshaken or frozen. The latter might result seriously. [6] If you already have them plant them; but the crop will be too small to warrant buying plants at this time.

Negro Children Have Outing.

Between 100 and 150 Negro orphans and crippled children had the time of their lives in Lincoln park yesterday as guests of the Chicago Automobile club. There were motor car rides, games, and eats galore.

The outing was engineered largely by Arthur Jones, an official of the Orphans' Automobile Day association, which sponsored similar festivities for the orphans of other races two weeks ago. Inasmuch as the Negro children were not included at that time, the Automobile club at Mr. Jones' suggestion voted to give them an outing of their own.

It Was Her Photo, but He Knew It Not

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WAS IT YOU?

Her sweetheart, like all good sweethearts, responded to the bugle call, and, like all good sweethearts, he wanted her picture to cheer him up when he was a long way from her and feeling blue and lonely.

Like most sweetheartesses, she didn't have one quite good enough for this occasion. So she made an engagement with an expensive photographer for a certain a. m. at 11 o'clock. At 8:30 she went to the hairdresser's, got her hair shampooed and marcelled, and dressed up "just grand." In fact, it was so grand that the pictures didn't look a single bit like the dear, unaffected girl the soldier boy had learned to love for just that reason.

He wrote back and told her he got a photograph of some girl by mistake, and when might he be expecting hers? In the meantime some one had taken a splendid shapshot of her in a simple dress and her hair done as she always wore it, sans marcel, sans a look of unfamiliarity. She inclosed one in a letter to him. He wrote back that that was the best picture he had ever seen of her.

The moral of which tale is quite obvious to you that getting a picture taken, though a serious business in some respects, should not be taken that way really!

Bright Sayings of the Children

Thelma had been out of town for some weeks and upon her return was met by her friend, Virginia. Thelma looked at Virginia and said: "Virginia, I's been thoughting and thoughting about you for a long time when I was away." C. S. Y.

Howland came in one day and said excitedly: "Mother, I'm going to marry Jane."

"Have you asked her?" I inquired.

"Why, no," he replied in the most disdainful manner possible, "I told her!" M. B. C.

When I was 6 years old I was with my mother at a friend's who had just had a death in the family and I heard the folks saying: "I extend my sympathy," etc., in their conversation, so finally I went up to the daughter whose mother had just died and said: "I extend my congratulations." H. B. B.

Fish Dinners.

One of the food administration releases of some time back had menus for three fish dinners with two recipes.

One was for baked carp with sour cream, as follows: Clean and bone the carp. Place it in an oiled baking pan, salt and pepper the surface, add two bay leaves and the juice of one lemon, and cover with sour cream. Bake until the fish and cream are a golden brown. Serve the fish on the platter and strain the cream sauce over it.

The other was baked fish, Armenian style: Three ripe tomatoes or five tablespoons of stewed tomatoes, two onions, three pounds of fish meat, one-half bunch of mint, salt and pepper, one-fourth cup of beef fat or oil, and one cup of water. Place the tomatoes and sliced onions in layers in the baking dish. Lay the skinned and boned carp in the dish and cover with a second layer of sliced onion and tomato. Sprinkle the finely chopped mint, salt and pepper over the top. Pour over this the melted fat or oil, add water, and bake in a hot oven at least half an hour or until the fish is tender.

The menus were:

I.
Baked carp with sour cream.
Hominy.
Stuffed green peppers.
Wheatless strawberry shortcake.

II.
Baked fish Armenian style.
Belgian baked sweet potatoes.
Cornbread.
Cottage cheese and lettuce salad.
Peaches. Wheatless sponge cake.

III.
Fish balls with cheese sauce.
Asparagus.
Escalloped egg plant.
Apple pie a la mode [wheatless crust.]

The following information about carp, which I have translated from a book in French on 300 ways of cooking or using fish, perhaps may disabuse some people's mind of the convictions they have about the nationality of carp. Some of the things said are that the carp can without contradiction make the highest pretensions to the title, "queen of the ponds, lakes, and rivers," because of the exquisite succulence of its flesh and because of its colors:

"Although scattered today through all the waters of Europe, it was only introduced into France in the reign of Francis I. According to the naturalists the place of its origin is Asia Minor. Its size varies according to the locality where it lives and the abundance of food it gets."

There follows this statement some interesting figures about its size and vitality. It will keep alive a long time in wet grass, and to facilitate its breathing its mouth is propped open. Its ability to leap; the seasons of its use; the methods of making it disgorge the mud it eats by keeping it in tanks of fresh water and feeding it with bran; the barbarous methods of taking out the roe of the fish, which is highly esteemed by gourmets, and the use of the "piere de carpe" (stone of the carp) are other matters of interest presented in this cookery book on fish.

War Histories "Best Sellers," Dealers Report

Historical novels and books relating to the war are the "best sellers" and more in demand by the reading public of America than all other literature, according to book publishers who are attending their annual "book fair" in the Palmer house this week, their sessions closing tonght.

They meet in Chicago each year to discuss plans for presenting the books the public demands and in providing retail bookmen with information.

The war has interfered with some of the publications that have required material from England, but this is being overcome, the bookmen say, by the use of American materials which will, they believe, answer all demands even after the war.

Juvenile books, these men say, are in greater demand than in former seasons, the demand being a result of stories of the war being woven into almost every book for the boy or girl that is now published.

Books that deal with the war as a war in a historical way and not "personal experiences," are the books demanded, these publishers state.

RAVINIA'S NINTH

"Cavalleria Rusticana," revived last night, was the ninth opera, more or less intact, put on in Ravinia Park since the opening on June 29; and it gave to Claudia Muzio her sixth rôle in less than a fortnight. She was expectedly good as Santuzza: the variety she had exposed in the five other parts made reasonably certain that she would be felicitious in this, which has, doubtless, been a conveyance for more sopranos in the twenty-seven years since the opera was new than any other rôle in the répertoire.

Miss Muzio found new things to do in the piece, and did them: fresh, apposite bits of dumbshow that pointed the furious little melodrama and stimulated the spectator into reaction to the young singer's notable gift for the theater. Apart from her good capacity as an interpretative vocalist, she owns one of the definite brains of the opera-stage—which is, as may have been observed by others, the rendezvous of more good acting than is to be discerned in the untuned drama. No other Santuzza—not Calvé's, nor Raisa's—has been better than Muzio's in this item of intelligent characterization. She sang as usual—with expression, sense, and lovely, brilliant tone.

Miss Braslau came through with a good Lola, putting her rich, reaching contralto effectively into the little aria belonging to the part; and the men, the Messrs. Kingston and Marr, were something better than efficient. The former's Turridu took the drama with amazing calm. The orchestra, under Mr. Papi, gave a good account of Mascagni's durable score, which stands up well for just what it is when given a chance. The opera was given without intermission, and was followed by a brief program for the orchestra.

Mr. Papi will direct a concert this afternoon, and Mr. Hagemans another tonight, when Miss Braslau will be the soloist. A third will be tomorrow afternoon. "Il Trovatore," with last week's cast, will be repeated tomorrow night. F. D.

Paying Kaiser in Own Coin.

A scholarly looking gentleman with big shell spectacles walked up to the melting pot at 14 North Michigan avenue yesterday where some of the South Shore Country club members are exchanging thrift stamps for old gold and silver. In his hand he carried a little parcel wrapped in tissue paper.

"I have something here," he said, "which I would like to get rid of. Perhaps you can tell me how much it is worth."

The parcel was unwrapped and proved to be a solid gold medal which the scholarly gentleman had won when he was studying as a youth at a German university. The German medal will be melted and the gold used to buy bullets to fight the Germans with, thus showing the professor's idea of efficiency. Many German coins are also finding their way to the melting pot, and curious articles such as plates for false teeth, discarded wedding rings, etc. More than $100 was brought in yesterday in the shape of old metal, and taken out in the form of thrift stamps.

Comedy of Errors That Shakespeare Ne'er Ne'er Wrote

"GOODNIGHT PAUL"

Produced by Select Pictures.
Presented at the Bijou Dream.

THE CAST.

Matilda Landers	Constance Talmadge
Richard Landers	Norman Kerry
Paul Bordeaux	Harrison Ford
Batiste	John Steppling
Rose	Beatrice Van
Mme. Julie	Rosita Marstina

By Mae Tinée.

Ever see one of those regulation farce comedies? All right, you know just what to expect of "Goodnight Paul."

Meet again, then, dyspeptic uncle—a gay old boy—not so gay at the time of our meeting because the doctor, to keep him in the much advertised straight and narrow road, has told him he has blood pressure. Meet his pretty nurse (big blonde), who was once engaged to his nephew. Meet said nephew, who needs $50,000 to save the business of himself and partner from toppling over the bluff of bankruptcy. Meet said partner, a naturally blithe, if at this time discouraged, young man, husband of a six months' bride, who believes that he can do no wrong. The nephew occupies a room in the partner's apartment. And across the hall lives Mme. Julia, who deals in French lingerie. [Cherie!]

Uncle, who at the time of the present writing believes himself about to die, would that his nephew was married so that the naughty old name of Bordeaux might be perpetuated. He comes to visit nephew at the apartment, finds a woman's handkerchief, accuses nephew of all sorts of things, when, presto, nephew's partner's wife has an inspiration. She will pose as nephew's wife.

Believing uncle due to stay only a matter of hours, she lies and lies and lies and is getting away with it beautifully when hubby, who has been locked in the bathroom, dispatched on mysterious errands, etc., becomes obstreperous. Also uncle decides to stay a month. Also, nurse, who was affianced to nephew, comes with him. Ah, NOW the ball begins to roll and get itself all tangled up!

To be frank, I didn't care greatly for the picture, but that is, I think, because I care so little for farce comedy on the stage. Such as it is, it is well acted, photographed, and directed. It met with favor from the audience of which I was a member.

WOMEN IN WARTIME

There is no room for a hyphenated citizen in America, in the opinion of the women lawyers of the state, who will discuss plans for unhyphenating the hyphen at the state conference which is to be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch in Evanston.

Mrs. Charlotte D. White, a member of the association, will address the meeting on this subject and suggest that the association take active steps to bring about legislation bearing on the elimination of the hyphen.

"Women lawyers are in a peculiarly favored position to initiate this legislation," said Mrs. White. "And it is now becoming a serious duty which Americans can no longer ignore. The idea will be to enact legislation which will prevent foreigners from huddling in groups which stay un-American as to language and understanding of everything that America stands for. We would make it compulsory for every adult foreigner arriving on these shores to attend a free night school, where he will be taught English. We will be especially interested in getting the foreign women to speak English, in opening clubs for the teaching of the language, and for instilling the elemental and fundamental principles of American government and ideals. We shall also take up the matter of the foreign language newspaper, throwing our influence into the balance for doing away with them just as soon as practical."

Women lawyers from all parts of the state will attend the meeting and outing to be held in connection with it. Women of the medical profession from different parts of the state will be the guests of the bar association. A war luncheon will be served. A military drill, under an officer from Fort Sheridan, will be undertaken, with the idea of fitting the women to march and drill with men's organizations in all civic demonstrations of a patriotic nature.

Among those who will attend are Miss Mary M. Bartelme, Miss Marion H. Drake, Mrs. Charlotte D. White, Miss Martha Elvert, Dr. Clara Seipple, Miss Edith Smith of Morris, Ill., Mrs. Mattie M. Hoff, lawyer wife of the state's attorney at Clinton, Ill., and Miss Ella Zoelzer.

Dwellers in the Twenty-first ward wishing to equip themselves for war service are urged to apply to the Twenty-first ward branch of the State Council of Defense at 1130 North Clark street, where a volunteer adviser will be glad to direct the applicant to the proper course of instruction.

The work this side the trenches, a feature of which is the junk drive or salvage campaign now being conducted by Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, was explained yesterday by Mrs. Samuel T. Chase in an address before the members of the auxiliary of the Twenty-second ward organization.

"Hold the home lines" is a familiar phrase," said Mrs. Chase. "The best way to hold them is to equip the families of our fighting men so they can get along in their absence. Every dollar sacrificed by the housewife in her sale of junk and waste material goes to this home service work.

"It is you women who will make a success or failure of the junk campaign. The junk dealers and peddlers are with us. They are buying books of coupons from the Red Cross. These coupons must be used in payment for junk in place of money.

"The Red Cross in supplying the men with the coupons has promised that the housewife will honor them. This you must do in order to redeem the pledge of the Red Cross. If a peddler tells you he is out of coupons or refuses to pay for your junk with them, it is your duty to take his license number and report him to the salvage bureau of the Red Cross, Room 704 Garland building."

The food conservation station yesterday held a goodly crowd, who had come to hear about new uses for cheese and other meat substitutes. Here are some recipes for new cheese dishes:

COTTAGE CHEESE LOAF.

1 cup peas or beans,	½ cup strained tomatoes,
1 cup cottage cheese,
1 cup ground peanuts,	1 teaspoonful fat,
1 cup crumbs,	Salt and pepper.
1 teaspoonful onion,

SPICED CHEESE PUDDING.

2 slices stale bread,	½ cup sugar,
2 eggs,	¾ cup seeded raisins,
½ teaspoon salt,	½ teaspoonful allspice,
1 cup milk,
1 cup cottage cheese,	¼ teaspoonful mace,
¼ teaspoonful soda,	¼ teaspoonful cloves.

Today at the demonstration there will be an exemplification of the making of rice flour and cornmeal breads and muffins.

Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss yesterday accepted the appointment of vice chairman of the Food for France fund shop, of which Mrs. Louis M. Stumer is general chairman and Mrs. Archibald T. Naugle and Mrs. William Denison Morris assistant chairman.

Miss Catherine Philips, a British Red Cross nurse who has seen service in South Africa and has lately returned from the French front, will speak tomorrow at the regular monthly meeting of the Daughters of the British Empire at 2 p. m. in the war shop in the Stevens building.

"Be coaled now or be cold later," is the warning the Cook county fuel administrator is having distributed on posters throughout the wards by Miss Alice Thompson, chairman of the Ward directors' committee of the woman's committee of the State Council of Defense.

WHAT JIM CALLS 'CAMOUFLAGE SAUCE'

Maybe it's creamed chicken, or croquettes, or asparagus—perhaps it's creamed mushrooms—but Jim says it it's smiling up at him under my camouflage sauce it's GOOD. Of course it's just a white sauce, you know—but the secret is that to it I add about half a tablespoonful of A1 Sauce—my miracle worker. And unless the flavor of the dish itself is very delicate that sauce just turns it into an ethereal Frenchy creation with piquancy plus!

My famous cream of celery soup gets its charm out of that same bottle of A1 sauce, and, indeed, so do many other dishes which used to be flat and tasteless under the old-fashioned plain white sauce. It's wonderful what a dash of A1 sauce will do!—Advt.

Society to Greet French Aviators This Afternoon

A truly French celebration will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Art Institute, when the reception to the visiting French aviators will be given and the exhibition of the official French aerial paintings, showing the battle front from the skies and the moving pictures taken there, will be opened.

The exhibition will continue until the end of the month. The party will be given by workers at the American fund for French wounded and will be under the direction of Mrs. William Prescott Hunt and Miss Marie J. Rozet, co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Russell Tyson, local chairman for the exhibition; Mrs. William E. Clarke, Mrs. George E. Brown Jr., Mrs. Keith Spalding, Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter, Mrs. C. Dana Corbin, Mrs. William H. Hubbard, Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney, Miss Naomi Donnelley, Miss Mabel E. Dick, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, and others.

A group of Junior league girls, headed by Miss Courtney Letts, will sell programs. Lieut. Joseph Dobelle will sing "The Star-Spangled Banner" and Lieut. Henri Farré, the painter-aviator, whose canvases will be on exhibition, will sing "La Marseillaise." At 4 o'clock the moving pictures will begin and one of the visiting aviators will speak.

One of the most distinguished of the flier group now in America will arrive in the city today—Maj. George Tulane, who will also be present at the reception. Admission will be $2 for this afternoon only, when the patrons and patronesses and those directly interested will be guests, and thereafter admission will be 50 cents, children 25 cents. The pictures will be shown from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening, daily, until July 31. A ticket admits its holder to the exhibition, the moving pictures, and the lecture. The proceeds will go to the American fund for French wounded and to the children of French aviators killed in the war.

Mrs. William Prescott Hunt will be one of the hostesses this afternoon at the reception to be given by the workers of the American Fund for French Wounded for the visiting French aviators at the opening of the exhibition of the official French aerial paintings and moving pictures in the Art Institute.

STORY OF ACES IN FARRE'S ART.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Lieut. Farré has given permanence to the remarkable scenes that drop unnoticed by the fighting man, but are caught by the artist. He has written plain for all to read the story of the aces of France in a way that no other man has ever attempted. With his brush he has opened a new path to the painters of the future. More remarkable perhaps is the veracity of his canvases. They are accurate in every detail, necessarily so, as they were painted often under the eyes of the men whose acts they portrayed, and expert criticism was not lacking to emphasize a too stressed line or other fault that might creep in.

There are aeroplanes at rest, and aeroplanes in flight, and aeroplanes in combat, and a few—Boche for the most part—aeroplanes in ruins. From painting to painting the eye goes glimpsing the beauties of aerial warfare in a unique way. Considering the story of the three pictures relating the battle of Capt. Fequant in June, 1915. There is the battle itself with the French plane getting the upper hand and plunging down on the German. While fighting Capt. Fequant stood and was hit in the head by a volley of hostile bullets. His body fell partly over the side of the machine and his pilot held him, with a badly wounded hand, bringing him back to the French field. There his comrades took his body in their arms, gently lifting it to earth. All this Farré tells in color beautifully subdued and tender.

There are seen, too, many other combats by day and by night, by single machines and in company. There are planes crashing to earth or falling noiselessly into the sea. And there are the aviation fields, and the schools with their groups of buildings and hangars.

The portraits of the French aces, many of them underscored with the words "dead on the field of honor," bring the wonder of their courage nearer. Among the French aces are some American boys, aces also, members of the Lafayette escadrille. And of these most prominent is the portrait of Maj. Lufbery. The emblem of the Lafayette escadrille, an Indian's head in full war paint and feathers, is interesting. It is the one on Lufbery's machine when he destroyed five Boche planes in combat.

SOCIETY NOTES

Miss Marion Clow, Miss Harriet McLaughlin, Miss Courtney Letts, Miss Edith Cummings, Miss Katherine Inglis, Miss Caryl Dunham, Miss Susan Stevenson, Miss Lila Hotz, Miss Elizabeth Chase, and Miss Margaret Pirie will assist Mrs. Robert J. Dunham in selling flowers at the pageant, "Women of the Ages," which the office girls of Armour & Co. will give on Saturday night, July 27, for the benefit of the Salvation Army war fund. Tickets may be obtained from F. Edson White, Armour offices, Union stockyards.

Mrs. George A. Hughes of 911 Eastwood avenue will entertain the members of Le Cenacle program committee at luncheon tomorrow. Lieut. Winthrop Scott of the ordnance department at Washington and his mother, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Augusta Babize, will be guests. Lieut. Scott will speak on the growth of the ordnance department since the United States entered the war and on the immense output of munitions and the vast scope which the war department plans and is carrying into execution.

Frederic Norcross of 1500 Astor street, and his children, Katherine and Phoebe, will leave soon for the northern woods of Wisconsin to remain for some time. Miss Katherine will enter Bryn Mawr this fall.

War Invades All Desplaines Camp Meeting Activity

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

It was war, war, war yesterday at Desplaines camp meeting.

The subject was missions and women were in charge, but not a speaker could get away from the ever and everywhere present war.

This was true even when the work of the Lake Bluff orphanage was in review by the Rev. A. F. Clark, district superintendent of the Chicago northern district, who spoke on the work of the Deaconess federation.

"Among the thirty-eight stars on the service flag of the orphanage there are heroes of whom we are justly proud," said Dr. Clark.

"There is the boy we used to call 'Gus.' Now he is Maj. Augustus Lang. He enlisted in the English royal fly squadron. He is an ace, having brought down his eighth German plane. Not long ago he was decorated by King George.

"Another boy we called 'Tommie' is now Thomas Harvey of the American navy." He gave $1,000 to the orphanage with instructions to have it kept for him until his return. If he does not return the money will remain in the possession of the orphanage as a token of his appreciation.

"Another boy is Bobby, now Robert Breen, who has been several times wounded fighting in France.

"The initiative and courage of the American soldier can be traced to the American mother."

The Rev. Edmund F. Cook, director of the department of missions in Moody Bible institue, said there were Moody Bible institute, said there were France who had been recalled from their mission fields because of their knowledge of the languages of the orientals who are fighting with the allies.

"Missionary ranks have been so thined by the calling of missionaries to the colors under the British flag that many stations have been abandoned," he said.

Miss Cora Simpson of Foochow, China, said it was the work of missions which had brought China, Japan and India into the world war.

"Within eighteen hours after the United States had declared war on Germany," she said, "the cabinet of China met. They said, 'If it is right for America to go into the war, it is right for us.' Thousands of Chinese are now fighting on the side of the allies."

"Eliminate the hyphenates from America and make loyal citizens out of the foreign born," was the message of Miss Nellie Snyder, who spoke at the morning session as the representative of the Woman's Home Missionary society.

Margaret Thorpe, 6 years old, who makes her home with A. Hale Vollintine, an attorney, of 1337 Granville avenue, fell from the bridge about eight feet into the creek which runs into the Desplaines river near the camp ground. She was rescued by John Glaser, caretaker, and taken to the cottage of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society.

"It was a narrow escape," said Mrs. Vollintine, "and we were thankful no bones were broken."

The Rev. Alfred Peache, pastor of Berry Memorial church, announced to the children that on Sunday he would take them fishing for genuine live fish. The children are a little doubtful about the promise, for yesterday he performed some slight of hand tricks in teaching them their Bible lesson, but he assured them the fish are real.

The banner for the largest attendance was given to the women of the Irving Park church, which had an attendance of forty-six. Today will be Illinois Centennial day, with Bishop Thomas Nicholson and former governor Charles S. Deneen as speakers.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Commonwealth Edison orchestra, conducted by Morgan L. Eastman, will play this evening at the second of the Friday evening programs on the Municipal pier, under the auspices of the Drama league.

Team work between the executive and the industrial engineer will be discussed by speakers at the semi-monthly meeting of the Western Efficiency society in the Auditorium hotel this evening. C. H. Thorne, chairman of the board of directors of Montgomery, Ward & Co., will preside as chairman, and the speakers are to be George L. Avery, secretary of the Avery company of Peoria, Ill., H. N. Stronck, vice president Illinois Engineering and Audit company, and H. Thorpe Kessler, plant manager for Rosenwald & Weil. A dinner will precede the program.

VIVE LA FRANCE TO BE WAR CRY HERE ON SUNDAY

City, State, and Nation to Join in Bastille Day Celebration.

Chicago's greatest French celebration will be that of Bastille day, next Sunday, July 14, the French national holiday. The meeting scheduled for the Municipal pier for the afternoon has been abandoned, but a great meeting at the Auditorium at 8 o'clock at night will be held. In addition to Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, who will speak as a special representative of President Wilson, James Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and Rabbi Stephen Wise of New York will speak.

All arrangements were completed for the celebration yesterday at a luncheon at the Chicago Athletic association, where the original committee in charge was expanded, now including Nelson Lampert, chairman; Lucius Teter, Robert B. Beach, and H. H. Merrick, representing the Association of Commerce; John W. Thomas and Homer J. Bucklet, for the National Security league; Gen. Leroy Steward for the Illinois reserve militia, H. H. Latham for the Iroquois club, Marquis Eaton for the Red Cross, Amos C. Miller for the Chicago Bar association, Mrs. James Keeley for the war recreation board, Mrs. Russell Tyson for the American fund for French wounded, and Ernest Palmer for the Four Minute men.

Other Sponsors.

The demonstration will be under the auspices of the above organizations together with the State Council of Defense, Illinois Manufacturers' association, Industrial club, Commercial club, Chicago Athletic association, Civic federation, Selective Service association, Chicago Federation of Labor, University club, University of Chicago, Board of Trade, Advertising association, Union League club, City club, Traffic club, Hamilton club, Rotary club, Chicago real estate board, Northwestern university, Chicago Association of Credit Men, Association of Foreign Language Newspapers, Y. M. C. A., Citizens' association, and Universal Military Training association.

Flag Raising in Grant Park.

At 3 p. m. at Grant park the flags of France and America will be raised to a salute of twenty-one guns by the gunboat Gopher. There will be military and naval maneuvers directed by Capt. William A. Moffett of Great Lakes, in which reserve militia under Col. William N. Pelouze, and naval militia under Lieut. B. C. Getsinger will take part. Lieut. Georges Flachaire, the French ace, will sing "The Marseillaise," following which he will fly over the field in his battle plane.

The Auditorium meeting will be free. Mr. Lampert will preside. Messages from President Wilson, Ambassador Jusserand, Lord Reading, and Samuel Gompers will be read.

The French national holiday will be celebrated at Ravinia Sunday by the soldiers and sailors of the Fort Sheridan and Great Lakes camps. John Philip Sousa will lead the Great Lakes band of 350 pieces in a concert from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, and there will be a program of athletic events.

At night the South Shore Country club will also give a celebration, as will a number of other organizations.

Services in all city churches will refer to the holiday.

CIRCUS TODAY!

Barnum & Bailey Opens This Afternoon. One of the Bareback Performers.

Lisbeth Hanneford

Eighty-nine railway cars, freighted with the people, performers, and paraphernalia of the Barnum & Bailey circus, will arrive in Chicago this morning. The animals and property will be immediately taken to the White City circus lot.

The show will open this afternoon, remaining at White City today, tomorrow, and Sunday, giving two daily performances.

The spectacular pageant, "Aladdin and his Wonderful Lamp," opens the performance. Pallen's wonder bears perform on bicycles and roller skates; the Hannaford family of equestrians and the Ching Ling He Chinese circus troupe, and Bird Millman, the fairy on a cobweb, are among the new features.

The street parade will leave the circus grounds at White City tomorrow morning at 8:30 and will go over the following route: Sixty-third street east to Cottage Grove avenue, thence south to Sixty-seventh street, and west to Rhodes avenue to Keefe, thence to Sixty-ninth street, and over Sixty-ninth street to Halsted street; north on Halsted street to Forty-seventh street, and over Forty-seventh street to Cottage Grove avenue to Sixty-third street, and west to the circus lot.

WORLD'S RICHEST ARMY IS MASSED AT CAMP GRANT

Liberty Loan Payments Made and Men Feel Like Millionaires.

Camp Grant, Ill., July 11.—Officers and enlisted men of the Blackhawk division sharpened their bayonets today preparatory to cutting a military melon which will yield the fighting men of Camp Grant between $500,000 and $1,000,000 cold coin of the realm.

Since last October, when Maj. Gen. T. H. Barry set his newly organized unit to the front lines in army finance, every soldier in the army city has automatically signed away a portion of his monthly pay to be checked up against his debt for the second Liberty loan.

This month the last payment of the series has already been met by enlisted men, and officers will clear up their financial indebtedness when they sign their pay vouchers, and a division of crinkly bonds, fully paid and interest bearing, will invade the division.

Veteran officers declare that never before in the history of the United States army has so much real money been distributed as a result of a military saving habit. To most of the men it seems like finding a parcel of wealth.

Scores of officer promotions are anticipated in camp as the result of overseas preparation. In the Three Hundred and Forty-second regiment vacancies exist for two majors, several captains and a number of first lieutenants, and other organizations of the division are in the same condition. Lieut. Adelbert Warren, in the medical corps, received his captaincy today with assignment in the adjutant general's department. Lieut. A. W. Johnstone and Harold C. Colson were also transferred to the adjutant general's department.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN HER ROOM.

MOODY INSTITUTE BALKS AT BEING SLACKERS' CLOAK

The Moody Bible institute has no use for slackers. Word having come to it that several of its former students at Camp Grant have been listed as "conscientious objectors," it has instituted rigorous investigation to ascertain how these opinions came to be held. It has also taken steps to prevent any others from using the institute as a cloak for slacking.

At a special meeting of the faculty held yesterday, the cases of four men were discussed. These were Carl W. Anderson, Rufus Myers, Earl Anthony, and Carl Youngberg, who are said to be detained at Camp Grant for unwillingness to enter heartily into the service.

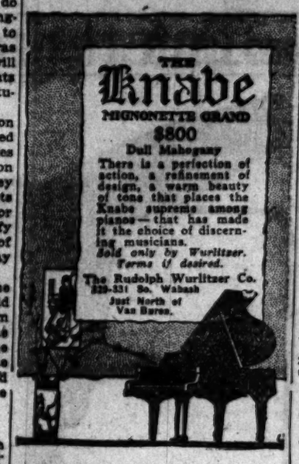

Anderson and Myers are former students at the institute. Dr. James M. them what scriptural warrant they had for their views. He also sought to impress upon them the views of the faculty of the institute, which is united Gray, the dean, says his records do not disclose that Anthony or Youngberg were ever enrolled. However, to forestall other cases, a letter was drafted and agreed upon, which will be sent out today to all former students of draft age who have ceased to be students since their registration.

This letter calls to their attention the fact that many of them obtained affidavits from the institute authorities which procured deferred classification from them on the ground that they were theological students. It requests all of them who have not done so, or have not entered the service, to notify their draft boards of their change of residence and occupation, so they may be reclassified.

"Promptly upon hearing of the cases of the men at Camp Grant," said Dr. Gray, "the institute reached them through the Rev. W. W. Ketchum, one of our faculty, who preached at the camp on June 23. Dr. Ketchum spoke to Anderson and Myers and asked for military service and aiding the government in the war."

MAJOR'S JUDGES BLOW UP AT HIS LAWYER'S MOVE

Rule Request for Bureau of Efficiency Inquiry an "Affront."

There was an explosion yesterday at the adjournment of the afternoon hearing of the Funkhouser case before the city civil service commission.

A motion by the five lawyers for the defense that the bureau of public efficiency be called into the inquiry was the cause. The merit commission thought the attorneys asked that the entire case be turned over to the efficiency organization. Under that impression, it overruled the motion instanter as an "affront."

What really was intended was to ask that the bureau of public efficiency be requested to assign an expert to look over the records of Second Deputy Funkhouser's office and pass judgment on the methods used. A substitute motion making this clear will be presented this morning.

No Time to Explain.

But there was no time for explanations at the time the motion was made by Attorney Philip J. McKenna on behalf of himself, John S. Meller, and Vincent D. Wyman, counsel for Maj. Funkhouser, Ald. John H. Lyle, counsel for Joseph A. Thoney, morals inspector, and Joseph F. Grossman, counsel for Hugh Borland, manager of properties. Mr. McKenna asked recognition just as the adjournment was being announced and read the motion.

"Aw, it's the same old bunk," called Frank S. Righeimer, assistant corporation counsel.

"Everything is bunk that you don't shoot," replied McKenna.

"Do you want us to hold that the commission is not competent to make its investigation itself?" demanded Commissioner Joseph P. Geary. "In other words, you want us to delegate our authority to this bureau?"

But he did not wait for a reply.

Motion Is Overruled.

"It's nothing more or less than an affront to this commission," he continued. "I move it be overruled right now."

"It is overruled without discussion," declared President Charles E. Frazier.

Ald. Lyle endeavored to explain the motion, but Commissioner Geary arose and left the room and was followed by his associates.

"I am sorry," said Attorney Lyman, "that the commission misunderstood our intention. We have been listening to the testimony of policemen that the filing systems and other records of the second deputy's office was poorly kept. We want the commission to see that an efficiency expert looks into that question and testifies as an unprejudiced witness."

Members of the commission said they did understand the attorneys as asking that they drop their inquiry at the point it has reached and turn the entire case over to the private organization. The language of the motion was that the bureau "make an investigation, examination, and report bearing upon the efficiency of the office of the second deputy."

No Criticism by Schuettler.

Maj. Funkhouser was on the witness stand for the third day when the adjournment came. His cross-examination had been ended and Mr. Miller had asked him a few questions on redirect examination, some of them as follows:

Q.—It has been brought out that you had some conversation with Chief Schuettler in reference to his order of Sept. 15, 1917, concerning vice at the time it was issued. What was it. A.—I told the chief I understood that we were to do just what we did in 1914, and he said: "That's all I expect of you."

Q.—Was there subsequently any criticism from Chief Schuettler concerning the manner in which you had carried out that order? A.—None that I recall. On the contrary, Chief Schuettler complimented us on what we had done.

In resuming the cross-examination Attorney Righeimer laid emphasis on the point that investigators reported violations of the ordinance in which no action was taken by the second deputy.

Q.—Why were there so many reports of violations and no arrests when your men were accompanied by policemen? A.—I don't know of a case of that kind.

Says Chief Forbade Raids.

Q.—There wasn't a single arrest made by your men in a downtown hotel, was there? A.—Chief Schuettler had told us not to raid hotels or cabarets. We were to recommend the revocation of their liquor licenses if they did not behave after they had been warned.

Almost all the reports of investigators who shadowed Miss Kate Adams, a social worker, were again read into the record. One of them stated that "the subject seemed sick," and laid down as soon as she reached home.

Mr. Righeimer insinuated that the investigator "climbed up and peeked into a window" to ascertain that fact.

Q.—Did you approve of methods of that sort? A.—I didn't see the report until it was brought in here.

Q.—Would you have approved of it if you had known of it? A.—I'm sure I would have reprimanded the investigator, at least.

The hearing will be resumed at 10:30 this morning.

BROTHER OF MAN FOUND SLAIN IN BED ARRESTED

William Busch, 45 years old, was arrested last night following an investigation by the police and coroner of the death of his brother, Louis, 55 years old, foreman for the Columbia Feather company, with whom he lived.

Louis Busch's death was reported Wednesday afternoon by Dr. A. O. Hollis, who was called to the Busch home by William. Dr. Hollis reported that he had not been called until ten hours after Louis had died.

An examination of the body made by Dr. Joseph Springer, coroner's physician, disclosed that Louis' skull had been fractured at the base, his left eye had been bruised, and he was cut on the left side of his nose and on his left leg.

Neighbors told the police they had heard the sound of a heavy object falling upon the floor of the Busch home Wednesday morning. They also told the police of quarrels between the two brothers. William had not worked for a year and Louis told many of the neighbors he was tired of supporting his brother.

William told the police that he had found his brother dead Wednesday morning, but had failed to find a physician until the afternoon.

Dig Up Dynamite Just as Tip Said They Could

Eight sticks of dynamite were dug up in Jefferson park yesterday by city detectives, led by Lieut. John Loftis, as the result of an anonymous telephone tip. The explosive was found buried under about a foot of earth near a lagoon with a tree limb laid across it just as the mysterious tipster had said.

Now the police are wondering whether it was put there by some long haired disciple of infernal machines or whether the tipster was also a joker.

WILL ASK MAYOR TO ORDER PAY FOR GAS EXPERTS

Council Committee to Act Today; Richberg Scores Administration.

Mayor Thompson will be requested to issue orders that vouchers approved by the city council committee on gas litigation for fees of attorneys, engineers, experts, and accountants in the city's fight to recover $10,000,000 in alleged overcharges from the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company be paid.

Unless the mayor orders the bills paid the committee is likely to resign and the attorneys and engineers will cease work. This was freely predicted at yesterday's meeting of the committee.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson and City Controller Pike were requested to attend the hearing to state why the pay rolls of the attorneys and others engaged in the work had been withheld. Mr. Pike was out of the city, but a representative of his office was on hand. Mr. Ettelson did not appear, sending word that he could be found in his office if the committee wanted to call on him.

Why Ettleson Wouldn't Sign.

Ald. H. D. Capitain, chairman of the committee, did call on Mr. Ettelson, who said he had not approved vouchers for Donald R. Richberg and Glenn E. Plumb, special counsel in the gas case, because of Judge Torrison's ruling that Mr. Richberg was the city's special attorney in the case and was not subordinate to the law department.

"The controller has been paying these accounts for the last two years," said Mr. Richberg. "Unless the funds are forthcoming the attorneys will not be able to give their time to the case."

Mr. Bemis explained that the accounting pay rolls were regular and in accordance with contracts entered into with the accountants.

Mr. Richberg offered a report of the gas litigation activities for the last few months. This told of the progress made and accused the administration of "guerilla" tactics in blocking further progress.

"If the administration refuses to pay these outstanding accounts and to honor accounts in the future," part of the report said, "the administration must accept the responsibility for impeding progress of the litigation through the obvious expedient of starving out the attorneys.

"Treachery to Gas Consumers."

"Such action is, of course, a valuable aid to the gas company and treachery to the gas consumers. It can hardly be assumed that any member of the administration would dare to render such aid to the gas company unless such action met with the approval of the head of the city administration, the mayor.

"It has been possible for counsel up to date to carry this litigation by lending their private credit to the city, just as Mr. Bemis has done. Unless conditions change the following alternatives must be presented:

How Matters Stand.

"Either demand must be made effectively upon the city administration to fulfill the mayor's pledges and support the gas litigation and cease the present guerrilla warfare against the city's chosen representatives, or—

"The public at large must be called upon to furnish the funds to carry on the work in the interest of the public, which the city administration is now crippling, or—

"The support of public spirited individuals must be obtained in order to finance temporarily this work in confident expectation that the people of Chicago will insist that the next city administration shall make good the broken pledges of the present administration."

Up to Mayor Today.

Andrew Sangster, who has the accounting work, said unless his bills were paid the work would stop.

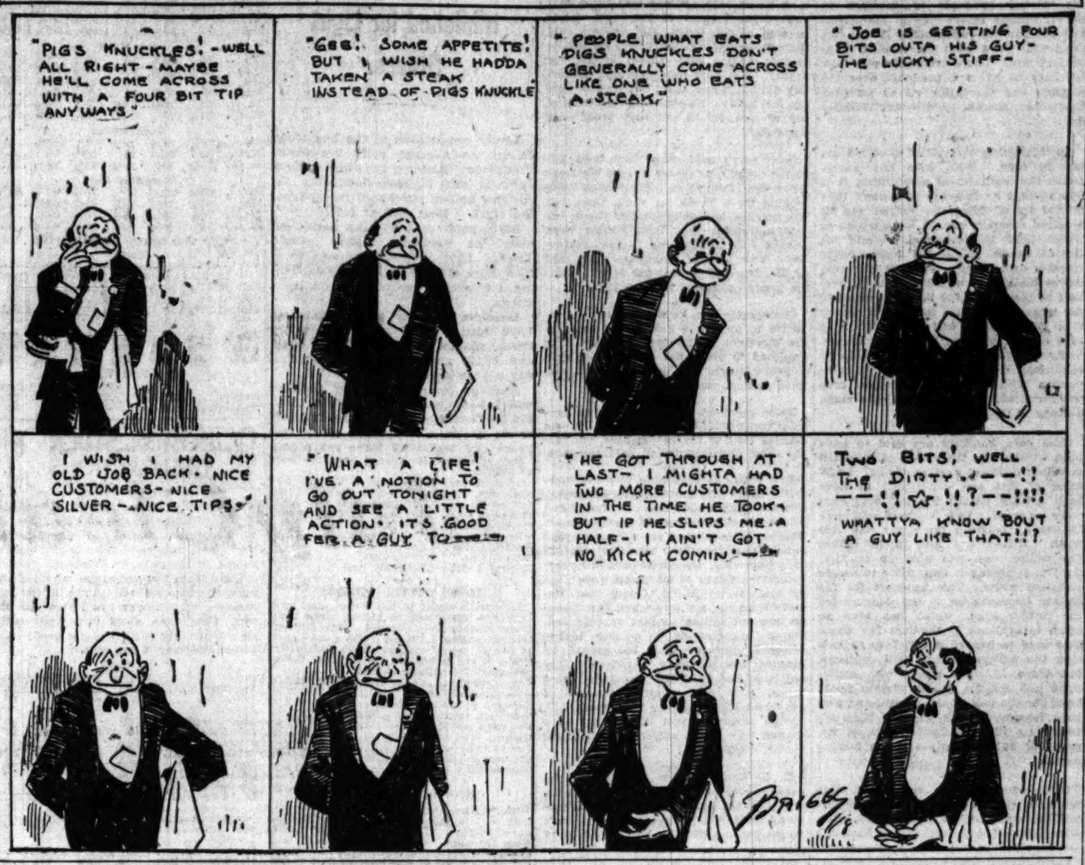

It was agreed to have the committee submit the matter to the mayor today and get his promise to have the bills paid.

"Unless this is done the committee may as well resign," said Ald. Capitain. "The blame will be on the mayor then."

ILLINOIS TRUST OFFICIAL RESIGNS.

Hugh M. Garretson, assistant cashier of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, has resigned after sixteen years' association with the bank.

WONDER WHAT A WAITER THINKS ABOUT

MRS. ANDREWS 'PERFECT LADY,' WITNESS SAYS

And Adds She Has No Animus, but Feels 'That Bitter.'

Mrs. Katherine Elliott Andrews is a "perfect lady" and Moses C. Meyers, "Cousin" Moses of Mrs. Andrews' Forty-sixth place apartment, is a "perfect gentleman."

Mrs. Dorothy Pence, who knew them both in Florida, said so before Judge Pinckney yesterday, and, she admits she's entirely fair and hasn't any animus against Mr. Andrews, although she does despise him.

The testimony of Mrs. Pence was a bright spot in an otherwise dull afternoon. The witness is the present owner of the Andrews' former winter home at Daytona Beach, Fla., where Mr. Meyers says he once spent the night in the absence of Mr. Andrews because it was raining and he was afraid he would get wet.

Has No Animus.

"You haven't any animus towards Mr. Andrews, have you?" questioned Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, when he began to the cross examination of Mrs. Pence.

"Certainly not," declared Mrs. Pence.

"Why didn't you speak to him when you met him in the hall a little while ago?" asked the attorney innocently.

"Why should I speak to him?" flared the good lady without animus. "I feel that bitter!"

"O!" ejaculated the attorney.

"Yes," continued kindly Mrs. Pence. "I feel that bitter. It is so uncalled for to ruin a good woman's character. Mrs. Andrews is a perfect lady; I'm a good woman myself, and I know when I see one. I can't understand Mr. Andrews. I despise him."

Wouldn't Believe It.

"I see you bear no animus towards Mr. Andrews, as you stated," said the attorney. "Now, what would you say if I told you that Moses C. Meyers and Mrs. Andrews lived three years alone in the same apartment?"

"I wouldn't believe you," announced Mrs. Pence. "I know Mrs. Andrews too well to believe anything like that. I met Mr. Meyers and he is a perfect gentleman. I never saw a more perfect gentleman than Mr. Meyers, and I can tell."

"By the way, how were you introduced to Mr. Meyers at Florida?"

"As a friend of Mrs. Andrews and of her husband."

"Quite sure he was introduced as a friend of Mr. Andrews?"

"Yes, quite sure."

"Did you gather that Mr. Andrews and Mr. Meyers were dear friends?"

"Not dear friends, perhaps, but friends."

The testimony of Mr. Andrews, Mrs. Andrews, and of "Cousin" Moses has been to the effect that Mr. Andrews and Meyers were practically strangers to each other. According to Meyers' testimony they met only once.

BEEF ONCE A DAY

New Regulations Affect Service in Restaurants; Small Spoons in Sugar Bowls.

RESTAURANTS throughout Illinois are to serve beef only once a day hereafter. Steaks and roasts are to be placed on the noonday bills of fare on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and Monday of each week, from 10:30 to 5 o'clock. On the remaining days beef is to be served at the evening meals, from 5 to 9 o'clock.

This change from the former plan of four beefless days a week was made because of a request from the office of Herbert Hoover, who wishes the regulations in all states to be uniform. By-products of beef, such as oxtails, liver, tongues, sweetbreads, hearts, etc., may be served at any time. The new rules go into effect today. A. S. Adams, chief of the bureau of enforcements, said yesterday that violators would be dealt with without further notice.

Within a few days a sign will be placed on every sugar bowl in public eating places, which will read:

"Save a spoonful of sugar for the boys in France."

Placards carrying the same appeal will be placed in the cafeterias. All large spoons are to be taken out of the sugar bowls and only teaspoons will be used.

Faherty Goes East to Seek Steel for Boulevard Link

M. J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, left for the east last night to get first hand information as to steel prices. Mr. Faherty wants enough steel to complete the Michigan avenue "boulevard link" project, but don't want to have to pay the high prices now prevailing.

STAR WITNESS FOR MRS. MELVIN INVOLVES MEANS

Two Affidavits by Mrs. Anderson Are in Conflict.

Mrs. Mary C. Melvin's effort to secure possession of the millions of the late James C. King suffered a setback before Probate Judge Horner yesterday when Mrs. George W. Anderson, one of Mrs. Melvin's star witnesses, was forced to make admissions which placed her in the position of virtually accusing Gaston Means, another star witness for Mrs. Melvin, of fraud.

Affidavits in Conflict.

Mrs. Anderson, at whose home James C. King died, gave testimony several weeks ago concerning incidents that occurred on the night the alleged second will is said to have been signed which strongly supported Mrs. Melvin's claim as to the validity of the will.

Attorney Reichmann yesterday introduced two affidavits sworn to by Mrs. Anderson. The first, it is admitted, was made by Mrs. Anderson at the request of Gaston Means. It contained the statement that on the night the alleged will is supposed to have been signed Mrs. Melvin said to Mrs. Anderson:

"Mr. King has just done the big thing, the right thing by Maude. He has drawn a will leaving her everything." Maude was the first name of Mrs. King, who was shot to death near Concord, N. C., last summer.

Drawn at Means' Instance.

The second affidavit, also sworn to by Mrs. Anderson, was made by her last autumn while she was in California. It said that Mrs. Melvin had not made the statement to her described in the first affidavit and that she did not know that the first affidavit contained those words or she would not have signed it. The affidavit in question was the one drawn at the instance of Gaston Means.

Mrs. Anderson, who is a close personal friend of Mrs. Melvin, struggled hard to repair the damage her conflicting affidavits had done her friend's case. She evaded and refused to answer questions until Judge Horner intervened and insisted on her answering.

"Did you sign this document?" demanded Attorney Reichmann.

Mrs. Anderson finally admitted she had sworn to it.

EE-YAH-YIP

225 Applications for Enlistment Made in Day's Drive to Fill Marine Ranks.

TWO HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE applicants was the score of the marine drive yesterday. A large percentage of these applicants will pass the examinations for admission to the corps. Marine authorities estimated that about 85 per cent would "get by." They based this estimate on the record of some recruits examined in the morning.

All day long the big marine cannon traveled around the loop streets, booming its message to the crowds. Orators from the civilian recruiting committees made urgest pleas to the young men in their audiences. The day's results were equal to the most optimistic estimates of the officers.

Two squads of university men applied. Fourteen men from the University of Illinois presented themselves during the morning. Nine were accepted. The remaining five went back to school with the vow that they would condition themselves to join their chums before the next ship reaches France.

Seven University of Wisconsin students applied. Five were accepted. This record made the officials particularly hopeful that the full quota would be reached before the end of two months.

The marine recruiting stations are located at 224 South Clark street, 103 South Dearborn street, 4 East Jackson boulevard, Dearborn and Randolph streets, and 140 West Jackson boulevard.

ALCOCK EXTENDS THE SOUTH CLARK STATION TO 22ND

By order of Acting Chief of Police Alcock the southern boundary line of the South Clark street police district has been extended to Twenty-second street. The district now combines all the territory from Van Buren to Twenty-second street, and from the lake to the river.

This is the first time in the history of the police department that the South Clark street, formerly the Harrison street district, has reached south of Sixteenth street.

Capt. P. J. Lavin is in command of the South Clark street station. The new addition to the district will necessitate ten or fifteen more policemen being assigned there.

U. S. ASKS FOR $144,000 FROM FRANTZIUS HEIRS

Income Tax and Penalties Claim Against Estate of $1,300,000.

Action was instituted yesterday by the federal government which may result in $250,000 or more being collected from the estate of the late Fritz von Frantzius, banker, broker, and art lover, who died a year ago last January. Charles F. Clyne, United States district attorney, acting on evidence obtained by treasury department investigators, ordered a claim filed in the Probate court of Cook county for $144,000 due as current, delinquent, and income taxes.

When Fritz von Frantzius died he left an estate believed to be worth approximately $1,300,000. His two children were named as heirs. They are Peter, 21 years old, and Anna Marie, 19.

If the courts uphold the claim of the government for the $144,000 due there also will be collected penalties for tax evasion which, it was estimated yesterday, will bring the total due the government above the $250,000 mark.

Estate in Probate.

The reason for the action at this time is that the estate is in the Probate court and probably would be settled immediately, except for the intervention of the government. The claim of the government is in the nature of an intervening petition. It is asked that the court order the administrator to set aside enough money to satisfy the government if it proves its claim.

War and Germany are disturbing factors in the case. It has been found that the fortune of Von Frantzius has various connections with the nation at war with the United States. For example, his great-grandfather was known as the wealthiest man in Danzig and Von Frantzius comes of a family known for many years as a powerful one in finance.

It is said that relatives in Germany have claims against the estate, which make it impossible to reach a fair distribution now. This suggests the possibility of seizure by the government of an undivided portion of his estate as enemy alien property.

Had Stormy Career.

James Glass, assistant United States district attorney, has been detailed to unravel the international financial tangle and to get the government's share. Von Frantzius figured much in the public prints from about 1911 to 1917, when he died. The publicity came principally as a result of his divorce from his wife and his marriage to "Sarahet," the Australian dancing girl, who later turned from his mansion and his millions for the footlights.

It is understood that heirs of Von Frantzius will fight the claim of the government for income tax due on the ground that deals shown by his books were "paper transactions" and not real.

One of these "paper trades" is supposed to show a profit of $1,000,000. Now, when income tax is asked on the deal, it is alleged that it wasn't any deal at all, but merely a "paper" transfer.

DEAD FISH MAKE NOISOME CALL FOR EXPLANATION

Another lake mystery confronts the city. Thousands of fish are being killed, and the city health department has been unable to determine the cause.

In the last few days the department has received many complaints against the fishy odor of drinking water and the disagreeable odor near the lake front.

Health Commissioner Robertson declared last night there was nothing wrong with the water supply, but that the department had been unable to account for the many dead fish being washed up along the shore.

Dr. Gottfried Koehler, deputy health commissioner, said he made an investigation of his own a few nights ago. He said along the lake between Morse and Lunt avenue, a block's distance, he counted fifty dead fish.

Commissioner of Public Works Bennett added to the mystery by saying that he found the same condition along the south shore. He said blasting had not killed the fish, as the city was not doing any blasting work now.

"There's nothing wrong with the water," said Commissioner Robertson. "We have had some of the dead fish sent to the health department laboratory, but so far no cause of the killing of the fish has been found. Most of the fish were small perch."

Five Years' Quarrel Leads to Suit for $1,000,000

A quarrel of five years' duration, starting in a labor dispute, resulted yesterday in a suit in the Circuit court for $1,000,000 by Thomas G. McCabe of Batavia against the Loyal Order of Moose and seven others.

McCabe, an organizer for the Batavia painters' union, was expelled from the lodge after he became embroiled with officials of Mooseheart, near Batavia. In return he made public charges against officers of the lodge and was arrested. His suit, charging malicious prosecution, is the latest development.

The individual defendants are Robert C. Hollister, supervisor of Batavia township; John Geise, postmaster; Benjamin Alschuler of Aurora, their attorney, and brother of Federal Judge Alschuler, and James Davis, R. H. Brandon, William Scull, and David Snedigar, officials of Mooseheart.

CORN ADVANCES TO HIGHEST OF PRESENT UPTURN

Closes at Around Top with Gains of 3 to 4 1-2 Cents.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Corn advanced to the highest of the present upturn and closed at around the top with gains of 3c to 4½c, July leading. Oats advanced early, but met profit taking and closed at intermediate prices with gains of ¼c to ½c in Chicago.

Corn in the southwestern markets advanced sharply with gains on July of 3c to 3 1-3c, and on distant futures 2⅝c to 4⅛c, Kansas City leading. Oats in those markets were unchanged to ¼c higher. Oats in Minneapolis closed ⅛c to ⅝c, and in Winnipeg ⅞c higher, for the day.

Provisions advanced moderately, but lost part, the close being 5c higher on lard and short ribs and 27½c better on pork.

Corn in Sharp Advance.

The strength in cash corn, combined with rumors that President Wilson had signed the $2.40 wheat bill, despite recent statements to the effect that it would be vetoed, started short covering in futures, and with local sentiment bullish an advance of 3¼@4⅝c was easily attained. Numerous stop loss orders were caught on the way up, especially in the August, which went to a premium of ¼c over September, against ½c discount Wednesday.

An overbought condition developed on the advance, and when the wheat rumor was denied, a sharp break followed, but the close was very firm, with July at $1.59, August at $1.59½, and September at $1.59¼. Bartlett-Frazier and Lamson Bros. were moderate sellers of July on the advance, but there was buying of all deliveries early by cash houses which was construed as against shipping sales. Commission house buying orders were mainly in small amounts, and sellers of offers had to protect themselves on the way up. Bartlett-Frazier and scattered longs, all deliveries, sold on the bulge.

Demand for cash corn was active. Sample values were 5@10c higher, with a slightly easier close on poor sample grades. Receipts were 203 cars, of which 27 cars graded No. 5 or better. The fact that primary receipts of 731,000 bu were 129,000 bu in excess of last year had no effect, nor did other news of a routine character. Further rains were reported in parts of Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Nebraska, but bear news had no effect.

Oats in Small Gain.

Oats were dominated by the action of corn, and reports that liberal sales of cash grain had been made to the seaboard late Wednesday. Sentiment was more favorable to the buying side early, and prices advanced ⅞@1⅛c readily until the offer price was reached, selling against which was the main factor in checking the upturn. Later a selling movement on the part of local buyers set in and a reaction followed, with the finish at intermediate figures, July being 74½c, August at 71c, and September at 70⅞c.

The Armour Grain company was a moderate buyer of July and seller of August. Knight took August, Bartlett Frazier August and September, and Updyke the September. Sample values were unchanged to ¼c higher, with sales in all positions to the seaboard the last two days of 700,000 bu, at 85c track New York. Domestic sales were 100,000 bu. Country offerings were not large, with No. 3 whites sold to arrive shipment by Aug. 20 at ¼c over August and for sixty days at ½c over September.

Receipts were heavy at 321 cars. Primary receipts and shipments were smaller than last year. Clearances for the day were 247,000 bu, against 43,000 bu last year. Winnipeg was strong and had some effect here. Dry weather talk is increasing in the province of Alberta. Canadian forecast was for generally fair and warmer.

Flax in Wild Bulge.

Old No. 2 rye sold at $1.80, or 8c above the figure paid recently. Offerings remain small. Bids to arrive, ten day shipment, were $1.67, and for sixty days $1.63. Milwaukee was 1c higher and Minneapolis 6c higher. No receipts here, and in the northwest 3 cars.

Barley sold readily at 1@2c advance, millers being in the market, and paid $1.18@1.25. Milwaukee was unchanged and Minneapolis 3@5c higher. Receipts here 2 cars and in the northwest 7 cars.

Flax seed had a sensational bulge, due to bad crop reports. Duluth closed 30@30½c higher, July $4.60, October $4.63. Winnipeg, 28¼@33⅝c higher; July $4.46, October $4.45½. The three leading markets had 5 cars.

Timothy seed strong. Futures, 10@30c higher, September $9.60 bid and October $9.25 bid. Country lots, $5@7.75 per 100 lbs. Toledo 2¼c lower to 2½c higher; September $4.80, October $4.40, December $4.35, March $4.62½ per bu of 45 lbs. Clover seed, no market. Toledo, 25c higher to 12½c lower; cash $16.50, October $13.50 per bu of 60 lbs.

Small Gains in Provisions.

Most of the trading was in short ribs, which were bought by local traders and houses with stock yards connections, and sold by local longs. Cash trade was reported better in pickled meats, butts, and plates, but slow for lard and short ribs. Sales of 400,000 lbs lard were made to come here at 15c under July.

Shipments of lard were 199,000 lbs, against 78,000 lbs last year. Cured meat shipments, 3,071,000 lbs, against 1,863,000 lbs last year. Hogs were 20c higher at the last on lighter arrivals and $17.65 as top, and with the advance in corn there was a stronger market for products, but gains were not large.

Deliveries after the close were 250 brls mess pork, 50,000 lbs lard, and 100,000 lbs short ribs. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

With cash corn values on the upgrade, especially the very choice, which is in limited supply, there were few traders who were long that were able to see more than a temporary reaction in sight for futures, especially when the latter are selling at heavy discounts under the cash grain of good quality. With No. 2 white at $2.15 and No. 5 yellow at $1.66@1.70 here and No. 3 white at $1.98 at Omaha, shorts in futures have taken fright. Some claim the movement of corn from the interior promises to decrease in the immediate future due to the wheat and oat harvest commencing in the sections that have been the leading shippers of late. There are many who look for July to go to a premium over the August, and the latter closed ¼c over September, against ½c discount Wednesday.

An interesting theoretical situation exists in corn. With corn and barley flours the main wheat substitutes, it is figured that an increase of around 100,000,000 bu of these two grains will be required annually should consumption of wheat flour be restricted. While the United States raises the bulk of the world's corn supply, only 20 per cent leaves the county where grown. If one-half of the 100,000,000 bu grain required for wheat substitutes is corn, it means that the demand will be sufficient to take care of a lot of grain that is normally used for other purposes. Economic conditions must be considered in connection with grains, rather than crop prospects, according to those who make a study of the markets.

Cash corn handlers are said to have been withholding the extent of the business that has been passing of late. Daily sales of late are understood to have been around 100,000 bu, but only part were reported. Two handlers sold over 100,000 bu between them one day last week. Millers are said to be taking the yellow corn and paid up to $1.87 for No. 2, finding it impossible to secure sufficient white. This accounts for the sudden improvement in the demand for the former kind, which has been so much in evidence in the last few days. Few care to hazard a belief as to how long the milling demand will continue, but those in close touch with conditions look for the call to remain fairly brisk for the rest of the month, and perhaps longer. Barley has not been affected by the prohibition talk on account of light receipts and the milling demand.

Sales of 425,000 bu cash oats were made to the seaboard late Wednesday and yesterday on the basis of 85c, track New York. The grain is said to have had old billing, and represents a good concession from prices prevailing in the sample market at present on the basis of new billing. Bids were scarce yesterday, and offers on the basis of 84½c, track Newport News, failed to result in sales. The Wheat Export company was said to be out of the market for grain at Atlantic ports.

Oat specialists who were bullish were disappointed at the market's action yesterday, corn gaining 3 to 4½c, against ¼ to ½c on oats. It was noticeable that one of the largest of the local shorts covered at the bulge, and traders said the new buying was not heavy enough to sustain values with liberal selling for profits. The new oats expected yesterday did not materialize, but several cars are due today. Kansas City had its first car of new No. 2 red rust proof oats yesterday.

Corn bears said there had been advance enough, as prices are up 28c from the recent low point. They have been looking for a break for some time, but the market has disappointed them. It was noticeable that cash houses were buying July and selling August yesterday. Two cars of mahogany corn sold at 75c, the only sale under $1.00. Sample grade ranged at $1.00 to $1.50.

Commission men have appointed a committee to present a new set of rates to the directors in the near future. It is proposed to make the non-member rate on grain futures $10, for members $5, and joint account trades $6.

Grain receivers met yesterday to consider commissions on new wheat. It was decided that to arrive business will pay the same as consignment, or 1 per cent.

New wheat is beginning to move faster. Kansas City had 386 cars yesterday, against 45 cars last year. St. Louis had 201 cars, compared with 25 cars last year. Omaha, 34 cars, against 4 cars a year ago. Total for three markets was 621 cars yesterday, against 74 cars last year. Primary receipts of all wheat were 918,000 bu, against 221,000 bu last year. Reports from the southwest say that farmers are not selling as fast as expected, due to expectations of getting higher prices by the new $2.40 bill passed by congress last Saturday. At Kansas City red is 2c and hard 10c over government bases. The trade awaits the action of President Wilson on the $2.40 wheat bill. Spring wheat harvest has started in a limited way in the extreme south of the spring wheat belt.

E. L. Brand of the agricultural department will hold a conference here today with the grain handlers. It is proposed to discuss the new grades of corn, which become effective Monday, July 15.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Sales of 700,000 bu cash oats were made in all positions Wednesday and yesterday at 85c, track New York, all rail shipments. Charters were for 150,000 bu oats to Georgian bay at 1⅜c, making room for 3,000,000 bu taken in the last two weeks. Domestic shipping sales yesterday were 40,000 bu corn and 100,000 bu oats.

Milling demand for cash corn was active and prices here were 5@10c higher, but closed slower on sample grades. At Kansas City J. E. Bennett reported white mainly 3@5c higher, yellow 5c higher, and mixed 5@8c higher, with everything wanted. St. Louis was 2@5c higher, Omaha unchanged to 5c higher, with 10,000 bu No. 3 white sold at $1.98; Peoria was 7c higher, and Milwaukee 5c higher.

Cash oats at Chicago were unchanged to ¼c higher, and Omaha ½@1c higher, other markets being unchanged.

Cash wheat at Kansas City averaged about 1c lower in the early sales, but at the last hard was generally unchanged, and red unchanged to ½c higher. St. Louis prices were unchanged, with a fair demand. At Omaha No. 2 hard sold at $2.25 and No. 4 hard at $2.23, while No. 2 mixed was $2.25. Combined receipts at St. Louis, Kansas City, and Omaha were 621 cars, against 74 cars last year.

SUGAR MARKETS.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Standard granulated cane and beet sugar, refiners' prices, per 100 lbs, $7.978 in brls and $7.956 in bags.

NEW YORK.—There was no change in raw sugar with prices quoted at 4.985 for Cubas cost and freight equal to 6.055 for centrifugal. Purchases by the committee have been over 200,000 tons for July shipment, although today no new commitments were reported.

PRODUCE TRADE

Butter markets were active and firm, with prices at Chicago ¼ to ½c higher, but in the eastern markets prices were unchanged, although offerings were not large. Eggs sold readily at ½c advance for fresh with offerings not heavy. Broilers declined 2c and live fowls advanced ½c.

Quality of the new potatoes offered was better. Receipts, 60 cars, and demand good, with a firm market and 217 cars on track.

Arrivals of peaches were 21 cars and 90 cars on track. Market weaker. Supplies of other fruits and of all vegetables were ample and met a fair sale.

HEAVY BUYING FORCES HOGS TO HIGHER LEVELS

Record Price of $18 Established for Light Steers.

Lively competition in the hog trade forced the average price 20c above Wednesday, standing $1.15 higher than June 22 and highest since May 24. Armour houses purchased freely from the start. Best sold at $17.70.

Light cattle met with an active demand at unevenly higher prices. Twenty 1,101 lb yearlings sold to a New York shipper at $18.00, establishing a new high record price for light steers.

Receipts for today are estimated at 7,000 cattle, 27,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, against 1,483 cattle, 14,213 hogs, and 14,120 sheep corresponding Friday a year ago.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $17.35, against $17.15 Wednesday, $16.65 Tuesday, July 2, low day last week; $15.25 a year ago, $9.93 two years ago, and $7.23 three years ago.

Hog purchases at Chicago yesterday were as follows:

COTTON TRADE NEWS

NEW YORK, July 11.—Conflicting weather and crop advices caused some irregularity in the cotton market today, but prices were finally dominated by reports of continued drought and high temperatures in Texas, with the general list closing steady at a net advance of 11@28 points.

Private reports of rain in Oklahoma seemed to inspire hope of a break in the Texas drought and there was considerable selling right after the call. Offerings were well absorbed and rallies followed the publication of the western belt forecast for generally clear weather in Texas. Returns to one of the southern authorities were said to indicate a condition of 85.5, compared with 85.8, the official end June figures, with Texas showing a falling off of 3 points. Later rumors made the conditions 85.9 and placed domestic mill consumption for June at 507,000 bales, against 577,000 last month and 574,000 last year.

Port receipts today, 4,120 bales. United States port stocks, 1,077,000 bales. Exports, 4,004 bales, making 3,911,237 so far this season. The market was closed from 11 until 11:45 a. m. in memory of the late ex-Mayor Mitchel. Futures:

COFFEE PRICES.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Washington press advices reporting receipt of cables from the United States consul at Sao Paulo to the effect that unusual freezing temperatures had ruined young coffee plantations and probably reduced the production of old plantations by 50 per cent, were followed by a sharp advance in the market for coffee futures here today. The market opened at an advance of 4@10 points, and closed 23@26 points net higher.

Closing bids: July, 8.38c; September, 8.59c; October, 8.66c; December, 8.80c; January, 8.86c; March, 9.00c; May, 9.15c.

Santos was 200 reis higher on spots and 50@100 reis higher on futures, which later showed a further advance of 350@400 reis. Rio cleared 36,000 bags for the United States. Brazilian port receipts, 24,000 bags; Jundiahy receipts, 16,000 bags.

FIRE RISK MEN TO SAVE BUSINESS OF THOSE AT WAR

Competitors Agree to Handle Work of Absent.

Fire insurance agents, brokers, and solicitors who fight the nation's battles will be protected in their business while serving their country, through the voluntray aid of their competitors. This was assured yesterday when the Chicago Board of Underwriters unanimously adopted a set of resolutions previously prepared and recommended by its executive committee, to "preserve intact the business of our members while absent on service."

This plan was suggested to the underwriters by John M. Warner Jr. of the firm of Law Bros. Mr. Warner, prior to the adoption of the plan by the underwriters, presented it also to the State Council of Defense, which, through Walter S. Brewster, chairman of the counties' auxiliary, enthusiastically approved it, not only for insurance men but for other branches of endeavor as well.

Aid Pledged.

After reciting that many insurance men are in the service and that should the business and clientele which they have laboriously built up be lost to them a great hardship would be worked to them and their dependents, the board passed resolutions which not only recommend that all efforts be made to preserve this business, but pledge its members to the observance of the following practices and recommendations:

"That such business should be renewed for the benefit of the absent member in members' offices designated to care for it, and that said offices should be assisted in every way toward a retention of such business; that members losing business for account of members absent in service notify the secretary of the board in order that members acquiring such business may be advised and may restore it to the office entrusted with its conservation."

Other Lines May Take Up Plan.

"I regard this plan with great satisfaction," said Mr. Brewster for the State Council of Defense last night. "It will ease the minds of many men absent in service of fear for the well being of their dependents. It is the most practical and serviceable coöperation for preserving the morale of the nation and the men in the service that has yet come to my attention.

"The State Council of Defense will shortly follow the recommendation of Mr. Warner, who devised the plan, urges that it be extended to other avenues of effort and recommends in a bulletin that all trades and professions follow the example of the fire insurance men and take similar action to conserve the interests of their members absent in the service during the period of their military duty."

The plan suggested itself to Mr. Warner following a case which came to his attention wherein an insurance policy had to be renewed and the agent who wrote the insurance was in the army. He arranged the renewal, although in another office than his own, so that the agent might retain credit for the business.

Two Huge English Banks Get O. K. to Amalgamate

LONDON, July 11.—The amalgamation of the London Provincial and Southwestern bank and Barclay's bank (Barclay & Co.) has been approved by the treasury department, the Daily Express says. The banks have a joint paid up capital of nearly £7,000,000 and their deposits and other accounts total £212,000,000.

The combine is the first since the report of the treasury's committee of inquiry into bank amalgamations was issued in May.

INSURANCE NEWS IN ALL BRANCHES EAST, AND WEST

Action Is Deferred on Plan for Correcting Credit Evil.

BY THOMAS R. WEDDELL.

At the quarterly meeting of the Chicago board of underwriters held yesterday the proposed plan for correcting the credit evil, recommended by the executive committee, was considered at length. Strong opposition developed to various features of the plan and action was finally deferred for one week.

An appropriation of $2,000 was voted to equip the insurance unit of the Illinois reserve militia. It was ordered that the "trading with the enemy" clause be attached to all policies.

The meeting then adjourned and reconvened as subscribers to the fire insurance patrols. The annual reports were received and it was voted to continue the eight patrols for the ensuing year, an appropriation of $179,370 being made for the purpose.

LOSS ON SPRINKLERED RISK.

The recent fire in the plant of Harris Bros. & Co., formerly the Chicago House Wrecking company, turns out to have been the largest loss of recent months in Chicago. It is of the greatest interest, because this is largely a sprinklered risk, about 55 per cent of the values being protected. The fire was in the unsprinklered lumber department, devoted to sash, door, and blinds, and an entire one-third section of a building 600 feet long was destroyed. The value of the stock burned was $125,000, and of the building $40,000, and the loss reported is 9 per cent on $1,650,000 of value.

THE LOSS RECORD.

Baype City, Mich., July 11.—The loss on the sawmill of the W. H. White Co., which was being operated by the Michigan Trust Co. as receivers, was total to the following general form insurance:

Citizens	$6,500	National	28,000
Continental	20,000	Palatine	8,500
Fire Assn.	17,500	Westchester	9,500

SHERMAN & ELLIS REPORT.

The long deferred report on the Associated Employers' Reciprocals, the combination of compensation inter-insurance concerns operated by Sherman & Ellis of Chicago, has at last been made public by the insurance department. It shows the concerns to be solvent, with a surplus of $227,793 of subscribers' credits. The examination began last December, four states coöperating, and the insurance men interested have been complaining of the delay in issuing the report.

INSURANCE NOTES.

H. B. Allen, branch manager for the Indiana inspection bureau at Terre Haute, has been appointed special agent for the Northern of New York, succeeding W. P. Ray, who goes to the home office. H. B. Prince, who was Mr. Ray's assistant, becomes special agent for Illinois, with headquarters at Decatur.

The Cleveland Life has purchased 76 per cent of the stock of the Intermediate Life of Evansville, Ind., and has reinsured its business. The Cleveland Life will enter Indiana and Illinois, taking over the Indiana plant of the Intermediate.

The New York insurance department has completed its examination of the Security Mutual Life of Binghamton. The report shows a decreasing surplus and criticizes the general expenses and the cost of new business.

Several of the companies writing automobile insurance are preparing to write farmers' cars on the term plan, the two companies which have specialized on that form having secured a large volume with a favorable experience.

The annual midsummer meeting of the Iowa Pond of the Blue Goose will be held Thursday and Friday at Lake Okoboji. Business meetings of the other Iowa associations were held at the same time.

Holger de Roode, the Chicago insurance agent, has received word that his nephew, Capt. Louis de Roode of the American corps, has been wounded in France and has been given the croix de guerre.

T. Sears Moss, formerly with the Kentucky actuarial bureau, has been appointed superintendent of ratings for the Wisconsin inspection bureau.

Marsh & McLennan have been appointed Pacific coast general agents for the fire department of the Federal of New Jersey.

Bert C. Ellis, a local agent at Valparaiso, Ind., has been appointed special agent for the Westchester in that state.

O. A. Bandelin, special agent for the Hanover in Indiana and Wisconsin, has resigned to enter the service.

CAPITOL TRACTION.

The Capitol Traction company has declared an extra dividend of one-half of 1 per cent, payable Aug. 1. Books close July 24. The company has been distributing quarterly dividends of 1¼ per cent each, the last payment having been made on July 1. Last December an extra dividend of 1¼ per cent was paid.

PITTSBURGH RAILWAYS.

Payment of its July bond interests and other fixed charges or the restoration of its properties is asked by the Consolidated Traction company of the Pittsburgh Railways company, in a petition filed in the United States District court. A hearing is fixed for July 20.

SANITARY 4 1-2S MAY BE OFFERED PUBLIC AT PAR

$2,000,000 Bonds Sold by District on 4.71 Basis.

BY GLENN GRISWOLD.

The sanitary district has sold $2,000,000 4½ per cent bonds on a 4.71 yield basis and bankers believe that they will be offered to the public to yield not more than 4.60. There is considerable discussion of the possibility of their being sold at par to yield 4½. This would make the market price considerably higher than government bonds.

The market is bare of good municipals and prices are being slowly advanced. The old issues of sanitary district bonds are nearing a 4.60 basis. The present issue matures serially, $500,000 a year, 1923 to 1926, inclusive. The money is to be used to reimburse the district temporarily in lieu of the money which the city owes for electric light services. The consent of the capital issues committee to the issuance of the bonds has not been obtained and the bonds are sold conditionally, but a permit is expected at any time.

Successful Bidders.

The successful bidders were the Harris Trust and Savings bank, the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings, and the First Trust and Savings, who bid $1,975,340 for the lot, or 98.805 per unit. The remaining bids, made by eleven banks and investment houses in four groups, ranged from 97.67 to 98.767, with a difference of but $1 per thousand dollar bond between the three bids at the top of the list.

King, Hoagland & Co. have purchased $2,000,000 farm loan bonds issued by the First Joint Stock Land bank of Chicago. The bonds will be offered on a yield basis of about 4⅝ per cent. The search by investors for tax exempt securities has caused active bidding for these as well as for the farm loan bonds issued by Federal Farm Loan banks.

Getting Ready for Next Liberty.

The executive committee in charge of Liberty loan sales in the Seventh federal district, of which E. K. Boisot is chairman, is perfecting its organization for the next war loan campaign. H. L. Stuart has resigned as director of sales and Charles H. Schweppe, resident partner of Lee, Higginson & Co., is appointed to the place. Mr. Schweppe will have full executive charge of all of the work of selling bonds in the district and will devote his entire time to the position during the campaign.

Application was made to the local capital issues committee yesterday by Cudahy & Co. for permission to issue $10,000,000 notes to provide new working capital.

Liberty issues were steady, while firming prices were quoted for foreign bonds.

ISSUE RAISED BY NON-MEMBERS OF RESERVE BANK

Declare They Should Get Same Discounts as Members.

Local state banks not members of the federal reserve bank system think the federal reserve bank of Chicago should permit them to borrow on subscriptions to treasury certificates and secure the same discount to which member banks of the reserve bank system are entitled.

The government has asked the banks of the country to subscribe for $6,000,000,000 of treasury certificates between now and about Oct. 25. The state banks not members of the reserve system are under present regulations barred from discounts. The banks which have not entered the reserve system think that on the treasury certificates they should be accorded the accommodation of the reserve bank.

Before borrowing on the treasury certificates the banks must give their own promissory note. This is secured by the certificates. Since the interest rate on the certificates is the same as the reserve banks' established lending rate of 4¼ per cent, it is thought the reserve institution should be empowered to grant the nonmember banks the privileges accorded to member institutions.

Buys in Open Market.

The reserve bank purchases in the open market bank acceptaances from trustworthy sources. It is argued that it should be authorized to discount the treasury certificates offered by any state bank. Otherwise it may be necessary to call for the payment of individual customers' loan.

It is possible for nonmember banks to borrow from member institutions, a roundabout way of doing what it is thought might be properly directly done.

Reports of bank correspondence in different parts of the country tributary to Chicago indicate a rather close money position. There is disposition to subscribe for the apportioned amount of treasury certificates. Such subscriptions, however, are utilizing a great deal of available credit of the banks.

U. S. Favors 40% Wage Increase.

Announcements from Washington yesterday were to the effect that the war industries board favored a general increase of 40 per cent in the wages of employés of utilities companies. Chicago traction companies say they employ about 35,000,000 hours of labor in the course of a year. The average price now paid is 29 cents an hour. To increase this to 40 cents would mean an advance of 11 cents an hour, or approximately an outlay of $3,850,000, an amount in excess of the total net earnings of the companies.

In this situation the companies await recommendations from the government that will increase the volume of gross earnings.

FINANCIAL NOTES

C. B. SEGAR, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific Railroad company, was yesterday elected president of the system to succeed E. E. Calvin, who has been appointed federal manager of the Union Pacific, St. Joseph and Grand Island, Oregon Short Line, and Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroads. J. D. Farrell, former president of the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation company, was elected vice president of the same companies. He also was elected a director of the Oregon Short Line, succeeding E. E. Calvin.

Consul Robert L. Keiser of Sao Paulo, Brazil, cables that unusual freezing temperatures in Sao Paulo have ruined young coffee plantations and reduced the production of old plantations to an estimated 50 per cent until the year 1921. Majority of plantations of sugar cane, castor beans, and fruits are destroyed.

The Sinclair Oil company has brought in several new wells in the Covington district of western Oklahoma. The oil is of a high grade, selling at about $3.50 a barrel.

The jurisdiction of the western passenger traffic committee, of which P. S. Eustis is chairman, which is at present charged with the duty of supervising the conduct of consolidated ticket offices established in this territory, has been extended over all union depot ticket offices by the railroads in the central western region.

The establishment of a chain of cotton warehouses, financed partly by the government in lieu of a proposition by the Texas Bankers' association for the creation of a corporation to buy for government account, was advocated by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers in a statement issued at Boston.

Bankers have sent circulars to the holders of the first preferred stock of the Acme Tea company, asking the shareholders to exchange Acme Tea first preferred for American Stores company first preferred, share for share. The right of exchange will be open from July 1, 1918, to July 31, 1918.

WILSON VETOES CONGRESS ORDER ON SHORT LINES

Will Not Assume Burden of Controlling All Little Feeders.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—President Wilson today vetoed the resolution adopted by congress last week extending the time in which the railroad administration might relinquish control of lines not wanted in the federal system.

The veto message was as follows:

"I regret to be obliged to return without my signature senate joint resolution 159.

"I do so because I very respectfully but very earnestly dissent from the policy which it embodies. Under its terms the government would be obliged to assume the control and administration of all short line railroads without discrimination. I respectfully submit that this is not in the public interest.

Many Local Lines.

"There are terminal short lines at many centers of freight shipment and some 1,700 short lines which were built and are controlled by manufacturing, mining, lumbering, and other companies and which are operated merely for the convenience of those companies which would be included under the language of this resolution, very few of which, it seems to me, if any, ought to be taken over and administered by the government.

"The remaining short roads are feeders to the main trunk lines and more than mere feeders most of them, for they have in most instances played a very important part in building up the industries of the communities through which they run and have become essential to the prosperity of hundreds of towns and neighborhoods all over the union.

Fair Play for the Feeders.

"I quite agree that practically all of these should be retained, but that they should be accorded a fair division of joint rates—a fairer division than some of them have been accorded hitherto—and an equitable allotment of cars and motive power and for routing arrangements. Some of them constitute connecting links between two or more trunk line systems. Those who play this part in the system of railways ought to be accorded as full a share in through shipments as consistent with the general interests of the shipper and the public.

Variety of Conditions.

"This is the policy which the railroad administration will pursue toward these roads. They will not be put at an unfair or ruinous disadvantage. The government owes a recognized obligation to the communities which they serve, but it is not, in my judgment, wise to oblige the government to deal in the same way with all of them regardless of a very great variety of circumstances which affect their facilities and their administration.

"I beg that the congress will leave the government free to enter into arrangements with them which will in each case be to the interest alike of the road dealt with and of the local public."

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, July 11.—With a limited amount of business on the stock exchange today, the tone remained cheerful. The foreign section showed a better tendency under the lead of the French war loan and Russian issues, while fair purchases of British war loans and colonial bonds were recorded. The miscellaneous was the most active section, and provisions, iron and steel, shipping and oil shares were prominent at hardening values.

Money was in good supply and discount rates were easy. Bar silver, 48 13-16d per ounce. Money, 2¾ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 3 17-32 per cent; three month bills, 3 17-32 per cent.

BANK OF ENGLAND STATEMENT.

Total reserve increased £445,000; circulation increased £189,000; bullion increased £634,453; other securities decreased £3,015,000; public deposits increased £164,000; other deposits decreased £11,648,000; notes reserve increased £448,000; government securities decreased £8,859,000. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 16.40 per cent; last week it was 15.18 per cent. Rate of discount 5 per cent.

PARIS.—Trading was quiet on the bourse today. Rentes, 61 francs 80 centimes. Exchange on London, 27 francs 15½ centimes. Five per cent loan, 88 francs 45 centimes.

BANK OF FRANCE STATEMENT.

Gold in hand increased 840,000 francs; silver in hand increased 3,009,000 francs; notes in circulation increased 138,203,000 francs; treasury deposits decreased 15,254,000 francs; general deposits increased 131,188,000 francs; bills discounted decreased 133,549,000 francs; advances increased 14,029,000 francs.

CONTINENTAL CAN.

Continental Can during the first six months of 1918 sold nearly 100,000,000 more cans than it did the corresponding period of 1917, according to Wall street reports.

TALK OF THE STREET

LARGE commission houses were of the opinion at the close of the market that conditions on the western war front had been discounted. It is expected, in a market way, that there will be an important German offensive. The belief has operated to stay public buying. Market operators found it rather easy to depress prices and, while there was a rally at the close, the general tendency of the day was downward.

One of the large New York houses said at the close: "There appears to be very little interest in the market at prevailing prices outside professional speculative operations on the floor. The volume of stocks offered for sale was small. There is evidently a large buying power which will begin to show on any further recession. There appears to be a disposition to await developments on the western front, where the most important influence is likely to arise. The tonnage report of the United States Steel corporation, showing an increase of 531,000 tons, was very much better than was expected, but even this brought few buyers."

American Can shares were reported being well bought. The buying was credited to inside sources. Veteran operators were reported predicting a strong upward trend.

Market gossip concerning the next quarterly dividend on United States Steel common suggests uncertainty. The board is scheduled to meet on July 30. While the talk is vague, the suggestion is that a reduction in the rate may be expected.

C. B. Segar, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific Railroad company, was elected to succeed E. E. Calvin, who had been appointed federal manager of the Union Pacific. The announcement of this change was without influence on the market for the company's stock.

Call money ruled fir... at 6 per cent on mixed collateral and at 6½ per cent on all industrial loans. This price is about ½ per cent above the rate which the money committee of the New York banks has endeavored to establish.

A leading authority in the rubber trade is quoted as saying that almost every important industry is now dependent upon rubber through reliance upon cheap motor transport service and delivery in various forms and that this means an enlarged demand for the products of the United States Rubber and other rubber companies.

The strength of Distillers Security stock attracted considerable attention. There was reported to be an important element believing bone dry legislation will not be enacted in the near future.

FRENCH DEPUTIES ARGUE OVER NOTE RENEWAL ISSUE

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable. [Copyright: 1918.]

PARIS, July 11.—A proposal for the renewal of the privilege granted to the Bank of France to have the sole right to issue banknotes in this country is at present perhaps the most burning question before the chamber of deputies. The Bank of France, like the Bank of England, is almost entirely independent, state controlled, and operated as the most important existing link between the state and national finances.

Its position is such that, in the most unlikely event of the state repudiating its liabilities the security offered on notes issued by the bank, which forms the vast bulk of the circulating medium of this country, would be unaffected. The proposal to renew the bank's right to issue banknotes has developed into a long pitched battle in the chamber between the collectivists or Socialists on the one hand and the individualists, who form at least three-quarters of the house, on the other.

The Socialists assert that in the best interests of France the bank ought to be nationalized on the ground that its profits are excessive and because in their view the financial credit of the country is better assured if the bank is transformed into a concern directly.

The argument of the majority opposed to this view is that the bank being independent of political influence, constitutes the best possible repository of the real need of France.

BEARS KEEP UP HARD DRIVE ON MARKET VALUES

Steel, Tobacco, and Shipping Stocks Lead Slump.

[New York Times Financial Review.]

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—Stocks declined with an abruptness in early dealings today which aroused efforts in financial circles to find explanation, especially because of the fact that there was nothing in either domestic or international news developments to stimulate selling.

The prominent industrial issues, notably the steel, tobacco, and shipping stocks, moved off from one to three points before the market adjourned for an hour out of respect for the late Mayor Mitchel and later displayed little resiliency. The movement was more general than that of the preceding day, inasmuch as the railroad shares were under considerable pressure.

Material for Mental Exercise.

The market throughout the session was of a character which supplies speculators with much material for mental exercise. As far as the investment situation was concerned, it could hardly be said that the lack of stability among stocks had any real influence. The satisfaction felt among holders of Liberty bonds and several of the foreign issues over the latest war incidents was well displayed either in a firm tone of prices or in strength.

An explanation for the weak tone of stocks which found favor lay in the supposition that expanded sales for the short account had played an important part in the day's business. The heavy selling of steel suggested this influence particularly, while on the cotton market a marked increase of offerings in the morning was commented upon broadly as evidence of a bearish demonstration.

Results Not Satisfactory.

If speculation on the short side actually was the dominant factor in the pressure against cotton prices, the result attained was not altogether satisfactory to the participants, however, as quotations rebounded rapidly after the most urgent selling was completed. As far as statistics go, cotton offers a mark for operators on the destructive side of quoted values. The experience of traders in the staple of late has tended to upset the calculations which were considered safe in normal times of the past.

Money rates held strongly at 6 per cent for demand funds, with time money still in rather scant suppy. Exchange rates were little changed and without feature.

3 Members of John Muir Suspended for One Year

New York, July 11.—Announcement of the suspension for one year of John Muir, Edwin H. Muir, and Charles A. Burbank of John Muir & Co., the largest dealers in the country in "odd lots" of stock and users of the "partial payment plan," was made today by the New York stock exchange.

It is understood the suspension was due to the belief of stock exchange authorities that Mr. Burbank was not a genuine partner, but only a subordinate.

In a statement to their customers John Muir & Co. said the senior member, John Muir, more than a year ago was made chairman of the Liberty loan bond committee, and that Edwin H. Muir had entered the army. This made it necessary, it was said, to have another member on the floor of the exchange, and John Muir advanced $60,000 to Mr. Burbank to purchase a seat. This done, Mr. Burbank, the statement says, was announced as a general partner with full authority to act as such. According to stock exchange precedent a member must have bought his seat with his own money.

The firm explained that "instead of receiving a percentage of the profits he (Burbank) received a minimum guarantee and outside commissions," a course disapproved of by the exchange.

"No criticism has been made of our relations with our customers," the statement concluded, "and we have made the necessary arrangements to have their orders efficiently handled."

STANDARD OIL OF CALIFORNIA.

The Standard Oil company of California has declared an extra dividend of $2.50 a share in 4¼ per cent Liberty bonds, with the Sept. 15 coupons attached, together with the regular quarterly dividend of $2.50 a share in cash.

Real Estate Transfers

Real estate transfers filed for record yesterday totaled 195 in number, involving $160,996, comprising 138 in the city and 57 in the outlying townships, including 17 under the Torrens system. Transfers were as follows:

Lake View	6	North Town	2
Hyde Park	13	Calumet	7
Cicero	12	Bloom	2
South Town	12	Evanston	1
Lake	27	Leyden	1
Stickney	1	Northfield	2
Jefferson	32	Thornton	3
New Trier	7	Rogers Park	2
West Town	41	Bremen	2
Lyons	4	Niles	2
Maine	1	Riverside	3
Proviso	10	Worth	1
Norwood Park	1

A transaction of unusual interest because of the fact it is the first transaction in the proposed widened part of North Michigan avenue, north of Randolph street, to follow the commencement of work on the boulevard link project, was closed yesterday. It was the purchase by Mrs. Clara F. Bass of Peterborough, N. H., from Mrs. Ellen I. Hale and Grace M. Vance of the property at the southeast corner of the avenue and Lake street, lot 72x69½ feet, improved with a seven story building now vacant, for $251,280.

This gives Mrs. Bass a total frontage of 132 feet at this point, as she has for several years owned the sixty feet adjoining on the south. The deal was negotiated by Robert White & Co., acting for the sellers, and Harry C. Edmonds, representing Mrs. Bass.

On $450,000 Basis.

The city has taken for the widening of the street 61½ feet from the front of the properties on the east side of the street, so that the price paid by Mrs. Bass is on the basis of $450,000 for the entire original holding, as the sellers have received from the city $198,750 for the part taken in widening. For the remaining part, which she has just purchased, Mrs. Bass paid at the rate of $3,433 a front foot and $50.20 a square foot.

The building on the property was for twenty years occupied by E. L. Mansure & Co., who several months ago bought the property formerly occupied by the Cloverdale Creamery company at the southeast corner of Indiana avenue and Sixteenth street at a valuation of $350,000. The part of the building remaining after the widening will be remodeled at a cost of about $100,000 by Architects Mundie & Jensen.

Buys Sixty Feet in 1915.

Mrs. Bass acquired the sixty feet adjoining the corner, just purchased by her, from William B. Hale in March, 1915, for $240,000, subject at that time to a mortgage of $100,000, through the same brokers. This price was at the rate of $4,000 a front foot and about $30 a square foot for the entire 60x130 feet. This parcel is also now only 69½ feet deep, and for the 61½ feet taken by the city Mrs. Bass received $137,691. This property formerly was owned by the E. J. Warner estate, from which Mr. Hale purchased the fee after obtaining a ninety-nine years' lease of the property in 1912 through White & Tabor.

The purchase of Mrs. Bass is regarded by some brokers as indicating not only the trend of ownership but also what owners think of that district, and it is thought that other owners between Randolph street and the river are likely to consolidate their present holdings with adjoining parcels through purchase from those willing to sell.

Rogers Park Transactions.

Two noteworthy transacions in Rogers Park property were made matters of record in one of which Thomas C. Coorlas acquired from Christ M. Damascus the property at the southeast corner of Sheridan road and Chase avenue for an indicated consideration of $40,000, subject to an incumbrance of $26,000. The property, to which Damascus took title a few months ago, is 190x170 feet, lot dimensions, and is improved with a twelve room stone dwelling now occupied by Albert Pick under a two years' lease with monthly rental of $200.

The other transaction covers the high grade six apartment building in Morse avenue, 150 feet east of Glenwood avenue, lot 50x172 feet, south front, which was conveyed by Abner H. Stone to Eva Kleinman for an indicated consideration of $47,000, subject to an incumbrance of $37,000.

Beneficial Loan Society.

H. A.—The Beneficial Loan society operates a number of "loan banks" which lend money to wage workers at high rates. Its capital is obtained by selling 6 per cent debentures with which it issues profit sharing certificates as a bonus. The balance sheet of Dec. 31 last indicates that the stated capital stock of $350,000 represents merely organization expenses, copyrights, good will, etc. The company began operations in 1914 and in that year paid the 6 per cent interest on its debentures and 1 per cent profit sharing bonus. In 1915 the bonus was 2 per cent, in 1916 5 per cent, and the same in 1917. As the debentures supply all the real money they should be rated as a participation in a business venture rather than a conservative investment.

Illinois Co-operative Packing.

C. S., Bishop Hill, Ill.—The Illinois Coöperative Packing company has been formed by farmers and stock raisers of La Salle and adjoining counties. It is building at Ottawa a plant large enough to handle the live stock raised in that region and it expects to sell its products to consumers in the same district. Indications are that the organization work is being conducted on conservative lines and at a minimum of expense. Whether the enterprise will prove profitable cannot be predicted. The margin of profit in the packing business is very small.

American Cities Company.

H. C.—The American Cities company's income from subsidiaries was less in 1917 than in 1916 and its interest charges were a little higher. The surplus after charges was only $302,795, compared with $638,196 in 1916. This equals only 1½ per cent on the preferred stock. The company operates street railways in six cities of the south and its gross earnings have grown slowly while expenses have increased rapidly. There is no prospect of an early resumption of dividends. There are now 15 per cent of accrued dividends unpaid on the preferred.

Intercontinental Rubber.

C. A. W.—The Intercontinental Rubber company controls a great tract of land in Mexico and has holdings in Arizona, the Congo, and Sumatra. Its earnings almost stopped for several years because of disturbed conditions in Mexico, but in the year ended July 31, 1917, they improved, figuring out at 3 2-3 per cent on the $29,031,000 of stock. The preferred stock was retired some years ago and there are no debts except current accounts. The common stock is quoted nominally at about $10 a share of $100 par.

Brief Answers.

G. H.—The Colorado and Southern is not earning quite so much this year as last, but it is covering the dividends on preferred stock about four times. Action on April 1 dividend was postponed pending the signing of the contract between the road and the government.

C. F., Aledo, Ill.—The Oklahoma Oil and Refining company refuses information about its finances. It is said to be paying quarterly dividends of 5 per cent. As there is no open market for the shares and no available information about production or earnings the stock must be ranked as highly speculative.

I. O., Aurora, Ill.—The Burlington joint 4s due in 1921 are an attractive investment. They are the joint obligation of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific companies and are further secured by deposit of the stock of the Burlington railway. They are entitled to a good rating.

To Farm Owners, Prospective Investors, Etc.

Agricultural enterprises conducted efficiently, offer possibilities unprecedented in history. However, if your farm or live stock industry is in confused, unprogressive, or chaotic condition with seeming inability to trace or rectify causes, then, a competent investigator and advisor would be the remedy. If proposal is made to buy, or sell established farm, or to invest in new agri. project, property conditions should undergo examination by some disinterested specialist as a safeguard prior to investment. To past patrons, services of either requisite have proved of immeasurable value [at only moderate charge] pro or con. Your patronage, thus, respectfully solicited. J. A. THEROUX, Agri. Specialist, Oakland 4494. P. O. Box 328, Chicago.

Thrift Stamp Melting Pot

Market prices paid for old gold, platinum and silver, at the Melting Pot Booth, First Floor, Wabash Avenue, Aisle 9. The government needs these metals; we will buy them from you. Many people are using the money so derived to purchase Thrift Stamps—thus making their old jewelry serve two patriotic purposes.

Two Furnaces Are in Operation

Of Mahogany and Cane—

100 Chairs and Rockers
Special, $12.50 to $30 Each

THE home maker who appreciates our standard of quality in Furniture will find particular interest in this decidedly special selling. There is scarcely any home which will not be beautified by the addition of such a Chair, and the prices are so decidedly below regular ones, that economy dictates taking advantage of such an offer.

Normally these Chairs and Rockers would command a much higher price, but the purchase of a manufacturer's surplus stock enables us to give you the benefit of the reductions. An investigation will be well worth one's time.
